

Residential Life Newsletter January 2021

January flew by and the fun of February is upon us. After the return from our Winter Break, students were anxious to get to see each other while being busy studying for semester exams. In the meantime, we were able to enjoy the snow a bit more than we were in December with a couple of ski trips to Hermon Mountain and Sugarloaf USA which is a premier mountain in the northeast U.S. Our local ski hill, The Pinnacle also opened for skating, sledding, and of course skiing. Our formal sit down dinner celebrated Dr. Martin Luther King.

As we look forward to February, we intend to have more outdoor fun including ice fishing once the conditions allow for it. Winter sports are beyond the mid season mark and we have many boarding students involved on those teams. Our arts department is very active as evident in our Visual and Performing Arts school meeting.

As the second semester begins, students are either continuing on in their year long classes or starting exciting new semester classes. We have welcomed 8 new students to campus for the second semester and we are excited to get to know them as they immerse themselves into the MCI community.

Our Lunar New Year sit down dinner will be on February 12. and our Winter Carnival is scheduled and planned for February 12 - 14. That is an annual event that students, staff, alumni, and the entire community look forward to because of the fun memories that are made as classes compete in the snow and ice for bragging rights of being crowned Winter Carnival Champions! We will share those highlights on our website and social media platforms so stay tuned.

Stay warm and be well,

Tom Bertrand
