Flow of passions at art expo

BY SAMI ALMUNAJEDH

Amazing works of art were on display with crafts, paintings and other works that attracted huge interest from the visitors even though the gallery which organised the exhibition took all possible pandemic precautions as per the directives of the Supreme Committee on COVID-19.

Most of the works displayed at the exhibition were done either by the teachers or graduates of the ABA Oman International School. The former Teacher Association (PTA) of the school in association with Art & Soul Art Gallery is part in the event titled ART-E-FFFECT by ABA Artists.

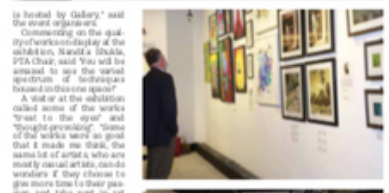

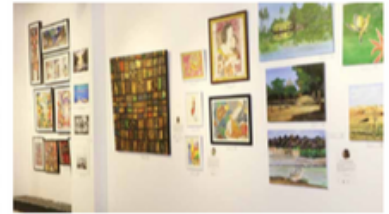

The secondary aims that motivated the gallery to host the event were to give artists, collectors and enthusiasts a platform to showcase their talents and to provide a space for them to interact with each other.

Commenting on the quality of the works on display, Narek A. Ishak, PTA Chair, said "You will be amazed to see the varied spectrum of techniques followed by these artists."

A visit to the exhibition didn't seem to be a simple "look at the art" and "buy a piece" but rather a "thought-provoking" experience. "Some of the works were so good that it made me think, the artist is not just an artist, he/she is a person who has a story to tell through his/her art and it touches each one of us. It makes your heart and soul yearn for it."

Another visitor, Nancy, who expressed with the exhibition Director and staff, said "I was impressed with the variety of techniques used by the artists and the way they presented their work."

It was also a great opportunity for the artists to take part in a wide exhibition. "I also appreciate Art & Soul Art Gallery for offering a platform for each artist," she said.
