NYS Education Department: BLUEPRINT FOR ENGLISH LANGUAGE LEARNERS (ELLs) SUCCESS

Blueprint for English
Language Learner/
Multilingual Learner Success

THE STATE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT • THE UNIVERSITY OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK
OFFICE OF BILINGUAL EDUCATION AND ENGLISH LANGUAGE

<http://www.nysed.gov/common/nysed/files/blueprint-for-ell-success.pdf>.

The mission of the New York State Education Department's (NYSED) Office of Bilingual Education and Foreign Language Studies (OBE-FLS) is to ensure that all New York State (NYS) students, including English Language Learners (ELLs), attain the highest level of academic success and language proficiency. We strive to ensure that all students' individual educational paths and socio-emotional needs are met in multiple languages leading them to college and career readiness. NYSED believes that all teachers are teachers of ELLs.

In response to the changing global economy, NYSED has adopted the Common Core Learning Standards (CCLS) to provide students, educators, and parents with a set of clear expectations leading to college and career readiness. Over the last decade, there has been an increase in the number of ELLs enrolled in NYS public schools resulting in a current population of 214,378 students who speak over 160 languages. In order for these students to succeed, NYSED needs to provide schools with the appropriate scaffolds, home language assessments and materials so that teachers can provide instruction that will enable students to meet rigorous standards. Under the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education Part 154, the OBE-FLS affirms that it is not permissible to assume that unsupported immersion of ELLs into an English-speaking environment will enable them to succeed academically.

The NYSED P-12 Common Core Learning Standards (CCLS) require that every teacher be prepared to teach academic language and challenging content to all students, including ELLs. All teachers must be skilled in how to support ELLs as they acquire content knowledge while also progressing towards English proficiency. It is imperative that all educators work across the content areas to ensure that all students meet the high demands of the CCLS.

The following principles were carefully developed as a statewide framework aimed to clarify expectations for administrators, policymakers, and practitioners to prepare ELLs for success, beginning in Prekindergarten, to lay the foundation for college and career readiness. These principles are intended to provide guidance, resources, and support to districts, schools, and teachers, as well as to promote a better understanding and appreciation of Bilingual Education, English as a Second Language, and Foreign Language Studies.

The principles that guide the Blueprint for ELLs are:

1. All teachers are teachers of English Language Learners, and need to plan accordingly by:

- Designing and delivering instruction that is culturally and linguistically appropriate for all diverse learners, including those with Individualized Educational Programs (IEP).

- Providing integrated language and content instruction to support language development through language-focused scaffolds. Bilingual, ESL, and other content-area teachers must collaborate purposefully and consistently to promote academic achievement in all content areas.
 - Utilizing materials and instructional resources that are linguistically, age/grade appropriate, and aligned to the Common Core Learning Standards (CCLS).
 - Collaborating with school support personnel and community-based human resources in order to address the multiple needs of ELLs.
- 2. All school boards and district/school leaders are responsible for ensuring that the academic, linguistic, social, and emotional needs of ELLs are addressed by:
- Providing a clear vision for student success that includes high expectations for ELL student achievement and socio-emotional development, supported by a purposeful plan of action that provides multiple pathways to college and career readiness through high-quality programs that meet the needs of ELLs.
 - Providing high-quality instruction for ELLs.
 - Aligning and coordinating fiscal and human resources to ensure that the instructional plan is being effectively implemented.
 - Providing high-quality supports, feedback and direction to educators to improve their instructional practice.
 - Providing a safe and inclusive learning environment that recognizes and respects the languages and cultures of all students.
 - Ensuring districts and school leaders are trained in meeting the needs of ELLs in order to cultivate a school culture of high expectations.
 - Providing high-quality instructional and support services to ELLs with disabilities in alignment with their IEPs and current policies.
- 3. Districts and schools engage all English Language Learners in instruction that is grade appropriate, academically rigorous, and aligned with the New York State Prekindergarten Foundation for the Common Core and P- 12 Common Core Learning Standards by:
- Articulating specific content and language objectives.
 - Integrating explicit and implicit research-based vocabulary instruction.
 - Providing opportunities for students to discuss content and problem-solve with peers.
 - Anchoring instruction by strategically using research-based practices (e.g., multimedia, visuals, graphic organizers, etc.)
 - Providing special education supports, services, accommodations and specially designed instruction to meet the specific instructional needs of ELLs with disabilities.
 - Designing, selecting, and implementing a high-quality curriculum that meets the needs of Early Learning ELLs, and supports the New York State Prekindergarten Foundation for the Common Core, http://www.p12.nysed.gov/ciai/common_core_standards/pdfdocs/nyslsprek.pdf.
 - Using academic language and content-area supports to strategically move ELLs along the language development continuum utilizing New York State Bilingual Common Core Progressions, <http://www.engageny.org/resource/new-york-state-bilingual-common-core-initiative>
- 4. Districts and schools recognize that bilingualism and biliteracy are assets, and provide opportunities for all students to earn a Seal of Biliteracy upon obtaining a high school diploma by providing all students with:
- Opportunities to participate in language learning or language support programs that lead to proficiency in English and other languages.
 - Opportunities to use and develop academic language and content knowledge both in English and a language other than English, including the student's home language.

- Rigorous Bilingual Education programs for ELLs aimed at maintaining and developing the home language and attaining English proficiency as well as biliteracy.
- Alternate pathways for those students whose home language is that which a Bilingual Education Program does not exist in a district due to the language's low incidence.

5. Districts and schools value all parents and families of ELLs as partners in education and effectively involve them in the education of their children by:

- Providing parents with resources that enable them to make informed decisions about their children's education.
- Providing parents with all pertinent information about their rights and program choices in a language and format that parents can easily understand and access.
- Providing training to parents in English and in their home language on effective strategies to support their children's learning in and out of school.
- Engaging parents as active participants, contributors and cultural liaisons to the school community.
- Sharing with parents and family members the high expectations that schools have established for the education of all ELLs and engaging them in the pursuit and achievement of those expectations.
- Collaborating with the school support personnel and immigrant community based organizations in order to address the multiple needs of families of ELLs.

6. District and school communities leverage the expertise of Bilingual, ESL, and Languages Other Than English (LOTE) teachers and support personnel while increasing their professional capacities by:

- Creating intentional learning opportunities for all teachers to collaborate and design instruction, analyze student work, and develop rigorous lessons.
- Providing substantial and sustained opportunities for all teachers to participate in meaningful professional development that addresses the needs of ELLs, including home and new language development.

7. Districts and school communities leverage ELLs' home languages, cultural assets, and prior knowledge by:

- Regarding home languages as instructional assets, and using them in bridging prior knowledge to new knowledge while ensuring that content is meaningful and comprehensible.
- Using home languages and cultures of ELLs to promote diversity pursuant to the Dignity for All Students Act (NYS initiative, effective July 2013), <http://www.p12.nysed.gov/dignityact/>.

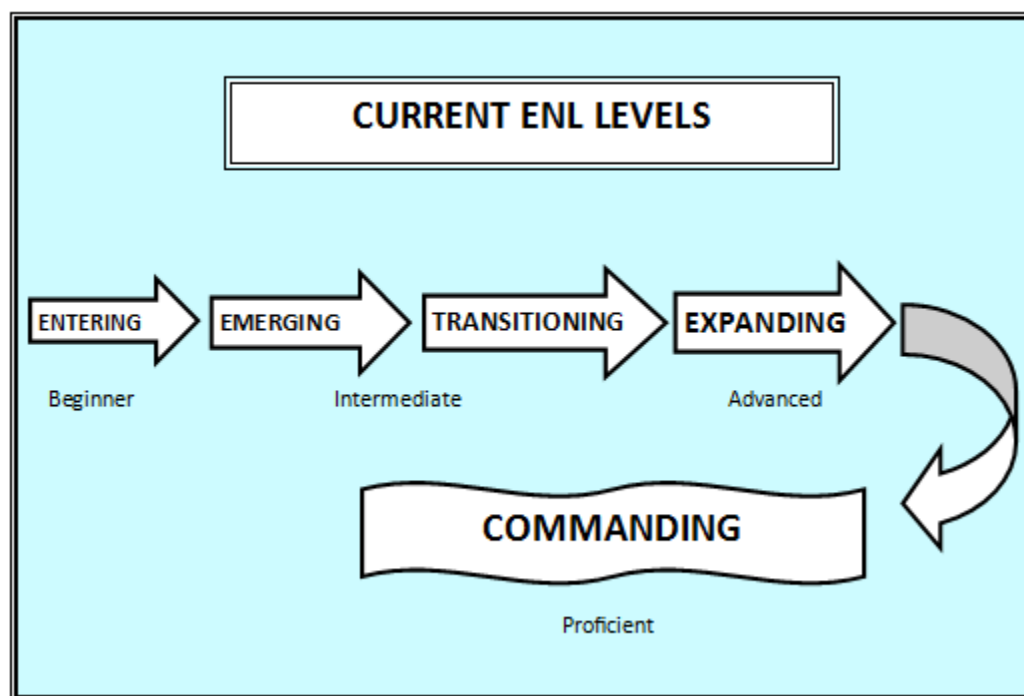

8. Districts and schools use diagnostic tools and formative assessment practices in order to measure ELLs' content knowledge as well as new and home language development to inform instruction by:

