White boxes indicate independent work time for students. "In-person" students will use this time to complete assignments and to receive one-on-one support in that particular class. As needed, students may use this time to meet with their counselors. The school will also leverage this time for transitions and for lunch.
Orange boxes indicate when ALL students will be receiving live instruction from their teachers. Students who are in distance learning are expected to stay on pace with the "in person" classes; it is critical that all distance learners make every effort to join the live zooms. Students should continue to refer to Canvas for Zoom links and assignments.
