

Eagle Vision News – March 1st, 2021

Centerville Families,

Literacy week began today. Our focus book this year is “After the Fall” by Dan Santat. It is a book which continues the story of Humpty Dumpty from the egg’s perspective. This book is about how even after hard things happen; we can all get back up. It promotes themes of determination, a growth mindset, perseverance, and courage. The book also gives opportunities to teach skills of overcoming adversity and failure. Humpty Dumpty is a popular nursery rhyme for many, and this book brings meaning to the jingle and hope to any who have ever fallen down.

As part of our Literacy activities this year, your children are encouraged to express themselves through the daily dress-up event. We will also be encouraging reading activities throughout the day, including the Reading Bingo Challenge in the Library.

- Monday: Marvelous Me Day – wear your favorite outfit in your favorite color!
- Tuesday: Twin Day – Dress and do your hair the same as your friend – or as a book character.
- Wednesday: What was I Thinking?: Crazy Hair day.
- Thursday: Throwback Thursday – Dress in something that reminds you of how good things used to be.

I like to remember that “reading is dreaming with open eyes”. Keep reading.