- Using State assessments in conjunction with formative assessments.
- Using State language proficiency data (from the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test [NYSESLAT] and the New York State Identification Test for English Language Learners [NYSITELL]) to understand where ELLs are along the continuum of language development, and how to provide appropriate scaffolds for them according to their proficiency level.
- Employing authentic assessments that require sophisticated uses of language embedded in authentic and rich content.
- Utilizing appropriate tools to assess the needs and progress of ELLs with disabilities.
- Utilizing analytical rubrics that provide feedback on content knowledge and language development.
- Using home language assessments to inform instruction and demonstrate growth in Bilingual Education programs in which the home language is being used.

Guidelines for Bilingual and ENL Teachers

English Language Learners/Multilingual Learners Subgroups

- Newcomer ELLs/MLLs: Students who have been identified as ELLs/MLLs and have received ENL instruction as a component of their Bilingual or ENL program for up to four continuously enrolled school years in the U.S.
- Developing ELLs/MLLs: Students who have been identified as ELLs/MLLs and have received ENL instruction as a component of their Bilingual or ENL program for a total of four to six continuously enrolled school years in the U.S.
- Long Term ELLs/MLLs: Students who have been identified as ELLs/MLLs and have received ENL instruction as a component of their Bilingual or ENL program for more than six continuously enrolled school years in the U.S.
- Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE): ELLs/MLLs who have attended schools in the U.S. for less than twelve months and who, upon initial enrollment in schools, are two or more years below grade level in literacy in their home language and/or are two or more years below grade level in math due to inconsistent or interrupted schooling prior to arrival in the U.S.

CURRENT ENL LEVELS

Bilingual & English as a New Language Programs & Instructional Models

- Transitional Program: Provide grade-level academic work in the student's native language so that the student maintains academic progress while developing English proficiency. Provides instruction in two languages: the language spoken at home and English.
- Integrated ENL: English as a New Language methodologies in content area instruction co-taught or individually taught by a dually certified teacher. The maximum allowable grade span is two contiguous grades for grouping instruction in ENL and Bilingual Education programs.
- Stand Alone ENL: ENL instruction with an ESOL teacher to develop the English language needed for academic success. Students are expected to comprehend, speak, read and write in English with some home language support. The maximum allowable grade span is two contiguous grades for grouping instruction in ENL and Bilingual Education programs.
- Co-Teaching Model: English as a New Language and General Education teachers work collaboratively to develop lesson plans, establish students' reading/writing goals, and review students' progress towards those goals. Additionally, both teachers help prepare students for assessments. Refer to page 65.

We also have dually certified special education classes and at the high school, we have a science and social studies class being taught by a dually certified teacher, as well as ENL/ELA classes being co-taught.

State ELL/MLL Assessments

- NYSITELL- New York State Identification Test for English Language Learner is the only assessment instrument in New York State for measuring the English language proficiency of a student who may possibly be an ELL/MLL. The results of the NYSITELL are used to determine the type of instructional programs into which the students must be placed. This is a secured test.
- NYSESLAT- (New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test) is an annual English language assessment used to determine an ELL/MLL student's proficiency level in English. The student's proficiency levels are classified into five levels: Entering (beginner), Emerging (low intermediate), Transitioning (high intermediate), Expanding (advanced), and Commanding (proficient).
- MLS - Literacy SIFE Screener for the Identification of SIFE is a multilingual, reading comprehension module. Semi-adaptive, this online assessment reflects current literature-based curricula and didactic principles from students' home countries. It is used to determine the students' home language literacy skills the students bring with them when they begin school in New York State.

English Language Learners Exit Criteria

Ways ELLs/MLLs exit ELL/MLL status:

- Grades K-12: Scoring at the Commanding level on the NYSESLAT.
- Grades 3-8: Scoring at the Expanding on the NYSESLAT and 3 or above on the NYS ELA assessment within the same school year.
- Grades 9-12: Scoring at the Expanding level on the NYSESLAT and 65 or above on the Regents Exam in English within the same school year.

Opt-Out Protocol

The parent(s) or guardian(s) of a student designated as an ELL/MLL has the option to withdraw their child from participation in the Bilingual Education Instructional Program. The opt-out protocol requires:

- the parent(s) or guardian(s) meet with the School Principal and the Assistant Superintendent for Bilingual and ENL Programs & Student Intake, Wanda Ortiz Rivera, in order to discuss parental rights and the nature, purpose, and educational value of the program as well as the skills and support provided by and required of personnel.
- at a minimum, that the student participates in the English as a New Language Program.

*When the number of eligible students does not require the offering of a bilingual education program in a particular school building, the parent(s) or guardian(s) has the option to transfer their child to another school within the district that does offer a bilingual education program. A parent who chooses not to exercise the transfer option will be informed that his or her child needs to participate in the English as a New Language Program.

*There is no opting out from the English as a New Language Program once a child is identified and placed in the ENL Program. New York State requires that all identified ELL/MLL students receive ENL instruction appropriate to their proficiency level. Parents do not have the option to withdraw their child from an ENL program.

Retention of Records

Bilingual/ENL Purple Folder: All guidance counselors and/or Principal's designees must check all cumulative folders at the beginning of the school year and carefully read all forms in the Bilingual/ENL purple folder. Teachers at the secondary level are also encouraged to review Bilingual/ENL Department comments and assessment scores for each of their students found in the CUM Folders. Refer to Appendix pages 38-40.

These forms include:

- ☐ Entitlement Letter (newly identified ELLs/MLLs)
- ☐ NYSITELL Scores
- ☐ Bilingual/ENL Department NYSESLAT Letter – Continued Entitlement Letter
- ☐ NYSESLAT Scores Report
- ☐ Non-Entitlement Letter (if applicable)
- ☐ Bilingual/ENL Evaluation Placement Form
- ☐ Home Language Questionnaire
- ☐ ELL /MLL Placement Form
- ☐ Intake Writing Sample
- ☐ Intake Assessments, i.e. math and/or MLS (if applicable)

Parent/Guardian Communication

- ☐ NYSESLAT Parent/Guardian Reports: All ELL/MLL students who took the NYSESLAT the previous May will receive copies of the NYSESLAT Parent Reports and Parent Notification Letters. Building Principals/Office of ENL Department Chairperson will send one copy home immediately upon receipt and file a copy in the CUM Folder, refer to Appendix pages 48-49.
- ☐ Parent /Guardian Notification Letters: These letters will be used for all students who do not receive the NYSESLAT. Refer to Appendix page 50.
- ☐ NYSITELL Parent /Guardian Reports: The original is to be sent home with the student and a copy needs to be filed in the CUM Folder.
- ☐ Meet the Teacher Night: Teachers should review the name of the particular school, review the Parents' Bill of Rights, show the parents how to read the NYSESLAT Parent Report, and go over the Comprehensive Guide for the Parents of ELLs/MLLs.
- ☐ Bilingual & ENL Parent Handbook: May be used as a reference pertaining to any questions about the Bilingual/ENL Programs. Each student should receive a copy to bring home. Plaza Comunitaria liaisons are expected to provide a parent orientation meeting to newly enrolled parents. For a list of Plaza Comunitaria liaisons, please refer to Appendix page 75.

