

RESILIENT

KEIRAH, BERKSHIRE MIDDLE SCHOOL

Keirah is a student who had to work very hard at everything. I was lucky enough to loop with her from 3rd to 4th. Keirah made up her mind that she was going to excel in math. She put a lot of extra time into mastering her math facts. Computation errors were causing her a lot of grief. In the first quarter of 4th grade, her math improvements and overall confidence in math were so shocking that the class and I started calling her “Girl on Fire.”

