Multi-Tiered Systems of Student Support (MTSS)

Formerly called Response to Intervention or Response to Instruction (RtI)

What is MTSS?

MTSS is referenced in the No Child Left Behind (NCLB) Act as well as in the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act (IDEIA) reauthorization of 2004. MTSS is a General Education initiative that promotes school improvement by systematically evaluating the needs of ALL students and for fostering positive outcomes through carefully selected and implemented interventions. Through this process, at-risk students are identified and strategies implemented to ensure student success in the general education environment.

Each district is responsible for implementing MTSS as a practice of providing high-quality instruction and intervention to ALL students, matched to student need. Progress is monitored frequently to make decisions about change in instruction or goals. This child response data is used to help make important educational decisions (NASDSE, 2005).

This is an exciting time in education! While MTSS is first and foremost a general education examination of student progress, because ALL students are included in that process, MTSS represents a true milestone in the methodology of identifying students with special needs. Prior to being referred for possible ESE eligibility, data from the General Education MTSS process must show that the interventions attempted in the general education setting have not been successful, or require more resources to sustain than can be supported in the general education setting.

What You Should Know about Transition from Part C to Part B Services

Children who are receiving services from a Part C provider must transition to public school with an IEP such that those eligible to continue to receive services may begin in public school on their third birthday. How does this work?

- Early Steps, the service provider for children from birth to two years of age, holds a Transition Conference with the parent and a School District (the Local Education Agency—LEA) representative to explore options, explain the process and plan for transition. This conference is held when the child is between two years three months and two years nine months of age.
- An Early Steps Referral to a School District includes the Individualized Family Support Plan (IFSP), recent evaluations/assessments and other related information.
- Early Steps will notify families of various activities to prepare the child and family for transition to school.
- Early Steps provides documentation to the School District which will include Vision and Hearing Screening, Student Health Form, Immunization Record, certified Birth Certificate and Social Security card.
- A complete speech-language and psychological evaluation is required. Other evaluations will be completed as necessary and will be done by Early Steps or the School District.
- The Early Steps Coordinator is invited by the School District to attend an Eligibility Staffing and Individualized Education Plan (IEP) meeting; the IEP must be written to be implemented on the child’s third birthday.

Guidelines for Postsecondary College/University Transition

Governing Legislation

When students transition from high school to college/university there is a change in the law which governs services to students with disabilities. Grades K-12 receive services under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act (IDEIA). Postsecondary students receive services under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (504). Once graduated from high school, students are no longer entitled to provisions under IDEIA.

IDEIA vs. ADA and Section 504

Under IDEIA:

- Schools are responsible for finding and identifying students
- Staff members must identify services and accommodations needed for students to be successful.

The school system is responsible for conducting assessments to determine eligibility, continued eligibility, and needs in the educational setting.

- The IEP/Transition IEP (Individual Education Plan) specifies and drives services needed.
- Accommodations that students need to be successful are provided.
- Teacher(s) are required to ensure that services and accommodations are provided.

Under ADA and 504:

- The student is required to self-declare his/her disability, college does not find/identify students (or ask if there is a disability present prior to admission).
- The burden of proof for need of services lies with the student.
- At the postsecondary level, ADA and 504 do not include the proactive protections of IDEIA.
- The student is required to provide a current assessment of disability which meets the school's guidelines.
- Accommodations are based on current testing requirements. (Transition IEPs/504 plans do not usually qualify the student for services).
- Reasonable accommodations are provided to offer equal access (not to guarantee success) and protect from discrimination.
- The student is required to initiate a request for services and is encouraged to take responsibility for working with professors/instructors.

Documentation Requirements for Accessing Postsecondary Disabilities Services

Documentation must be presented in four areas:

1. Qualifications of evaluator (check with Post-secondary school to confirm requirements)
2. Recency of documentation (check with postsecondary school to confirm requirements—usually within 3 years, except for medical, which varies).
3. Appropriate clinical documentation to substantiate the disability (usually testing done in high school for re-evaluations does not meet this requirement).
4. Evidence to establish a rationale supporting the need for accommodations (listing an accommodation on the Transition IEP does not qualify students).

Documentation Guidelines:

- Specific Learning Disability (SLD) guidelines are specified by the Association for Higher Education and Disability (AHEAD).
- Attention Deficit Disorder/Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADD/ADHD) guidelines are based on professional standards needed to validate this disability.
- Psychiatric disability guidelines (bipolar disorder, panic disorder, behavioral dysfunction, etc.) are based on professional standards needed to validate this disability.
- Medical guidelines (visual impairment, speech/language disabilities, hearing impairment, physical disabilities) are based on medical documentation needed to validate a medical condition.
- Postsecondary institutions may vary regarding specific documentation guidelines.
- Students must check with individual institutions to ensure proper documentation.

Provisional Coverage:

- Some colleges/universities will provide provisional coverage during the first semester to allow students to obtain the required assessments/documentation.
- Some colleges/universities do not provide provisional coverage.
- Students and parents need to check with the college/university for processes or policies specific to that institution.

Have You Considered ThinkCollege.net?

