

SERGEANT DANIEL HOSCH, US MARINE CORPS

I am a PROUD alumni of the glorious West Rowan High School located in Mt. Ulla North Carolina. For the past 6 years I have been and am still serving on active duty as a Marine. As I continue to climb the ranks of my military profession, I continue to pursue civilian goals as well. I am currently in school for Business with the University of Maryland, UMUC, which is a military friendly school. I plan to use the money that the Marine Corps has for education to help me earn my Bachelor's Degree in Business. Eventually, I want to open a bar and grill featuring all the different cuisine and drinks I have had on my various deployments and travels while stationed overseas.

