

Fisher College Library: Serials Solutions

Using Serials Solutions allows you to see if a journal is available with full-text (includes date ranges of availability) through any of the Fisher College Library's databases. This can be particularly useful if you find an article loose on the internet, but it is behind a paywall, or if you just have the citation information without the full-text and you want to find out if Fisher has access to the journal through one of its databases.

Choose Academic Search Ultimate, since that database has the broadest coverage—from 2007- present. If you are off campus, select “Click here for remote access” first. You will be brought to another screen asking for you to log in with your “Patron ID,” which is your 14-digit library barcode.

The screenshot shows the EBSCO Sign In page. At the top, it says "EBSCO" and "EBSCO Support Site". Below that is a "Sign In" heading. A message reads: "Please contact your library administrator to obtain a Patron ID". There are two options for signing in: "Sign in with Google" (with a Google logo) and "Patron ID". The "Patron ID" option has a text input field and a "Sign In" button. Below the input field is an "Important User Information" note: "Remote access to EBSCO's databases is permitted to patrons of subscribing institutions".

Log into the database with your library barcode, then return to the Serials Solutions screen and select Academic Search Ultimate.