This website is dedicated to students with intellectual disabilities who may want to attend college. Currently, 199 programs exist across the United States offering transition programs for individuals with intellectual disabilities on a college campus. Below is a paragraph from the website outlining the reasons for the existence of these programs:

“As for others, the benefits of attending college for individuals with intellectual disabilities can be measured in their growth in a number of areas, including academic and person skill building, independence, self-advocacy, and self-confidence and new friendships. For individuals with disabilities, this growth is also reflected in increased self-esteem, when they begin to see themselves as enjoying what their same age peers without disabilities are experiencing. Being part of campus life, taking classes (whether auditing or for credit), joining student organizations, and learning to navigate a world of high expectations leads to the development of skills and confidence needed for successful adulthood.”

LOCAL PROGRAMS of INTEREST

PALS: Program for Adult Learning and Support

This is a project of ARC Gateway, and is housed on the campus of Pensacola State College. The purpose of the project is to provide learning on a college campus that focuses on career certification, increased independence, and preparation to enter the workforce.

PALS is designed for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities who want to learn new skills and get a job. Most applicants would have received special education services in the K-12 setting through an Individual Education Plan (IEP) or 504 Plan and exited their secondary school with a diploma, GED or certificate of completion.

PALS offers a variety of career certification options such as:

- Administrative Services
- Auto Detailing
- Carpentry Helper
- Cleaning & Maintenance
- Food Service
- Horticulture Studies
- Lawn Care & Maintenance
- Retail Services

While most students will earn their certification in one year, the program does offer one semester certification tracks. Based on each student’s abilities, PALS staff are able to work the individual, PSC, and other agencies to develop and coordinate a plan for additional college courses that lead to other vocational certification and academic degrees.

The application process, and more information, can be found at <http://www.arc-gateway.org/pals/>

Project REAL: Relevant Experiences in Adult Life

Project REAL is a partnership between the Escambia County School District, Pensacola State College, Florida Inclusion Network (FIN), Florida Diagnostic and Learning Resources Services (FDLRS), Vocational Rehabilitation (VR), and Project 10. It is an individualized student-centered program of study that provides educational, vocational, and relevant adult life activities for students with intellectual disabilities 22 years of age or older. It is one of the first programs developed in Northwest Florida.

Project REAL creates independent lifelong learners who are connected to their community through employment, citizenship, wellness, and inclusion in all areas of adult life. This program offers students with intellectual disabilities the opportunity to participate in postsecondary education.

The REAL curriculum is individualized, person-centered, and is based on the student's individual needs, strengths, and interests.

The REAL areas of instruction are self-determination, functional academics, financial planning, and money management. Students obtain work experience by participating in internships on campus. They may audit classes, participate in recreational, wellness, and social activities. They access transportation, improve social and communication skills, share life experiences, and develop friendships. They learn how to access community resources, attend and actively participate in their Adult Individual Educational Plan (AIEP), develop and use self-advocacy skills, and engage the support of provider of adult services that will meet individual student needs prior to exiting the program. Project REAL believes every individual has the opportunity to learn.

Scholarship and Tuition Information for Florida Students

Gardiner Scholarship

<https://www.stepupforstudents.org/for-parents/special-needs/how-the-scholarship-works/>

The Gardiner Scholarship program helps parents individualize the educational plans for their children with certain special needs. The name honors Florida Senate President Andy Gardiner, who led the legislative effort to create the program, and his family. Gardiner and his wife Camille have championed the cause of children with unique abilities for many years. The Gardiners have two daughters and a son, Andrew, who has Down syndrome.

A different kind of scholarship: The Gardiner Scholarship is different than other state scholarships in that it allows parents to personalize the education of their children with unique abilities by directing money toward a combination of programs and approved providers. These include schools, therapists, specialists, curriculum, technology – even a college savings account.

The Gardiner Scholarship amount varies according to grade and county of residence. The Gardiner Scholarship award amounts for the 2020-21 school year are still being determined. However, the average amount for most students in the 2019-2020 school year is 10,400. Click here to view the 2020-21 Gardiner Scholarship Amounts \(PDF\).

- Renewal students
  - The funding calculation remains the same, and defaults to a matrix that assigns the student to 90% of the 253 level, unless the student's parent has asked the school district for a revised matrix.
- New students
  - If the student does not have a matrix level of services, funding defaults to 90% of the 253 level.
  - If the student has a matrix level of services on file with the Florida Department of Education, due to public school enrollment, of 254 or 255, they will be funded at 90% of that matrix level, and they will not need to utilize the matrix review process established in the Gardiner law in order to receive the additional funding.
  - Most students with an IEP will not have a matrix level of services.
  - If you have an IEP, you are not required to request a matrix level. Please note that doing so could adjust your matrix level and corresponding amount of scholarship funding down to a lower level.