Checkpoints

- ✓ Student Placement: It is of the utmost importance for teachers and guidance counselors to check the Bilingual/ENL Spreadsheet and the NYSESLAT or NYSITELL score reports to ensure proper placement of students. Commanding students may be serviced in a content-area classroom, taught by a dually certified teacher as part of the two year monitoring service. Commanding students do not take the NYSESLAT Test.
- ✓ SIFE Students: Because the number of SIFE students has increased, it is crucial that guidance counselors and SIFE teachers read the Bilingual Placement Forms for all the new entrants (refer to the student's CUM Folder). The Woodcock Muñoz test, parts of the Brigance Assessment, and the Multilingual Screener (MLS) are administered to these students and the results should be used to differentiate instruction.
- ✓ Identification of SIFE Students: All SIFE students will be identified at the time of registration. It is important for guidance counselors and SIFE teachers to review each student's placement forms and Cumulative Folder.
- ✓ Attendance: All ENL and Bilingual teachers must take attendance daily using e-school.
- ✓ Class Rosters: All ENL and Bilingual teachers must keep a class roster with NYSESLAT Scores and English proficiency levels in their lesson plan books. This will facilitate the submission of student counts at the end of every month.
- ✓ Schedules: ENL and Bilingual teachers need to complete a Class Schedule which includes their students' language proficiency levels. Refer to Appendix page 55.

Lesson Plans and Observations

- ✓ Bilingual teachers will use the New Language Arts Progressions and Home Language Arts Progressions in their lesson plans to identify standards and linguistic demands. ENL Teachers will use the New Language Arts Progressions in their lesson plans to identify standards and linguistic demands.
 - ✓ Lesson plans must be submitted to building principals and/or Department Chairperson on a weekly basis. * Stay tuned for a new procedure involving Office 365 teams.
- ✓ Walkthroughs and formal observations will be conducted as per the BTA Contract. All pertinent forms must be submitted through Right Path. It is recommended that teachers become familiar with the NYSUT Teacher Practice Rubric in order to maximize student learning. For a copy of the templates, please refer to Appendix pages 66-73.

MYTH vs. FACT

Bilingual Language Development

MYTH

FACT

Speaking 2 or more languages to a child can "confuse" them, so it is better to only speak 1 language.

All children are capable of learning multiple languages, including children with developmental delays and learning disabilities.

It is better for families to only speak the language taught in school to their children, even if they do not speak the language well.

Families should speak the language they are most comfortable speaking, so children are given rich linguistic models and can interact best with other members of their community.

Young bilingual children are delayed in learning language compared to peers who only speak 1 language.

Bilingualism does NOT cause language delays, and has been shown to improve children's ability to learn new words, identify sounds, and problem-solve.

Bilingual children should not mix parts of the languages they speak.

"Translanguaging" occurs when individuals grammatically mix aspects of the languages they speak. It fosters cultural and metalinguistic awareness.

Children become bilingual just by listening to people around them speaking the second language.

Learning language is an active process that requires many opportunities for children to practice communicating in context with others. Listening and responding are both crucial for developing competence.

Bilingual & English as a New Language Instructional Models and Core Materials

- Sheltered Instruction Observation Protocol (SIOP): The SIOP Model consists of eight major components: preparation, building background (schema), comprehensible input strategies, interaction, practice/application, lesson delivery, and review/evaluation.
- ★ Preparation
 - Include specific language and content objectives for students: Content Objective describes what the students will learn during the lesson and Language Objective is the vehicle by which the students learn and demonstrate/communicate their learning: i.e. listening-role play, speaking-justify, reading-preview and predict, and writing-summarize.
 - Select appropriate content concepts that are age appropriate and appropriate students' educational background as well as their level of language proficiency.
 - Identify supplemental materials to use: i.e. manipulatives, visuals, multimedia, demonstrations, charts, graphs, graphic organizers, etc.
 - Create performance tasks/activities that enable students to make connections between their own knowledge and experiences with the new information/concepts being taught as well as application and practice in reading, writing, and speaking.
 - ★ Building Background
 - Connect concepts to students' backgrounds and experiences and connect previous learned concepts to new concepts.
 - Select and emphasize key vocabulary (critical to understanding) and present new vocabulary in context.
 - Create Word Walls and display words alphabetically or by concept.
 - ★ Comprehensible Input
 - Use speech that is appropriate to the students' language proficiency and speak slowly, enunciate, repeat more frequently.
 - Explain and clarify concepts using different practices: modeling, visuals, hands-on activities, gestures, body language, etc.
 - Avoid idiomatic expressions and sarcasm unless it is directly a part of the learning objectives.
 - Present and explain instructions in a sequential step-by step manner, modeling/demonstrating when needed.
 - Allow students to explain/restate instructions to their peers.
 - Restate a student response to model correct English usage and grammar.
 - Model critical thinking skills, think alouds.
 - Use a variety of high order thinking questions and include open-ended questions to promote discussion among students.
 - Create opportunities for student discussion and interaction for students to practice the language, providing instruction in how to utilize sentence prompts/frames to discuss their points and thoughts.
 - Offer appropriate wait time.
 - ★ Strategies
 - Include techniques, methods, and processes that enhance comprehension for learning and retaining information. Students should be provided with ample opportunities to use learning strategies which have been taught through explicit instruction. The goal is for students to become more independent in self-monitoring their own learning strategies, i.e. summarizing, close reading, relating summarizing to previous predictions and to further learning.
 - ★ Interaction
 - Through meaningful interaction, students can practice speaking and making themselves understood by asking and answering questions, negotiating meaning, clarifying ideas, and other techniques: vary the grouping configurations, teach students the language required to ask and offer elaborate responses, encourage and expect elaborate questions and responses, and allow students to rehearse.
 - ★ Practice/Application
 - Lessons should include multiple opportunities to use hands on materials or manipulatives to learn and practice the content and should also include activities for students to apply content and language knowledge in their learning: i.e. solving a problem within a group.
 - ★ Lesson Delivery
 - Lesson delivery reflects how well the content and language objectives (learning targets and success criteria) are supported during the lesson, to what extent the students are involved and engaged and how appropriate the pace is to the students' abilities.
 - For lesson delivery to be considered effective, it should be well planned; establish clear explanation of academic tasks or instructions; meet language proficiency and learning needs of the students; minimize off task activities such as making announcements, passing papers etc.; allocate appropriate time for the academic task; exhibit strong classroom management skills; provide opportunities for students to apply learning in relevant and meaningful ways; include active student involvement in planning and implementation of activities and strategies; and set aside 90% to 100% of the time period for students to be actively engaged in activities that relate directly to material that they will be tested on.
 - ★ Review/Evaluation
 - Throughout the lesson, and especially at the end, it is important to determine how well students have understood and have retained key vocabulary and content concepts. The determination of whether to move on or offer additional instruction and support is the key to effective assessment and instruction. Effective sheltered instruction involves reviewing important concepts, providing constructive feedback through clarification, and making instructional decisions based on student response. Instructing how and expecting students to self-assess, self-analyze and set individual goals/focus areas is critical.

Bilingual & English as a New Language Instructional Models and Core Materials

- ★ Good Habits Great Readers, GHGR: All Bilingual and ENL teachers will provide ENL/ELA instruction using the GHGR Reading Program. Teachers will use English GHGR leveled books and Mondo leveled books from the bookroom for Guided Reading instruction. Teachers can also use the leveled readers from Reading A-Z.
- ★ Buenos Hábitos Grandes Lectores, BHGL - All Bilingual teachers will use Buenos Hábitos Grandes Lectores for Home Language Arts instruction at minimum of 36 minutes per day.
- ★ WTW for ELLs/MLLs – Words Their Way for ELLs/MLLs workbooks are ordered for all ENL and Bilingual students in Grades 1-3: 1st grade=Level 2, 2nd grade=Level 3, and 3rd grade=Level 4. Please note that these levels are suggested levels for each grade. It is suggested that Grades 4 and 5 students use the workbooks purchased for the mainstream classrooms. If those levels are not appropriate, teachers can request to use the WTW for ELLs/MLLs.
- ★ NYSESLAT Preparation Workbooks: All Bilingual and ENL students in grades K-5 will receive a workbook to be used as an instructional tool to prepare students with the format of the NYSESLAT. Teachers should include this workbook in their ENL instruction at least once a week.
- ★ Family Literacy Project: Each student in grades K-5 received a FLP workbook. All bilingual teachers need to keep reading logs of their students.
- ★ Escalera for NLA SIFE – purpose: designed to instill confidence as students quickly master the ladder/sequential curriculum and serves to reinforce decoding skills, build fluency and basic comprehension, providing a highly-accelerated jumpstart into reading.

