

Students will...

- know how to react in the target language in limited situations.
- ask and answer simple questions and ask for clarification when needed.
- introduce themselves to a classmate and introduce a classmate to others.
- respond to and initiate greetings and farewells.
- ask questions for clarification or to gain information.
- become familiar with the geography of the Spanish-speaking world.

Students will

- describe themselves and others.
- compare physical and personality traits of themselves and others.
- express likes and dislikes about activities.
- identify family members and relationships within the family.
- formulate questions to ask for information from family and friends.

Students will...

- describe their school schedules and classes.
- ask questions about school-related topics.
- compare their own school with schools in the target language countries?
- discuss after-school activities.
- express likes and dislikes about school activities.
- describe what they and others are wearing.

Students will...

- make plans for free time activities in the target language.
- read schedules to help make plans.
- compare leisure activities in the target culture and in their community.
- discuss preferences for food, leisure activities, etc. with classmates.
- extend an invitation to a peer to participate in a free time activity.
- identify popular sports and leisure activities in the target community.