THANK YOU!!!

We are so grateful to Karen Porter for organizing meals during Parent Teacher Conferences. Thanks to all parents who contributed to the delicious Indian food Tuesday evening and Breakfast for Dinner spread on Thursday, SLCSE teachers really, really appreciate you!

INSPIRING THE NEXT GENERATION OF FEMALES IN AVIATION

Fourteen 7th and 8th grade girls travelled to Houston last week as part of a Delta created WING flight program to attract women to aviation and aerospace fields. The flight was completely female-pilots, TSA, dispatchers, everyone. Students got to listen to astronaut, Jeanette Epps, speak about perseverance, tour mission control, and attempt rover robotics challenges. Thanks for the incredible opportunity Delta! The Today Show was on board also, and produced a wonderful story that you can watch here.

RIO MESA TRIP

Students in Advanced Science Research and Dark Skies classes visited the University of Utah's Rio Mesa field research site for three days of science, nature, and good times. While there, students explored desert plant adaptations, examined migrating song birds, participated in plant field studies, shared scientific research, and gazed at the beautiful night sky.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Ahitza Flores Beltran and Amber Flores Beltran will both receive awards from Artes de Mexico en Utah for their artwork next week. They were named as winners contest "Nuestras Raices" "Our Roots" to acknowledge the "International Year of the Indigenous Languages". The selected artworks will be published in a book along with the winners of the poetry and prose. This book is sponsored by the Salt Lake Community College and the Community Writing Center.
