

Summer Reading Challenge and Recommendations

Students entering 1st or 2nd Grade

Goal: To encourage student reading over the summer AND BEYOND! Books can be added to this log if they are read by the student, read to the student, or listened to as an audiobook. Include both title and author in the square.

Complete the Tic-Tac-Toe board to have your name listed on the Summer Reading Extravaganza Wall at the beginning of the 2021 - 2022 school year! Books read do not have to be selected from the recommendations below, but they are a great start!

Everybody Fiction:

We have a section in the Good Shepherd Library that contains some of my very favorite titles for those kids who are wanting to read something that is just a little bit more than a picture book. These books are for the kids who are dying to read chapter books but may still benefit from picture cues. I call them Everybody Fiction. When you are looking at the bookstore, look for a book with white pages (instead of a cream or beige), limited text with lots of space, and lots of pictures. It is hard to purchase these books without seeing them first, but I have listed some of the GSES Library's favorites.

Anne Marie Anderson: Magic School Bus Rides Again series

Graphic Novels:

The images in graphic novels reinforce the story. The student needs to study the pictures in order to fully understand the text, and can make inferences about the story based on both the pictures and the dialogue. Brigid Alverson writes in School Library Journal that "Educators agree that graphic novels are useful for teaching new vocabulary, visual literacy, and reading skills." Students also gain confidence in their reading skills by being able to decipher what is going on in the story before they have learned how to read every word.

"For weak language learners and readers, graphic novels' concise text paired with detailed images helps [them] decode and comprehend the text," says Meryl Jaffe, an instructor at the Johns Hopkins University Center for Talented Youth, Online Division, and the author of several books on using comics in the classroom. "Reading is less daunting, with less text to decode. While vocabulary is often advanced, the concise verbiage highlights effective language usage," adds Jaffe.

Paige Braddock: Stinky Cecil

James Burks: Bird & Squirrel series

Frank Cammuso: Otto's Backwards Day

Jack Chabert: Poptropica series

Philippe Coudray: Benjamin Bear in Fuzzy Thinking

Scott McCormick: Mr. Pants series

Read-Aloud Chapter Books for Parents to Read to Children:

It is wonderful to read picture books aloud to your children as long as you can, no child is too old for a picture book! However, it is also beneficial to read longer books aloud to your children that take a few sittings to finish. Reading 20 minutes before bedtime is a great way to spend time with your kids, and also share stories they will always remember. Here are some chapter books that kids enjoy during their elementary years. The content can sometimes be heavier however, so make sure and preview a book if it seems scary or too much for your child.

Betty G. Birney : Humphrey series

Michael Bond : A Bear Called Paddington

Beverly Cleary : Ralph, Socks, Ramona, Henry

Roald Dahl : Charlie and the Chocolate Factory, James and the Giant Peach

Deborah and James Howe : Bunnicula

Ann M. Martin : The Doll People

A.A. Milne : The Complete Tales of Winnie the Pooh

Mary Pope Osborne : Magic Treehouse series

John Peterson : The Littles series

Louis Sachar : Wayside School series

George Selden : The Cricket in Times Square

Brian Selznick : Invention of Hugo Cabret

E.B. White : Stuart Little, Trumpet of the Swan, Charlotte's Web

Short Story Collection : William J. Bennett A Children's Book of Virtues
