

Pre-K What your Child Will Learn

Students will understand the historical development and current status of the democratic principles and the development of skills and attitudes necessary to become responsible citizens.

- Identify the importance of rules.
- Describe the roles, rights, and responsibilities of being a member of a family and school.
- Recognize people important to the American political system.
- Identify how groups of people interact.

Students will understand how people in Maryland, the United States and around the world are alike and different.

- Identify family members and ways they meet needs.
- Individuals and families have similar human needs.

Students will use geographic concepts and processes to understand location and its relationship to human activities.

- Recognize that a globe and maps help people locate places.
- Identify the role of transportation in the community.
- Describe how people adapt to the local environment.
- Recognize that places have specific natural/physical and human-made features.

Students will identify the economic principles and processes that are helpful to producers and consumers when making good decisions.

- Identify that resources can be human workers.
- Describe choices people make because of wants.
- Explain how technology affects the way people live, work, and play.
- Identify types of local markets.

Students will use historical thinking skills to understand how individuals and events have changed society over time.

- Distinguish between past, present and future.
- Describe events of the day (Morning/afternoon, night/day).