Ballet (External Payment)	The lessons are based on the syllabi of the Royal Academy of Dance (RAD), London.  Lessons for the junior Grades still work in a creative form initiating the students into the basic steps of Classical Ballet. From the basic steps, dances with expressional and creative themes are learnt. Wherever possible, other dance are integrated into different genres to include Tap dance or Modern forms. The turn-out in the legs and feet is taken at a natural physical turnout of each child. We do not do pointe work until such time as students are at least 13+ years old. If students already have dance/ballet leotards – body, pink tights and pink ballet -shoes, they may wear them. If not, they may take the first lessons in leggings, t-shirt and socks. I would then order dance clothes for the group. I prefer for this age group the RAD leotards, without sleeves in colour – Teal/Aquamarine. Crossover chiffon skirts in matching colour are optional. It is essential that female students have their hair either off the face with hair grips or at least in a pony-tail for long hair.	Friday	14:45	15:30	M	Year 1, Year 2	Ms. Aileen Klarmann (External)

Since then, it has been refined with input from experts in education and sport, as well as occupational therapists and other specialists. Today Playball is enjoyed by children in countries all over the world, now also in Germany! Playball kids are gradually coached in the correct execution of skills such as catching, throwing, batting and kicking in a constructive and affirming learning environment that makes participation rewarding and fun. Children's perceptive as well as fine- and gross motor abilities are sharpened through learning, practicing and playing sports and games. In this way, Playball ultimately helps to support healthy physical, emotional, social and academic growth.  What makes Playball different from other sport programmes? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Playball coaches are trained in utilising an age-appropriate curriculum created in line with children's developmental milestones;</li> <li>• Playball stages are age-specific, helping children to learn the right skills at the right time;</li> <li>• Playball is designed to contribute to holistic growth by complementing the life skills learned in early childhood education settings;</li> <li>• Playball is taught to small groups (6 - 8 children per class) to facilitate individual attention within a group learning environment;</li> <li>• Playball focuses on teaching foundational skills in a variety of ball sports, rather than specialising in only one sport.</li> </ul> Annual once-off registration fee: 12- Euro and 9- Euro per lesson (one lesson per week)  Need more information?
