

Clay - Unit 4 - Pinch Method

Unit Focus

In this unit, students will engage in a design process to create a culturally or historical or contemporary inspired clay form that is created using the pinch method of construction. They will apply their analysis of existing artworks to inform their creative choices. Students will learn by research, teacher demonstration, guided independent practice.

Stage 1: Desired Results

Product Creation: Effectively use a medium to communicate important information. (POG.3.2)
 Self-Awareness: Examining current performance critically to identify steps/strategies to persist. (POG.4.1)

- S2 Sketching and designing for a pinch piece that will reflect on their analysis of a cultural or historical artform.
- S3 Pinching, modeling, and forming clay to get the basic form defined.
- S4 Maintaining moisture in clay to work over a long period of time
- S5 Applying previously acquired additive and subtractive clay techniques.
- S6 Selecting a surface treatment.
- S7 Preparing work for presentation. (arranging, labeling, writing an artist statement)