This scholarship is for Florida students 3 years old through 12th grade or age 22, whichever comes first, with one of the following disabilities: Autism spectrum disorder, Muscular dystrophy, Cerebral palsy, Down syndrome, Phelan McDermid syndrome, Prader-Willi syndrome, Spina bifida, Williams syndrome, Intellectual disability (severe cognitive impairment), rare diseases as defined by the National Organization for Rare Disorders, anaphylaxis, deaf, visually impaired, dual sensory impaired, traumatic brain injured, hospital or homebound as defined by the rules of the State Board of Education and evidenced by reports from local school districts, or three, four or five year-olds who are deemed high-risk due to developmental delays.

The term "hospital or homebound" includes a student who has a medically diagnosed physical or psychiatric condition or illness, as defined by the state board in rule, and who is confined to the home or hospital for more than 6 months.

- Validation of the student's diagnosis is required and must come from a Florida physician or psychologist or a physician who holds an active license issued by another state or territory of the United States, the District of Columbia or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico OR by an IEP written in accordance with the rules of the State Board of Education or with the rules of another state. A current IEP is required to demonstrate a dual sensory impaired or a hospital or homebound diagnosis.

McKay Scholarship

<http://www.fldoe.org/schools/school-choice/k-12-scholarship-programs/mckay/mckay-parent-info.stml>

Florida's school choice programs allow parents to choose the best educational setting—public or private—for their child. The McKay Scholarship Program for Students with Disabilities provided over 31,000 Florida students with special needs the opportunity to attend a participating private school during the 2018-19 school year. The McKay Scholarship Program also offers parents public school choice. A parent of an eligible special needs student may choose to transfer the student to another public school.

In order to be eligible for the McKay Scholarship Program, a student must apply for the program prior to withdrawing from public school. The student must also have an Individual Education Plan (IEP)* or 504 Accommodation Plan, and:

- Have been enrolled and reported for funding in a Florida public school during the preceding October and February Florida Education Finance Program surveys (Grades K-12); or
- Have been a pre-kindergarten student who was enrolled and reported for funding in a Florida public school during the preceding October and February Florida Education Finance Program surveys and was at least 4 years old; or
- Have been a pre-kindergarten student who was reported as having received Specialized Instructional Services by the Office of Early Learning and was at least 4 years old; or
- Have attended the Florida School for the Deaf and Blind during the preceding October and February student membership surveys (Grades K-12).

If your child meets the eligibility requirements, you may apply for a scholarship. If your child does not meet these requirements but has an IEP or 504 Accommodation Plan he or she may be eligible for a McKay Scholarship if the child:

- is a foster child (foster intent form available here); or
- is a dependent child of a member of the United States Armed Forces who transfers to a school in Florida from out of state or from a foreign country pursuant to a parent's permanent change of station orders (Please contact this office at 1-800-447-1636 for additional information.)

\ Please note that students with a "gifted only" designation and an Eligibility Plan (EP) do not meet the eligibility criteria for the McKay Scholarship Program.*

DESCRIPTION of SERVICES:	Each state operates a Medicaid program that provides health coverage for lower-income people, families and children, the elderly, and people with disabilities. Section 1331 of the Affordable Care Act gives states the option of creating a Basic Health Program (BHP), a health benefits coverage program for low-income residents who would otherwise be eligible to purchase coverage through the Health Insurance Marketplace. The Basic Health Program gives states the ability to provide more affordable coverage for these low-income residents and improve continuity of care for people whose income fluctuates above and below Medicaid and Children’s Health Insurance Program (CHIP) levels. Through the Basic Health Program, states can provide coverage to individuals who are citizens or lawfully present non-citizens, who do not qualify for Medicaid, CHIP, or other minimum essential coverage and have income between 133 percent and 200 percent of the federal poverty level (FPL). People who are lawfully present non-citizens who have income that does not exceed 133 percent of FPL but who are unable to qualify for Medicaid due to such non-citizen status, are also eligible to enroll. The eligibility rules for Medicaid are different for each state, but most states offer coverage for adults with children at some income level. In addition, beginning in 2014, most adults under age 65 with individual incomes up to about $15,000 per year will qualify for Medicaid in every state.

DESCRIPTION of SERVICES:	Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) is a federal-state program that helps people who have physical or mental disabilities get or keep a job. VR is committed to helping people with disabilities find meaningful careers. Our Mission is "to help people with disabilities find and maintain employment and enhance their independence." Our Vision is "to become the first place people with disabilities turn when seeking employment and a top resource for employers in need of qualified employees." In addition to the general customer employment program, VR has additional specific programs designed to help eligible people with disabilities become employed. Message from the Director  "Florida VR currently operates under a prioritization methodology called the Order of Selection. Federal rules require that when a program cannot serve every eligible individual who applies, due to resource constraints, it must prioritize services to individuals with the most significant barriers to employment. Florida has three (3) service categories, all of which are currently closed. We are still accepting applications, but eligible individuals will be placed on a waiting list for services. We anticipate that we will begin serving individuals assigned to service Category 1 again in July, with no current projected release date for customers assigned to service Categories 2 and 3. Please do continue to apply for VR services – people are released from the waiting list according to their application date, and the sooner you apply, the sooner you will be served. Thank you for your interest in the VR program – we look forward to working with you in the future." -  - Aleisa McKinlay, VR Director
