| Update: Parent Engagement and Language Development Lynn Hemann & Kristi Beckman attended an Intro to Language Family Engagement workshop that focuses on language education in & out of school and promotes meaningful communication with families. As a result, they use the WBWF meeting as an opportunity to ask questions and have discussion. Here's an example of the questions. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Was there a person who supported you as a student? What did they do? How did you know they cared? • What are the challenges parents have that the school can help them overcome? • What is your language goal for your children? • What do you wish the schools would do differently to help your family and to help you achieve your language goals? These questions created great discussion and we talked about some personal experiences and ideas for communication strategies | X | X | X | Kristi Beckman & Lynn Hemann |
