How often should I take my child for a checkup?

How often a child gets a health check depends on the child's age. Checkups are recommended at these ages:

- Between birth and 1 month
- At 2, 4, 6, 9, 12, 15, 18, 24 and 30 months
- Every year starting at 3 years through 20 years
- More often if needed

When should I take my child for a dental checkup?

Dental checkups should begin with the first tooth and no later than age 12 months.

Regular dental checkups should occur at least every six months.

Your dentist may ask to see your child more often.

Where can I get a checkup?

- Your doctor or clinic
- Some local public health departments

Children enrolled in a health plan must get their checkups from providers in their health plan network.

Medical Assistance pays for Child and Teen Checkups visits.

Why are C&TC visits important?

- Regular checkups help keep children, teens and young adults healthy.
- Health and dental problems can be found and treated early.
- Children can get tested for anemia, lead or tuberculosis and other diseases.
- Parents and children can get information about healthy lifestyles.
- Children can get regular checkups at the dentist.
- Teens and young adults can learn to take charge of their own health, with family support.

Child and Teen Checkups (C&TC) is Minnesota's name for the Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnosis and Treatment (EPSDT) program.
