There are at least 7,000 known languages alive in the world today. Twenty-three of these languages are a mother tongue for more than 50 million people. The 25 languages make up the native tongue of 4.1 billion people. We represent each language within black borders and then provide the numbers of native speakers (in millions) by country. The colour of these countries shows how languages have taken root in many different regions.

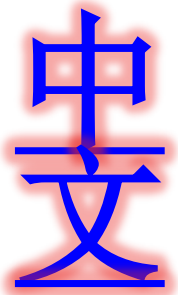

7.2 billion people on Earth today

4.2 billion people live in the states that we have obtained the data

23 languages with at least 50 million first language speakers

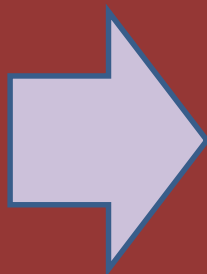

➤ Chinese is the first language of 1.4 billion people ... one-fifth of the world's population.

- ✓ U.S. companies invest billions of dollars each year in China.
- ✓ China is the world's fastest growing large economy and is the world's second largest economy.
- ✓ China is increasingly important to United States national security, foreign relations, trade, and climate change policy.
- ✓ Chinese language skills are essential for careers and advanced study involving China in business, education, journalism, and diplomacy.
