C. McFarlane said there are two paras she recommends hiring at pay rates above the base. Rick Sansom's recommended rate is $14.10 based on his prior experience as a para at Lamoille Union. He has been our van driver and van coordinator and he is returning to work as a para. C. Gallagher asked the differential between his rate as a van driver and his rate as a para. C. C. McFarlane said Amy Day is leaving her ECS 2nd grade teaching position and joining Waterville Elementary as a 2nd-3rd grade teacher. L. Miller asked if that means there will be an opening at ECS. M. Mascolino said yes. She interviewed applicants and offered the position to the first choice candidate, who took another job. There is a strong second candidate she will recommend to C. Gallagher.

C. Fagnant asked, are we finding that teachers want to leave because of everything that is going on? C. Gallagher said one teacher wanted to stay home with her children. A lot of teachers applied for extensions and some took other jobs. Tomorrow is the deadline for extensions. She doesn't know that we are losing a lot of teachers. M. Mascolino said she only heard from one teacher that she is leaving because she can't remote teach and stay home with her child. She hasn't heard that from the others who are moving on.

C. Gallagher said we have had a number of parents ask us about homeschooling. That is a parent decision but it affects our funding sources if we have more people being homeschooled. One model the state is looking at is providing opportunities for some remote learning and some that is not. They are asking us to prepare for 3 scenarios – students fully in school (with a virtual component for some), students fully out, and a hybrid model. She thinks the hybrid model, which is the most difficult to implement, will gain the most traction. The Superintendents Association has asked Dan French to have students return after Labor Day if possible to give teachers time to come in to plan for these possibilities.

C. Gallagher said she is about to go to a racial equity coalition meeting she is excited about.

C. Fagnant moved to adjourn at 4:31, L. Miller seconded and the motion was passed.
