

George Edward Alcorn's History

These are facts about the amazing George Alcorn!
Keep reading to learn more about this amazing inventor!

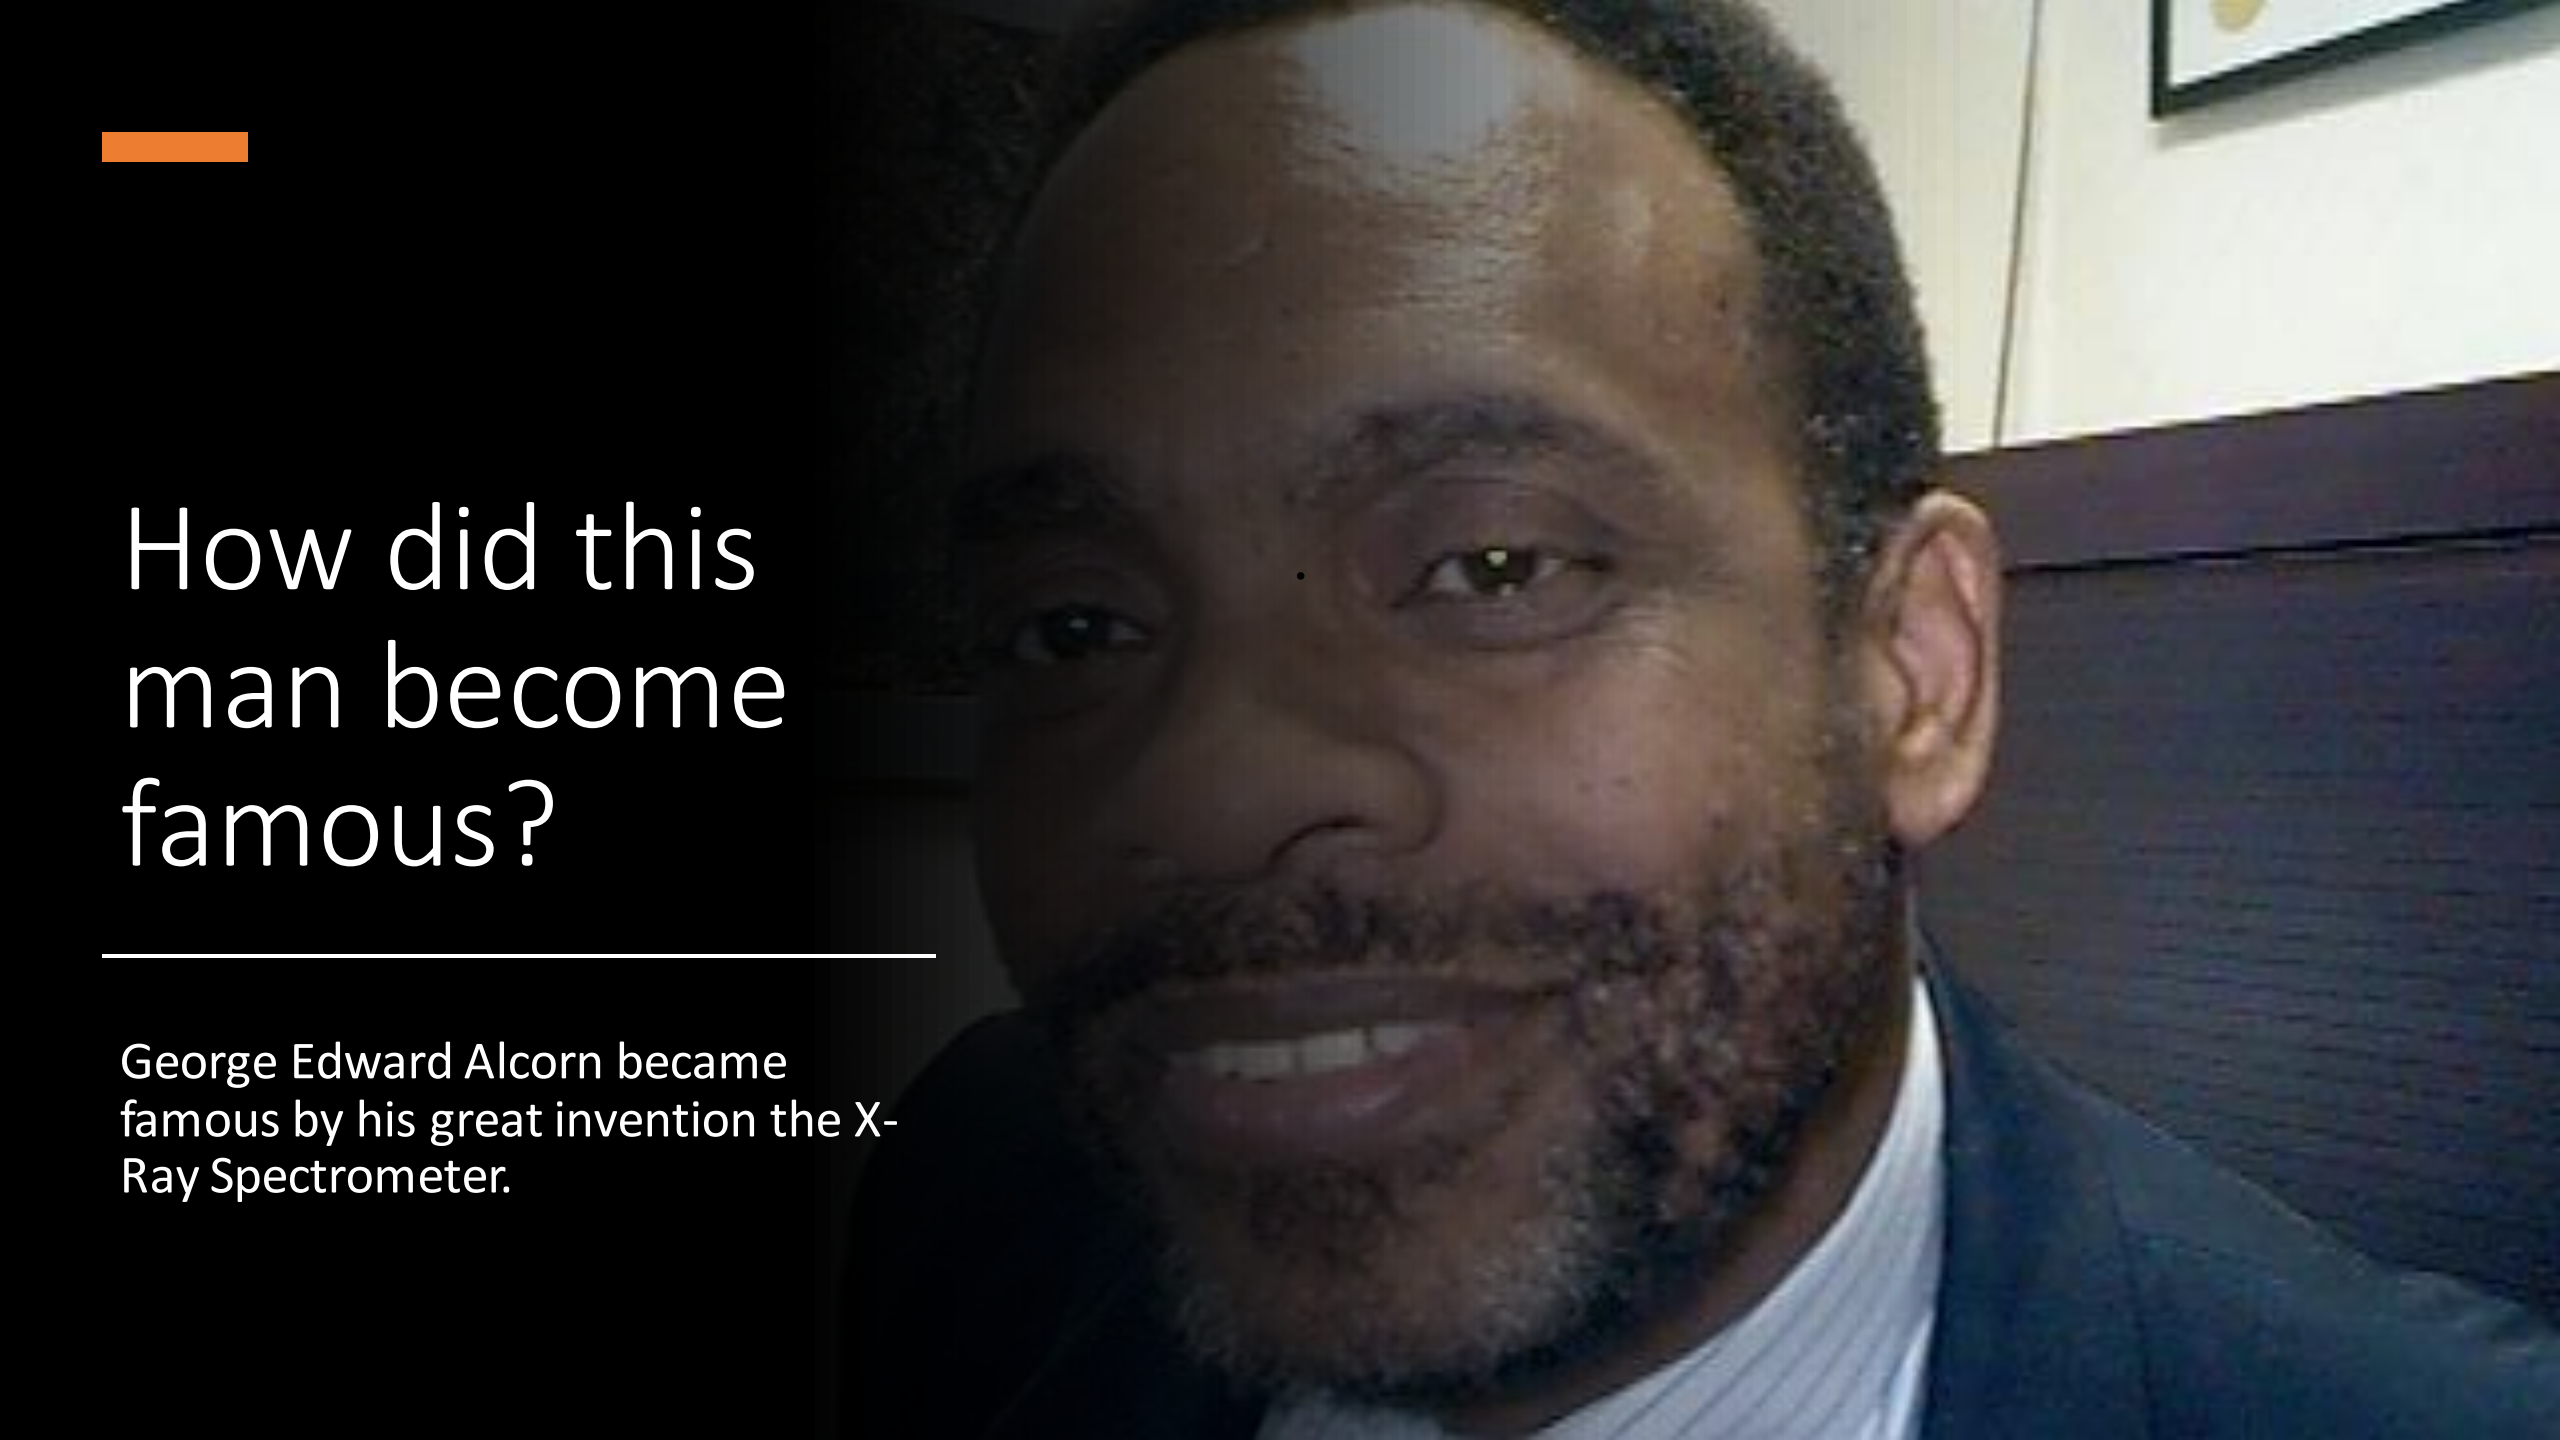

When was George Edward Alcorn born?

Well George Edward Alcorn was born on March 22, 1940. In 1978 Alcorn left IBM to join NASA in 1978.

A close-up portrait of George Edward Alcorn, a Black man with a beard and mustache, wearing a dark suit jacket and a light-colored shirt. He is looking slightly to the left of the camera with a neutral expression. The background is dark and out of focus, showing a white wall with a framed picture in the upper right corner.

How did this man become famous?

George Edward Alcorn became famous by his great invention the X-Ray Spectrometer.

Fun Facts about George Edward Alcorn!

- Kiddle explains "George Edward Alcorn Jr went on to receive his M.S and his Ph.D from Howard university." Edward had a younger brother Named Charles, His mom's name was Arletta Divon Alcorn.

HOWARD

UNIVERSITY

A man with a wide, joyful smile, wearing a dark pinstriped suit jacket over a light-colored collared shirt. He is positioned in front of a window that looks out onto a blue sky with white clouds. The overall image has a dark, semi-transparent overlay.

What is George Edward Alcorn known for?

Well George Alcorn is mostly known for his invention. The famous X-Ray spectrometer. Did you know that?

GOODBYE!

This Photo by Unknown author is licensed under CC BY-NC.

Well now you know all about George Alcorn.

So take this information and tell it to a friend or some family.