1/ Model Congress

This training is offered to high school students T1-T4 - on Tuesdays

In these workshops the students learn about the electoral process, lobby for issues they are passionate about, draft and deliver bills, amend legislation, debate about international policy and learn how to effectively represent a constituent body of their choosing. The materials from The Constitutional Rights Foundation, ICivics (founded by Justice Sandra Day O'Connor) and the National Model U.S. Congress are used in classes. These resources have been proven to improve students' civic knowledge, presentation and core literacy skills.

New research has also shown that the use of the aforementioned materials has also led to increased participation in the democratic process. The objective in this course is to educate the next generation, nurture and inculcate a passion for civics and history and encourage young people to advocate for themselves.

The instructor of this class is Ms. Amanda Sawyer, Founder, Director, Dedimus Potestatem. Her program was developed in conjunction with The University of Cambridge.

4/ Leadership

The Leadership/ Mentorship Program is exclusively developed for UNIS high school students. This course will give the students the opportunity to apply in a practical setting the leadership skills they have learned. It will teach them how to communicate their qualifications and leadership skills in an interview to ensure they stand out and portray themselves as the young mentors needed by the next generation.

This eight-week program will give students the tools they need to serve as role models for the children they care for and pass on valuable knowledge and leadership traits most sought by parents.

5/ Film Making

Young people all over the world have begun using social media platforms to amplify minority voices, educate people about social justice issues and share science, poetry, art, movement, culture and more.

In this class students will learn to capture brief videos that share important and inspiring messages with the world, analyze movements from other young activists that have impacted their communities and use these platforms to advocate for a better world.
