

Policy Statement #3215 (Students) Regarding Student Behavior Interventions

I. Purpose

- A. To establish a uniform continuum of positive behavioral interventions, strategies, and supports which is consistent with state requirements for use by school personnel before using exclusion, restraint or seclusion
- B. To establish methods for identifying and defusing potentially dangerous behaviors and preventing self-injurious behaviors
- C. To develop a detailed plan to reduce and ultimately eliminate the use of restraint and seclusion. The plan will include training for staff on positive, proactive strategies to de-escalate students in crisis, supporting students who have experienced trauma, implementing alternatives to restraint and seclusion and other topics deemed appropriate.
- D. To establish a uniform format for monitoring the use of exclusion, restraint, and seclusion
- E. To ensure that exclusion, restraint, and seclusion are used in compliance with state regulations
- F. To ensure staff members are trained in the use of student behavior interventions
- G. To ensure that monitoring data on the use of exclusion, restraint and seclusion is annually reported to the Board of Education and made publicly available.

II. Definitions

- A. Positive behavior interventions, strategies, and supports: The application of school-wide and individual data-driven, trauma-informed actions, instruction, and assistance to promote positive social and emotional growth while preventing or reducing challenging behaviors in an effort to encourage educational and social emotional success
- B. Physical restraint: A personal restriction that immobilizes or reduces the ability of a student to move the student's torso, arms, legs, or head freely. Physical restraint does not include: (1) briefly holding a student to calm or comfort the student, (2) a physical escort, which is the temporary touching or holding of the hand, wrist, arm, shoulder, or back for the purposes of inducing a student who is acting out to walk to a safe location; (3) moving a disruptive student who is unwilling to leave the area if other methods such as counseling have been unsuccessful, or (4) intervening in a fight.
- C. Mechanical restraint: The use of any device or equipment to restrict a student's freedom of movement.
- D. Seclusion: The involuntary confinement of a student alone in a room or area from which the student is physically prevented from leaving. Seclusion does not include a timeout, which is a behavior management technique that is part of an approved program that involves the monitored separation of the student in a non-locked setting and is implemented for the purpose of calming. Seclusion is not exclusion, which is the removal of a student to a supervised area for a limited period of time during which the student has an opportunity to regain self-control and is not receiving instruction, including special education, related services, or support.

- E. Emergency Situation: An emergency situation arises when physical restraint or seclusion is necessary to protect a student or other person from imminent, serious, physical harm after less intrusive, nonphysical interventions have failed or been determined inappropriate.
- F. Imminent, serious, physical harm: Imminent serious physical harm has the same meaning as serious bodily injury in 18 U.S. C. 1365(h)(3) and 34 CFR §300.530(i)(3). Serious bodily harm means bodily injury which involves:
 - 1. A substantial risk of death;
 - 2. Extreme physical pain;
 - 3. Protracted and obvious disfigurement; or
 - 4. Protracted loss or impairment of the function of a bodily member, organ or mental faculty.
- G. Trauma-Informed Intervention: A universal approach that is informed by the recognition of the impact that trauma, including violence, abuse, neglect, disaster, terrorism, and war, or any other specific/individualized event, may have on a student's physical and/or emotional health and ability to function effectively in an educational setting.
- H. Proactive Behavior Interventions: Interventions which involve support strategies that are focused on reducing the likelihood of problem behavior and allowing an individual to be as independent and successful as possible.
- I. Physical Escort: The temporary touching or holding of the hand, wrist, arm, shoulder, or back for purposes of inducing a student who is acting out to walk to a safe location. By definition, a physical escort is NOT a prolonged action and does not restrict the student's ability to move freely. It is a limited attempt to redirect the student that still allows the student to move from one place to another.

III. Policy Statement

- A. The Board of Education is committed to providing safe and supportive school environments that promote the social and emotional well-being, achievement and success of each student. In compliance with Maryland State Department of Education standards, the Board acknowledges the need for staff members to use an array of research-based positive behavior interventions and strategies to improve student behaviors. These behavior interventions and strategies must be clearly delineated and progressive in nature and must limit the exclusion of a student from the classroom environment, from physical restraint, or from seclusion, and may only be used when lesser interventions are ineffective. The school system must ensure that appropriate training is provided to staff, to make certain behavior interventions and strategies are implemented in accordance with federal, state, and local laws.
