"We had a very senior-laden team this year and their leadership showed as the team steadily improved all season. We will lose all of those great seniors, many of whom have run for four years, and that will really hurt us next year. We have the potential to be just as strong if not more competitive next year. We certainly need those who contributed so much this year to work hard up all year to be ready to go right away in August. Missing sectionals by just three points will hopefully keep everyone on the team hungry. -Coach John Mohr

What was the Case? SHAPIRO V. BLACKSTONE INSURANCE GROUP

The case was set in a small town in rural Missouri. Big Tony's BBQ Restaurant, owned by Tony Shapiro, burned and was completely destroyed. Tony Shapiro claims that an intruder charged into the restaurant after hours and demanded money from the register. In the ensuing struggle, Tony claims that the restaurant burned down. Tony filed a claim with his insurance company, Blackstone Insurance Group, or B.I.G. B.I.G. denied the claim, stating essentially that it believes the fire was set by Tony. They claim that when a local automobile plant closed the restaurant lost a significant amount of business, and Tony burned the restaurant down to claim the insurance proceeds and defraud B.I.G.