District Related ELL/MLL Assessments and Reports

- NYSESLAT L2RPT Reports: Building level meetings will be scheduled with building principals, Bilingual, and ENL and Co-teachers to analyze the annual NYSESLAT results.
- Fountas & Pinnell Reading Records: All Bilingual teachers will administer the F & P reading record to all bilingual students in English first. The Spanish F & P will be administered to those students who are Spanish monolingual and/or cannot read in English yet. Teachers will concentrate on guided reading instruction in English with students who are reading at higher levels in English (i.e. Spanish level C, English level J). Students who are Spanish monolingual will need guided reading instruction in Spanish while they are learning English. * All new Spanish Monolingual students need a Spanish F & P. A copy of the initial Reading Record must be submitted to the Bilingual Department.
- ELA Interim Assessments: All bilingual teachers in grades 1-5 will administer the ELA Interim Assessments at the end of each unit. Entering and Emerging level students do not need to take these assessments because they are at the early stage of language production. Teacher discretion is advised as students' language acquisition skills improve.
- Math CAM Assessments
- On Demand Writing Samples: All Bilingual students are required to write an On Demand Writing Sample in English with the exemption of Entering and Emerging level students who are at the early stages of language production and cannot speak English yet. Those students will write a sample in Spanish. Both fall and spring samples need to be in the same language (i.e. if the fall sample was in Spanish, the spring sample needs to be in Spanish). *Note for students whose language proficiency has increased, please include an English writing sample.
- Computer Based Reading Assessments/Program Enrollment:
 - a. Transitioning, Expanding, and Commanding level students in grades 3-5 will need to take the Reading Inventory, formerly known as the Scholastic Reading Inventory.
 - b. All Expanding and Commanding level students will be enrolled in ReadAbout. Additionally, based on the Fountas and Pinnell benchmark results, Transitioning level students will also need to be enrolled in the program (Level H+). Teacher discretion is advised.
 - c. All students are to be enrolled in Raz-Kids.
 - d. Kindergarten through 2nd grade students will be enrolled in iRead.
 - e. Entering/SIFE level students will be enrolled on Rosetta Stone.

Reading/Writing Folder and CUM Procedures

- ✓ All teachers in grades K-5 will fill in the blue Elementary Reading/Writing Folder and place in student cum folders.
- ✓ Teachers are expected to fill out their grade level information: teacher, school year, pre/post writing assessment dates.
- ✓ Kindergarten teachers will insert the End-of-Year Kindergarten Benchmark Assessment along with the Tesoros and The Home Language Benchmark Assessment results.

Reading/Procedures:

- ✓ All teachers in grades K-5 will plot the Fountas and Pinnell Benchmark Assessment results on the inside of the blue folder for benchmarked students. All children get benchmarked in Kindergarten at the end of year. Children reading below grade level get benchmarked in grades 1 and 2. Children at the below-basic proficiency level according to RI get benchmarked in grades 3-5. All Bilingual teachers will receive a "pink" folder, so they can plot the Spanish F & P results for monolingual students only. The Assessment Summary Form and Individual Progress Monitoring form (Instructional Reading Trajectory) should be included for all benchmarked students with behaviors to notice instead of goals. The District's Individual Progress Monitoring form (Instructional Reading Trajectory) must be included for all students. Teachers fill in recommended placement for next year and behaviors to notice on this form.
- ✓ Bilingual teachers should place their pink Spanish folder inside the blue folder. Bilingual students reading above Level N use the DRA kit in Spanish. Bilingual teachers are to record the DRA level. A DRA form comes with the system and can be placed in the white folder as well.
- ✓ All teachers in grades 3-5 including Read 180 should include the RI Progress to College and Career report.

Writing/Procedures:

- ✓ All teachers will refer to the rubrics for each mode of writing to score writing performance tasks throughout the year including the Pre/Post (Fall/Spring) writing sample. Teachers should assign levels appropriately on the green Pre/Post Elementary Writing Assessment sheet and include both samples in the folder.
- ✓ Since this is a monitoring device, each year's teacher should have access to the writing samples and reading proficiency growth. The information gleaned should be used for both enrichment and AIS services. To that end, pre and post writing assessments for the school year should be attached to the green sheet, placed in the blue folder, and put in the child's cum folder. This will enable the teacher to have easy access to the information when monitoring the child's progress and when sharing this information with parents. For students entering grade 6, the current year's pre and post writing assessment and the RI Reading Performance Report should be placed in the blue folder and sent up with the cum. For below basic students, the last reading record is also requested.
- ✓ Because the classroom Workfolio is a collection of work that is meaningful and shows both progress and achievement, it is suggested that the student work be sent home with a letter to parents at the end of the year. For grade 5 students, please send home all pre and post writing assessments from previous years. Keep them attached to the respective green sheet and include the cover letter. Sending the writing assessments home will afford parents a wonderful opportunity to look at their child's literacy development over the years.
- ✓ If a child leaves the District, the Elementary Reading/Writing Folder should be placed in the child's Cum record.

Regardless of when a child enters the building, two on-demand writing samples are required in the folder as well as the child's Guided Reading Independent and Instructional levels noted.

All information on the Bilingual/ENL Purple/Pink folders must be updated. Teachers should include the home language questionnaire, parent permission letter, parent notification letter, NYSESLAT reports, and any other pertinent information relating to Bilingual/ENL services. * The forms for new entrants read as follows: ELL/MLL Student Placement Form, Entitlement Letter, Bilingual/ENL Evaluation Placement Form, and the NYSITELL Answer sheet. Please refer to the Bilingual/ENL Protocol Handbook Appendix.

Essential Components of an ENL/Bilingual Classroom Checklist

Classroom Environment & Instruction

♥ KNOW your students

- ♥ Interactive Word Walls in both Languages
- ♥ Print Rich Environment - Color Code English and Spanish areas – Room must be labeled – Student work need to be displayed
- ♥ Family Literacy Project/Reading Logs - Grades K-2
- ♥ Glossaries/Dictionaries Use - Grades 3-5
- ♥ Standards-based lesson objectives are clear and displayed
 - Language and Content Objectives need to be visible for students and observers
 - Classroom needs to reflect the curriculum being taught
- ♥ Binder and/or Folder Indicating Students' Fountas & Pinnell and/or DRA
- ♥ Reading Proficiency Levels in English and Spanish when applicable
- ♥ Writing Folders including On Demand Personal Narratives and Assessment Folders (including math) are accessible. Date students' writing pieces & present evidence on the use of scoring rubrics.
- ♥ Reading / Writing Journals
- ♥ Conference Notes
- ♥ Lesson Plans – Submit to Drop Box or send a hard copy Bilingual/ENL Department on a weekly basis
- ♥ Use of District adopted instructional materials and supplemental resources
- ♥ Lessons need to include all four language modalities: listening, speaking, reading and writing
- ♥ Students need to speak in complete sentences. *It is important to recognize students' stages of language proficiency and understand language production expectations.
- ♥ Instructional groups and differentiation of instruction are present by language proficiency levels, cooperative groups and/or individual needs.
- ♥ Instructional modifications that are appropriate and reflect grade and language proficiency levels of students: paraphrasing, use of prompts/sentence starters, use of idioms and figurative language
- ♥ There is evidence of scaffolding strategies: modeling, think alouds, visuals/graphic organizers, increased wait time for student responses, frequent comprehension checks, clarification/feedback and contextualized vocabulary instruction
- ♥ Vocabulary words need definition and visuals to accompany them when appropriate
- ♥ Student prior knowledge is used to connect new concepts and skills
- ♥ Adjust instruction based on on-going formative assessment
- ♥ No Round Robin Reading
- ♥ Guided Reading Groups meet with teacher on a daily basis
- ♥ Questioning techniques need to go beyond the "simplistic" – Questions should encourage critical thinking, deeper understanding and draw reasonable inferences (keep in mind students' language proficiency levels).
- ♥ Include many opportunities for students to write on a daily basis – i.e. Reading responses
- ♥ Students need frequent opportunities to Turn and Talk, Discuss and Write about the lesson
- ♥ All math lessons need concrete example and ample opportunities for students to practice. The use of manipulatives at the elementary classroom is essential for an effective lesson.
- ♥ Teacher assistants need to meet with teachers to decide on how to best work with students. It is important to maximize the time TA's work with students.

