School Mission and Description:

Seattle Preparatory School is a Catholic, Jesuit college preparatory school with an enrollment of 765 students. ### Job Description:

We are seeking a part-time Science instructor for the 2021-2022 school year, with specific background and interest in teaching Chemistry.

Science Department Mission:

Science is a method of coming to know; the process itself teaches the need for exploration. The science classes at Seattle Prep teach the importance of making connections through exploration in an attempt to instill a spirit of adventure and wonder in every student. This philosophy stresses a scientific process for exploration of the world as God reveals it to us.

As we guide students down this path, their experiences within the classroom help them become scientifically literate. To do this, we emphasize the processes, content, and skills embedded within science. Our students gain an understanding and appreciation of the workings of the physical world, and an openness to growth that leads to the desire for life-long learning. Students also learn to recognize the appropriate uses of technology and, in this way, the importance of ethical decision-making becomes significant.
