THE POLICY

The Salt Lake City School District Board of Education recognizes school media and publications as important elements of school instruction, student engagement, and community relations. The board requires that each school administration work with its school community council to establish consistent, written standards in order to ensure appropriate access to and content for their school’s media and publications. School media and publications are not designated by the board as public or limited public forums for students or the general public. The content and communications of school media and publications may not violate the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act or Utah’s Student Privacy and Data Protection Act.

The purpose of this policy is to ensure appropriate access to, content for, and distribution of school media and publications. The district has set forth its specific processes for implementing this board policy through the accompanying administrative procedures.