Grading Guidelines for Bilingual and ENL Students

- ELLs/MLLs must be graded using the same grading system as other students
- Students must be graded based on the mastery of the standards
- Report cards should be completed, collaboratively, between the Gen. Ed and ENL teachers (if applicable)
- Please indicate in the comments section if the grading is based on Spanish or English instruction

New York State Next Generation English Language Arts Learning Standards

In 2015, New York State (NYS) began a process of review and revision of its current English Language Arts \(ELA\) Learning Standards adopted in January 2011. The New York State Next Generation English Language Arts Learning Standards (Revised 2017) were developed through numerous phases of public comment as well as virtual and face-to-face meetings with committees consisting of NYS educators, teachers of English Language Learners/Multilingual Learners and Students with Disabilities, parents, curriculum specialists, school administrators, college professors, and experts in cognitive research. These revised standards reflect the collaborative efforts and expertise among all constituents involved.

The New York State Next Generation English Language Arts Learning Standards (Revised 2017) consist of revisions, additions, deletions, vertical movement, and clarifications of the current English Language Arts Standards. They are defined as the knowledge, skills, and understanding that individuals can and do habitually demonstrate over time when exposed to high-quality instructional environments and learning experiences.

New York State Next Generation English Language Arts Learning Standards Crosswalks

<http://www.nysed.gov/curriculum-instruction/teachers/next-generation-ela-learning-standards-crosswalks>

The crosswalk documents are a reference tool for educators and parents to efficiently compare the changes between the 2011 New York State P-12 Common Core Learning Standards for ELA and the 2017 Next Generation English Language Arts Learning Standards. The crosswalks can assist educators in the preliminary work required in assessing the scope of the content changes and the impact those changes will have on student learning, locally devised curriculum, instruction and instructional resources. While the crosswalks are valuable as a reference, they do not substitute for a deeper, more comprehensive understanding of the New York State Next Generation English Language Arts Learning Standards.

The Grade-level Crosswalk uses the full text of both sets of standards so that readers can review and compare the two sets side-by-side. Strike-through and bolded text can be seen throughout in order to highlight content differences and wording modifications between the two sets of standards.

New York State Bilingual Common Core Initiative

New York State Bilingual Common Core Initiative

Beginning in Spring 2012, NYSED launched the Bilingual Common Core Initiative to develop new English as a Second Language and Native Language Arts Standards aligned to the Common Core. As a result of extensive research and a three year process, NYSED has developed two sets of resources known as New Language Arts Progressions (NLAP) and Home Language Arts Progressions (HLAP) for every NYS Common Core Learning Standard (CCLS) in every grade. The NLAP and HLAP provide a framework for teachers to ensure that students in English as a New Language and Bilingual Education programs are meeting the CCLS. The Progressions include five levels of language proficiency and demonstrate a trajectory of language learning and teaching.

Why the Change?

Terminology is reflective of NYS's multilingual student population and diverse ways in which languages are learned and taught in NYS. New levels align with research about stages of language and literacy development. See Theoretical Foundations document for more information.

Developed in consultation with a New York State Steering Committee and a National Advisory Group of ELL experts, this document details the research and theory that underlies NYS's theory of language development that guides the Initiative's New and Home Language Arts Progressions.

Participates using key words and familiar phrases. Uses present tense verbs.	Speech Emergence 1-3 yrs. Phrases or short sentences. Good comprehension. Can produce simple sentences. Makes grammar & pronunciation errors. Frequently misunderstands jokes.	Intermediate Fluency 3-5 yrs. Longer and more complex sentences. Excellent comprehension. Makes few grammatical errors.	Advanced Fluency 5-7 yrs. Near native-like.
	EVALUATION Appraise, argue, assess, attach, choose, compare, defend, estimate, judge, predict, rate, select, support, value, evaluate	Teacher mismatches animal with its environment and asks: Is this the right environment? Find the right environment.	What are the best materials for the duck to build a nest?	What makes a good home for a bear? (Examine settings and evaluate: "A cave makes a good home.")	What would happen if you put a worm in the desert?
	SYNTHESIS Arrange, assemble, collect, compose, construct, create, design, develop, formulate, manage, organize, plan, prepare, propose, set up	Point to the animals that live in the soil.	Say the names of the animals that live in the soil.	How could you change a scorpion so it could swim?	What would a clam need to survive in the desert?
	ANALYSIS Analyze, appraise, calculate, categorize, compare, contrast, criticize, differentiate, discriminate, distinguish, examine, experiment, question, test	Show me an animal that cannot live in the forest.	Name the parts of a fish that help it live in the water.	How are raccoons and squirrels the same? How are they different?	How does a bear use its claws to catch fish? Gather berries?
	APPLICATION Apply, choose, demonstrate, dramatize, employ, illustrate, interpret, operate, practice, schedule, sketch, solve, use	Show me what would happen if we put the fish in the desert.	Tell me what would happen if we put a fish in the desert.	How could you change the body of a fish to make it fly?	How would you capture and transport scorpions to a zoo?
COMPREHENSION Classify, describe, discuss, explain, express, identify, indicate, locate, recognize, report, restate, review, select, translate	Show me where a deer lives.	Tell me which animals eat meat.	Why is a toad the color it is?	Explain how a snake catches its prey.	How would a deer camouflage itself in the forest during the winter? In the desert?
KNOWLEDGE Arrange, order, define, duplicate, label, list, name, recognize, relate, recall, repeat, reproduce	Where is the raccoon?	What is the name of this animal?	What are the body parts of a turtle?	Give the definition of a mammal.	Why do fish need gills to live in the water? How do gills work?

Language Objectives with Expressive Verbs and Specified Language Targets

2011 Kate Kinsella, Ed. D. and Tonya Ward Singer

Related to Reading Standards:

Students will...

- Make predictions using future tense, and text feature vocabulary (e.g. headings, captions).
- Formulate pre-reading questions using appropriate question structure.
- Articulate main idea and details using key vocabulary: main idea, detail.
- Prioritize arguments in a text using target adjectives: important, essential, or significant.

Linguistic Scaffolds for Writing Effective Language Objectives

2011 Kate Kinsella, Ed. D. and Tonya Ward Singer

An effectively written language objective:

- Stems from the linguistic demands of a standards-based lesson task
- Focuses on high-leverage language that will serve students in other contexts
- Uses active verbs to name functions/purposes for using language in a specific student task
- Specifies target language necessary to complete the task
- Emphasizes development of expressive language skills, speaking, and writing, without neglecting listening and reading

Sample Language Objectives:

- I can articulate main idea and details using target vocabulary: topic, main idea, detail.
- I can describe a character's emotions using precise adjectives.
- I can revise a paragraph using correct present tense and conditional verbs.
- I can report a group consensus using past tense citation verbs: determined, concluded.
- I can use present tense persuasive verbs to defend a position: maintain, contend.

Language Objective Frames:

- I can (function: active verb phrase) using (language target).
- I can use (language target) to (function: active verb phrase).

Active Verb Bank to Name Functions for Expressive Language Tasks

Ask	Define	Identify	Predict	State
Compose	Describe	Justify	React to	Summarize
Compare	Discuss	Label	Read	Rephrase

- I can articulate events in sequence...
- I can state opinions about...

Sample Noun Phrases Specifying Language Targets

Task Oriented Question Construction Wheel Based on Bloom's Taxonomy.

Academic Language Functions and Demands

Academic language offers students ways to participate in their learning.

Language Functions: The content and language focus of the learning task represented by the active verbs within the learning outcomes.

- WHAT STUDENTS DO

Language Demands: Specific ways that academic language (vocabulary, discourse, syntax) is used by students to participate in learning task through reading, writing, listening, and/or speaking to demonstrate their understanding.

- TOOLS STUDENTS USE TO PARTICIPATE IN THEIR LEARNING

- Vocabulary: Includes words and phrases that are used within disciplines including: (1) words and phrases with subject-specific meanings that differ from meanings used in everyday life (e.g., table); (2) general academic vocabulary used across disciplines (e.g., compare, analyze, evaluate); and (3) subject-specific words defined for use in the discipline.
- Discourse: includes the structures of written and oral language, as well as how members of the discipline talk, write, and participate in knowledge construction. Discipline-specific discourse has distinctive features or ways of structuring oral or written language (text structures) that provide useful ways for the content to be communicated.
- Syntax: The set of conventions for organizing symbols, words, and phrases together into structures (e.g., sentence frames, graphs, tables).

