Step 1.

Take a good look at your drawing.

When you are making a piece of Art it is a very good idea to:

Stop working on it

Take a short break

Then, have a careful look at what you have done.

You might want to add or change things.

This is called EVALUATING.

Ask yourself these questions.

1. Have I included all the characters I want to in my drawing?

2. Am I happy with the way I have arranged the scene?

3. What have I drawn in the background of my illumination?

4. Is there anything else I want to add to help me tell the story ?

Once you are happy with your illumination it is time to add colour.

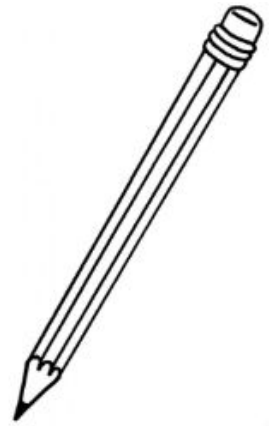

You need:

RUBBER

PENCIL

You can use your imagination and come up with your own colours for your illumination or use Quentin Blake's drawings as inspiration.

Have a look at the following slides to get some inspiration.

"My goodness me, I'm glad I've found someone at last!"

"Mr Fox looked at the four Small Foxes and he smiled.
What fine children I have, he thought."

WELL DONE !

When you have finished take a picture and add it to the Your Work file.

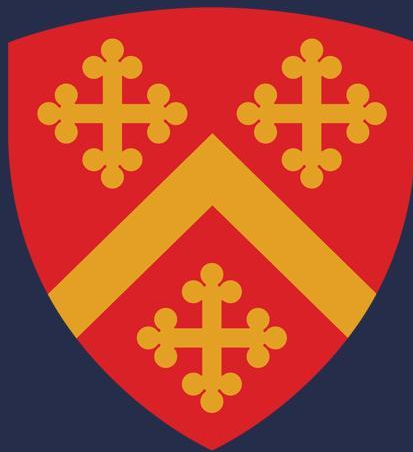

YOU'VE DONE it!
YOU'VE DONE it!

They sat there by the hole, waiting for the fox to come out.

And so far as I know, they are still waiting.