Planning a Lesson: Begin with the end in mind! Start with content standards and objectives. What are the verbs? What are students expected to do with language? What will they produce to show they've done it?

- Identify the language function: content and language objectives/"I can..." / "Students will..."
- Identify the language demands.
- Identify the performance task/assessment/success criteria.

ACCOUNTABLE TALK holds students accountable:

Accountable to the Learning Community is about how students talk to and with one other. When they speak, they speak loudly and clearly so everyone can hear. If not, chances are they'll be asked politely to repeat/explain. When students listen, they do not simply think about what they will say next. They focus on classmates' contributions so they can understand, challenge, build upon, and refine one another's ideas. "Can anyone repeat what Susan said so everyone can hear?" "Does anyone agree or disagree? If so, please share your thoughts." "Does anyone want to add on? "Can someone please elaborate upon Miguel's response?"

- Careful and respectful listening to one other
- Using and building on/elaborating upon one another's' ideas
- Paraphrasing and seeking clarification
- Respectful disagreement
- Using sentence stems/frames/prompts

Accountable to Accurate Knowledge is about what students discuss. They respond/make claims and try to be as specific and accurate as possible. "Can you show me how you got that answer?" "What is your basis for that conclusion?" "Where did you see that in the text?" So, Accountability to Accurate Knowledge is about getting the facts straight—individually and as a community.

- Being as specific and accurate as possible
- Resisting the urge to say just "anything that comes to mind."
- Getting the facts straight
- Challenging questions that require textual evidence

Accountable to Rigorous Thinking is about using that accurate knowledge to build a logical and coherent line of argument. Students use sound reasoning, as well as evidence, to back up their claims. "Since you seem to disagree with what is stated in the text, what lead you to change your view?" "What's your reasoning behind that explanation?"

- Building arguments
- Linking claims and evidence in logical ways
- Working to make statements clear
- Checking the quality of claims and arguments

COLLINS WRITING PROGRAM

Five Types of Writing

Type 1: Capture Ideas

Type One writing gets ideas on paper—brainstorming. Type One is timed and requires a minimum number of items or lines. Questions and/or guesses are permitted. Evaluated with a check (✓) or minus (-). One draft.

Type 2: Respond Correctly

Type Two writing shows that the writer knows something about a topic or has thought about the topic. It is a correct answer to a specific question, graded as a quiz. One draft.

Type 3: Edit for FCAs

Type Three writing has substantive content and meets up to three specific standards called focus correction areas. It is read out loud and reviewed to see if the draft meets the following criteria: completes the assignment, is easy to read, and meets standards set by the focus correction areas. Revision and editing are done on the original. One draft.

Type 4: Peer Edit for FCAs

Type Four writing is Type Three writing that is read out loud and critiqued by another. Two drafts.

Type 5: Publish

Type Five writing is error free and of publishable quality. Multiple drafts.

For All Types

For all types, skip lines. For Types One and Two, label the type on top left-hand side of paper. For Types Three and Four, list focus correction areas on top left-hand side. Type Three and Four papers should be saved and used to practice editing skills.

Frequently Asked Questions FAQ

1. How do I decide what to teach in English and what to teach in Spanish?

- ✓ Please refer to the units of study chart
- ✓ Consider carefully the intellectual demand of concepts, students' familiarity with concepts in the home language or English, and the academic language required for using and mastering concepts.

2. Are the content areas taught in both English and Spanish?

- ✓ Yes, bilingual teachers are encouraged to use the Preview, View, Review method of instruction. That is, you may introduce a lesson in L1, teach it in L2, and review it in L1. Regardless of their proficiency level, students of English need to be exposed to academic language in English and Spanish.

3. What do I do if a student who does not speak Spanish is placed in my bilingual class?

- ✓ Reach out to the student's guidance counselor so he/she can access the student's CUM Folder for correct placement.
- ✓ Inform your Department Chairperson and/or building principal and the Bilingual/ENL Office.

4. How do I share instructional responsibilities using the Co-Teaching Model?

- ✓ Please refer to the Co-Teaching Handbook for Teachers of English Language Learners.

Resources - Glossaries for ELLs/MLLs Accommodations

<https://steinhardt.nyu.edu/metrocenter/resources/glossaries>

These glossaries are to PROVIDE PERMITTED TESTING ACCOMMODATIONS of ELL/MLL students. They should also be used for INSTRUCTION during the school year. These glossaries may be downloaded, printed and disseminated to educators, parents and ELLs/MLLs.

Bilingual glossaries are an essential and expected test accommodation for ELLs/MLLs in the State of New York. The languages of these glossaries cover the top 10 languages at the state level, with new languages added based on changing language populations in the NY State student demographic data.

Schools should provide testing accommodations to ELLs/MLLs, as needed, on all NYS ELA and content-area assessments (i.e., Mathematics, Science and Social Studies). Districts/schools must make all necessary arrangements to make these accommodations available for ELLs/MLLs who need them. Please click here for the New York State Office of Bilingual Education and World Languages Webpage on "Assessment and Testing Accommodations".

It is important that you attend the PARENT ORIENTATION so that you can learn about the different English Language Learner programs and services that are available for your child.

In New York State, schools are required to hold orientations for families of newly enrolled ELLs/MLLs to inform parents and guardians about the different ELL/MLL programs available in their schools or district. At the orientation, you will receive information and materials in your home language about ELL/MLL programs and you will be able to ask questions about ELL/MLL services, with assistance from an interpreter, if needed. At the end of the orientation, you will fill out an ELL/MLL Parent Orientation Checklist to confirm that you have the information needed to make decisions for your child. In addition, you will also receive an ELL/MLL Student Placement form that will allow you to make a final decision regarding the services that your child will receive. This information will be made available in your home language.

The PARENT ORIENTATION will be held on _____ at _____ at the following location: _____. Please arrive early so that we can be sure to start on time. If you cannot attend this orientation, please call _____ at _____ to schedule an appointment to discuss ELL/MLL programs available for your child. We look forward to a successful academic year for your child in our school. Should you have any questions concerning your child's program, please contact _____ at _____.

Dear Parent/Guardian,

Each spring, English Language Learners in Kindergarten through Grade 12 take part in the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT) as required by the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA). This year, a new version of the NYSESLAT was introduced reflecting New York's new learning standards and updated English language proficiency levels. Prior to the spring 2015 NYSESLAT, the proficiency levels were Beginning, Intermediate, Advanced, and Proficient. Starting with the spring 2015 NYSESLAT, the new proficiency levels are Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, Expanding, and Commanding. This report explains your child's scores and level.

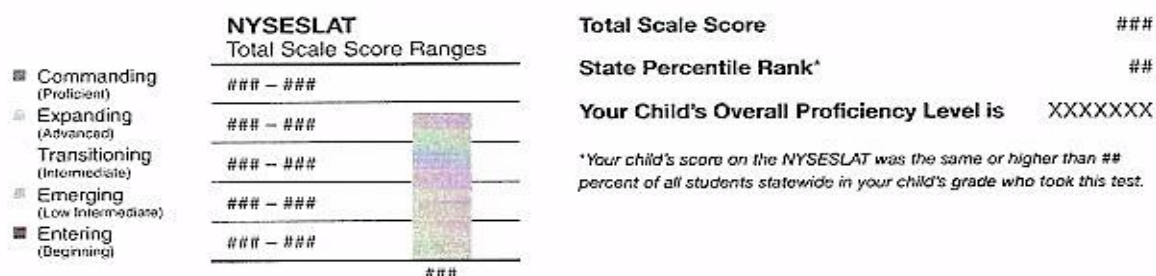

NYSESLAT scores and levels provide one of a variety of ways for parents and educators to understand a child's English language development. You are encouraged to use this report to discuss your child's proficiency in the English language with your child's teachers and/or school officials. If you would like more information about your child's performance on this year's test, please contact your child's school. Thank you for your continued partnership in your child's education.

For more information regarding the NYSESLAT, please see the resources located online at: <https://www.engageny.org/resource/spring-2015-nyeslat-resources>.

Your Child's Total Score and English Language Proficiency Level

In order to be considered Commanding (Proficient), students must meet two requirements: (1) their total scale score must be in the "Commanding" range, and (2) their scale score for each modality (Listening, Speaking, Reading, and Writing) must be at or above the minimum scale score required for an overall proficiency level of "Commanding." Thus, it is possible for a student's proficiency level to be Expanding even if their total scale score meets the Commanding range. In these cases, please refer to page two of this report and see the column entitled "Met Score for Commanding" for a "Yes" or "No." If applicable, this column will show you the modality (Listening, Speaking, Reading, and Writing) for which your child did not earn the required score.

Differences in students which may affect English language development (e.g., level of ELL services and level of literacy in home language) should be considered when interpreting scores.

These results cannot be compared directly to results from previous years.

Entering (Beginning)	Emerging (Low Intermediate)	Transitioning (Intermediate)	Expanding (Advanced)	Commanding (Proficient)
A student at the Entering level has great dependence on supports and structures to advance his or her academic language skills. As measured by the NYSESLAT, a student at this level has yet to meet the linguistic demands necessary to demonstrate proficiency in a variety of academic contexts within this grade level.	A student at the Emerging level has some dependence on supports and structures to advance his or her academic language skills. As measured by the NYSESLAT, a student at this level has yet to meet the linguistic demands necessary to demonstrate proficiency in a variety of academic contexts within this grade level.	A student at the Transitioning level shows some independence in advancing his or her academic language skills. As measured by the NYSESLAT, a student at this level has yet to meet the linguistic demands necessary to demonstrate proficiency in a variety of academic contexts within this grade level.	A student at the Expanding level shows great independence in advancing his or her academic language skills. As measured by the NYSESLAT, a student at this level is approaching the linguistic demands necessary to demonstrate proficiency in a variety of academic contexts within this grade level.	A student at the Commanding level is now designated as a Former ELL, and entitled to receive two years of continued ELL services. As measured by the NYSESLAT, a student at this level has met the linguistic demands necessary to demonstrate proficiency in a variety of academic contexts within this grade level.

The NYSESLAT measures four different language areas: Listening, Speaking, Reading, and Writing. The test is a combination of multiple-choice listening and reading questions, as well as speaking and writing responses. The NYSESLAT measures a student's ability to use academic English to succeed in classroom instruction. Your child's scores are provided below to assist you in understanding the degree to which your child is proficient in Listening, Speaking, Reading, and Writing. For comparison with students across New York State within your child's grade level, you will also find the State average scale score for each modality.

What's Next?

If your child scored at the "Commanding" (Proficient) English language proficiency level, he/she is no longer considered an English Language Learner (ELL), but is entitled to continue to receive Former ELL services and accommodations on State assessments for the next two school years. Former ELL services for these next two years will be determined by your child's teachers and/or school officials.

If your child scored "Entering" (Beginning), "Emerging" (Low Intermediate), "Transitioning" (Intermediate), or "Expanding" (Advanced), he/she is entitled to participate in a Bilingual Education and/or an English as a New Language (ENL) Program. Please see the chart below for the amount of time your child is entitled to according to his/her English language proficiency level:

Bilingual Education or English as a New Language Program Services
English Proficiency Level	Grades K-8	Grades 9-12
Entering (Beginning)	At least 360 minutes / week	At least 540 minutes / week
Emerging (Low Intermediate)	At least 360 minutes / week	At least 360 minutes / week
Transitioning (Intermediate)	At least 180 minutes / week	At least 180 minutes / week
Expanding (Advanced)	At least 180 minutes / week	At least 180 minutes / week

You are encouraged to discuss your child's test performance with his/her teacher and/or school officials.

You can obtain a complete and accurate picture of your child's strengths and needs, review classroom work, other test results, and progress reports with your child's teacher and/or school officials.

Learning Disabilities and Language Acquisition

Ideas to consider when suspecting a learning disability:

- Hypothesis that the causes of the student's learning difficulties are primarily external factors until data suggest otherwise and all plausible external factors have been ruled out.
- There are no tests that can definitively reveal whether a student has LD.
- Determine if instruction is appropriate. If most ELLs/MLLs or similar peers are thriving, then it is likely that instruction is appropriate. Conversely, if most ELLs/MLLs are showing little progress, then instruction needs to be changed to better meet their language and learning needs.

Some Similarities Between LD and Language Acquisition
Behaviors Associated w/ LD	Behaviors when Acquiring an L2
Difficulty following directions	Difficulty following directions because the directions were not well understood; it can be harder to remember directions in a second language.
Difficulty with phonological awareness	Difficulty auditorily distinguishing between sounds not in one's first language, or sounds that are presented in a different order.
Slow to learn sound-symbol correspondence	Confusion with sound-symbol correspondence when it is different than in one's first language. Difficulty pronouncing sounds not in the first language.
Difficulty remembering sight words	Difficulty remembering sight words when word meanings are not understood.
Difficulty retelling a story in sequence	Difficulty retelling a story in English without the expressive skills to do so; yet the student might understand more than s/he can convey (i.e., receptive skills in English might be stronger than expressive skills).
Confusion with figurative language	Confusion with figurative language, idioms, pronouns, conjunctions, and words with multiple meanings.
Slow to process challenging language	Slow to process challenging language because it is not well understood.
May have poor auditory memory	May seem to have poor auditory memory if sounds or words are unfamiliar or not well understood.
May have difficulty concentrating	Learning in a second language is mentally exhausting; therefore, ELLs may seem to have difficulty concentrating at times.
May seem easily frustrated	Learning in a second language can be frustrating.

Example of a Written Rationale A

Student: John Doe
I.D#: 123456
School: Loretta Park
Teacher: Jane Smith
Date: April 20, 2014
Ref: New Referral

- John is a kind boy who demonstrates good effort in class. His social strengths are that he works well with others (particularly partnerships) and he treats others with respect. He demonstrates command of BICS in English and communicates his ideas clearly. Academically, he demonstrates strength in math in the area of simple computation. In reading, he successfully uses pictures to sequence and answer questions with evidence, and make inferences using background knowledge. John enjoys non-fiction stories, particularly about science, and when stories are read aloud (when he is focused), he is eager to participate to share ideas and recall details.
- John needs a lot of support in the reading areas of decoding, fluency, and comprehension. John began the school year reading at level B in English and A in Spanish. He demonstrates more verbal command and understanding of information in English so remediation strategies in the area of reading have been provided in this language. John also receives small group remediation in math to provide support with number concepts such as place value, number patterns and comparisons. I also sit with John three times a week during writing to help him plan and write his ideas. We practice sounding out words as he writes and re-planning sentences by re-reading his work to help him remember his ideas.
- In the area of reading for the first two semesters, John was working in a small group of six students that also needed extra support in the areas of decoding, fluency, and comprehension. Like the other students in this group, John practiced individualized kindergarten and first grade sight words (based on high frequency word assessments), reviewed all sight and story words for each book read daily, and read books with one or two lines of text alongside detailed pictures or photographs. This group also focused on word-solving strategies such as segmenting, chunking, pictures clues (along with first letter sounds), and constant monitoring (“Does this sound right? Does it make sense?”) This group was also assigned a modified word study list each week for the spelling pattern studied whole class (5 words instead of 10). All grade 2 level benchmark assessments have been read aloud to this group in order to better assess reading comprehension and determine specific skills for future focus. Most of the students have shown differing amounts of progress since the first semester (increasing between 2 to 6 reading levels), and groups have been restructured in order to focus on the students’ individual needs.
- Despite these interventions strategies, John has remained at a reading level B in English (as of his March Fountas and Pinnell guided reading assessment). I feel that the intervention strategies used were ineffective because the reading group was too large for him. As further discussed below, John’s difficulty to maintain focus and retain and apply strategies has kept him from benefiting from a small group that “large”. He continues to need support with one to one word correspondence and sight word recognition, as he tends to depend greatly on segmenting as a decoding strategy.
- John has been receiving RTI services since March 26, 2014, the date of our first meeting. The focus of the intervention services provided is sight word recognition and retention. John’s group now consists of 2 students instead of 6 and he learns 6 new sight words each week (in addition to cumulative review). The methods used are flash card concentration, word building with magnetic letters and dictation for writing. John is tested each Friday using the same list of the first 50 high frequency words and has increased by 11 words. He sometimes misreads words of which he had previously demonstrated mastery but has begun to self-correct. He practices one to one word correspondence as text is read chorally and continues to demonstrate comprehension skills using picture cues. His parents and doctor have requested an academic evaluation for John and the process has been explained to him.

- In the area of math, John continues to receive AIS services inside the classroom each day in addition to the lesson presented. Re-teach and RTI pages are used in small group work and manipulatives when applicable (he tends to become very distracted with these and they therefore do not support learning effectively.) John demonstrates inconsistent progress in these areas as summative assessments are usually in text format with a lot of information on a page and extensive questions. I modify his work when possible. I continue to sit with John during writing. He is now demonstrating phonemic (as opposed to emerging) writing conventions and is beginning to work with more independence and less opposition. He used to copy words from the walls but now he is writing short stories, which is good progress. He still needs support with letter formation and how to use line space an area where he is resistant to change his habits.
- In terms of his behavior, John has extreme difficulty focusing and sitting still, even working one on one with me. He often plays with a pencil between his fingers and tells me he does so because “His head feels crazy.” One to one correspondence is difficult, as well as letter formation and letter order in simple word recognition. John jumps instead of walking in the hall, tends to bump into others, and does not acknowledge personal space on the carpet. John’s father has taken him to different doctors (clinician, neurologist) for evaluation, and also has tried vitamins to support focus. I filled out an ADHD survey and sent it home and continue to await the results (diagnosis). John has told me he is concerned that “He is going to doctors and they cannot find anything.” His father and I meet often and he has requested a formal academic evaluation.
- For the reasons listed above, I feel John should continue to receive ESL support.

Teacher: Jane Smith
Date: January 14, 2013
Ref: New Referral

- John has been an ELL/MLL student for the past two years. In Kindergarten, he was receiving bilingual services. This year, as a first grader, John is receiving ESL services. He is an intermediate ESL student attending ESL five times a week for a total of 360 minutes. On his most recent NYSESLAT Exam (April 2013) he scored the following: Listening-20, Speaking-23, Reading-10, & Writing-7. His environment in ESL consists of a small group instruction with a total of three students. Within our small group setting, he is self-motivated and willing to participate. John is a respectable student who always follows instructions. He is eager to please and always tries his best.
- However, even with just three students we have established a time for John to work one-on-one with an adult to reinforce lessons, strategies, skills, and to assist him in completing the task at hand. His confidence and strength is evident when instruction is one-on-one, interaction is verbal, lessons are modeled and scaffolded, and visuals are being used. I must add that John feels proud and a sense of accomplishment when assignments are finished.
- Writing: With writing, we are constantly focused on two objectives. Our goal has been to teach to write organized simple sentences while using proper sentence structure. However, at times John needs to be reminded of capitals and periods. In addition, his sentences are usually difficult to understand because of his omitted words and invented spelling. There is no sound/symbol relationship in his spelling and words are usually way off. The words John usually spells correctly are simple sight words, such as the, to, & of to name a few. Also, if left independently, expressing ideas on paper seems to be a struggle and his assignments are usually not completed. In order to complete assignments, the majority of his writing activities have been modified and assisted by me or my T.A. on a one-to-one basis.
- Reading: John is currently reading and comprehending on a KNDG level. His independent F&P level is a "C." While reading on his level, John is able to understand the gist of the story. However, he does not read with confidence or accuracy. When challenged by a word, his decoding is weak. John guesses on difficult words instead of using strategies being taught. Usually his guess is way off and the word does not make sense in the sentence. To assist John with tricky words, we have taught him to use beginning and ending sounds, blends, digraphs, chunks, context clues, and illustrations. For comprehension, I always provide him with an overview of the text, vocabulary words are discussed, and a purpose is always set. Also, John is taught pre-reading strategies, such as using background knowledge, making predictions, asking questions, and scanning the book.
- Listening: I feel that John is inconsistent when it comes to listening. During good days, John understands the task at hand, is able to follow directions, pays very close attention in class, participates a lot more, and is able to retain information from one day to the next. Unfortunately, there are days when John has difficulty staying focused. During these days, he fails to pay attention to the lesson, is unable to follow single or multi-step directions, and is unable to recall recent information. Usually, directions and instruction need to be explained or simplified.
- Speaking: With speaking, John needs to improve his academic and verbal expression. At times, his ability to communicate and fully express his ideas is hindered. He does not clearly articulate or express his ideas well to peers or adults. He seems to pause to gather his thoughts before speaking. It seems as though he has a constant battle/struggle with what he says and wants to say.

Pre-Conference Discussion

Agenda and Meeting Notes

Both evaluator and teacher should review the following questions prior to the pre-conference. For the teacher, the “preview” will spur more informed preparation of the lesson plan and other artifacts, and set the stage for what to expect during the pre-conference. For the evaluator, the questions help to frame the range of evidence one might expect to help to frame the range of evidence one might expect to collect through the review of the lesson plan, other artifacts of teacher practice, and in conversation with the teacher being evaluated.

- Identify the curriculum standards to be taught and how they connect to other standards within or outside of the discipline. (2,4)
- How has student achievement data informed your instruction, and how does this lesson specifically address the needs identified from a review of the data? (1,3,2.5, 5.2)
- What do you want students to learn as a result of this lesson? (2.1, 2.2, 2.3, 2.4, 2.5)
- How will you know if students are learning the expected outcome? (5.1, 5.2)
- How do you plan to cognitively engage students in the content? What will you do? What will the students do? (2.2, 2.3, 2.5, 2.6)
- How will differentiation be used to meet student needs? (2.3, 2.4, 2.6, 5.1, 5.2)
- What assessments will be used? (5.1)
- How will you use the results of assessments to adjust instruction? (5.2)
- On what areas would you like specific feedback?

PARENTS' BILL OF RIGHTS FOR NEW YORK STATE'S ENGLISH LANGUAGE LEARNERS

The New York State Education Department (NYSED) Commissioner Regulations Part 154 provides you – the parents/guardians of English Language Learners (ELLs) – with:

1. The right for your children to receive a free public education in the school district where you live, regardless of your or your children's immigration status (e.g., whether your family members are citizens, immigrants, or undocumented) and the language that you or your children speak.
2. The right to enroll your children in school without being asked to provide information or paperwork which may reveal your or your children's immigration status. You cannot be asked to provide a social security card or number, an immigration visa or visa status, or citizenship documents or citizenship status.
3. The right under federal law to have a qualified interpreter/translator in your preferred language for critical interactions with the school district.
4. The right to have your children in a Bilingual Education (BE) program when there are 20 or more grade-level students that speak the same home/primary language.¹
5. The right to written notice in English and your preferred language that your children have been identified as ELLs and will be placed in a Bilingual Education or English as a New Language (formerly called English as a Second Language) program.²
6. The right to a high quality orientation session, provided by your school district, that focuses on state standards, tests, and school expectations for ELLs, as well as the program goals and requirements for Bilingual Education and English as a New Language. This orientation must occur before final school program placement, and must be in your preferred language.
7. The right to receive information about your children's English language development, and also about their home language development if they are in a Bilingual Education program.
8. The right to meet with school staff at least once a year, in addition to other generally required meetings, to discuss your children's overall learning and language development progress.
9. The right for your children to be placed in a Bilingual Education or English as a New Language program within 10 days of enrollment, and the right to opt out of a Bilingual Education program. At a minimum, your children must receive English as a New Language instruction.
10. The right for your children to transfer to another school in your district that offers Bilingual Education in your language, if your children's original school does not offer such a program.
11. The right for your children to have equal access to all programming and services offered by the school district, appropriate to age and grade level including those required for graduation, and to all school programs available to other students.
12. The right for your children to receive all core content instruction, and to learn English and other subjects such as Reading/Language Arts, Math, Science, and Social Studies at the same academic level as all other children. Being entitled to ELL services does not limit the ability to get core content instruction.
13. The right for your children to have full access to extracurricular activities (afterschool clubs, sports, etc.). Being entitled to ELL services does not limit the ability to take part in extracurricular activities.

¹ In New York City, per the Aspire Consent Decree, a BE program is required in grades K-8 if 15 or more grade-level students speak the same language in two contiguous grades. If there is not a sufficient number of qualifying students in a school, but there are within its district, the district must provide a BE program.

² All ELLs develop their English skills through "English as a New Language" courses. In addition, those in a Bilingual Education program also take Home Language Arts. Core content area courses (i.e., Math, Science, and Social Studies) are offered in a Bilingual Education program in both English and their home language. Those who are not in a Bilingual Education program take core content area courses in English.
