“Howl”

Amara woke up on her bed covered in sweat. She kept having the same dream over and over again. She sat up and looked out her window. It was getting gloomy and it looked like a storm was brewing. She got up to get dressed. When she went downstairs, she saw her mom cooking. She clearly wasn't paying attention when Amara went outside. When Amara was out the door the wind was blowing hard. She went over to her big and thick tree. She sat down, leaning against it. The tree was slowly losing its leaves. Then Amara heard a long shrill howl from somewhere near. Thunder crackled overhead and her mom was standing at the door, telling her to come inside. When she came in she sat down to eat breakfast with her little brother, Steven. Ms. Meow came over and sat on Amara's lap. Did you do that, Ms. Meow? Amara thought to the fluffy white cat as she thought of the howl she had heard. It could have been the dog next door... Amara then heard Ms. Meow do a long innocent purr and hopped off of Amaras lap, as if she was offended. Amara dumped the rest of her Golden pebbles into the sink and watched T.V. But she must have dozed off because soon her father woke her up. “Is something wrong?” She asked him. For a moment he just stared. “Of course not.” He replied. He was still in his uniform. Clearly he had just come back from work. Then Steven came out of his room. “DADDY!!” He screamed. Amara's mom then peeked out of the kitchen. “Who's hungry?”

Soon they had eaten grilled cheese with chocolate milk. When she was done she washed her plate and started looking out her bedroom window. Amaras eye caught a pair of green glowey eyes in the shadows. It was in a dog shape and Amara couldn't help but stare in shock. She backed away from the window but then tripped and fell. It hurt but she still couldn't get the picture of the glowing eyes. She didn't plan to tell how she got hurt and deffintly didn't talk about the half-dead dog. The next day Amara went to the candy store with a few quarters in her jacket pocket. That day was sunny and she happily walked down the road. When she got there she bought a mini bag of donuts. As she walked home she heard a moan and the glowing eyes appeared around the corner of the fence. Amara dropped the donuts and ran the rest of the way home. After that day she always left a donut out on the front porch and the half-dead dog never came back to bother Amara again. :)

"No! You cannot do that!" My mom was screaming at my dad over the phone, again. "Is this fair to me!? You cannot use my week! Oh I'll tell you why! Because it's my week!"

I hate when they do this. I rolled my eyes, grabbed a poptart and headed for the front door. My parents are divorced, and yet, they still fight!

My dad, Xavier, is getting married to his fiancé, Camille. And he wants to use one of my mom's weeks to get married. That means the week I get to stay at my mom's house, is the week they get married. But my mom's not going. She's only upset about this because I have to go to their wedding, but my mom's not coming

"I will call my lawyer because you are breaking the rules on the divorce paper! Yeaah you better!" Mom slammed her phone on the table. She's been doing that a lot lately. I'm surprised the screen hasn't cracked yet.

"I'm sorry. Oh and he's gonna move his wedding date to next Saturday... Finally..." Mom mumbled.

"Have a good day at school. I love you!" She hugged me. Hard. But I guess she needed it more than I did. "Bye Mom!"

As I walk home from school, I realize it's... quiet. I don't hear Mom yelling as I walk toward the porch. I grabbed the house key out of my backpack and unlocked the door.

"Mom?" No response. She must be sleeping in her room. I plop on the couch and get out my homework, my book report, and a jar of nutella. Yummy nutella, ugh homework.

At the top of my book report I put my name. Jamie.

I love my name. It's simple and pretty. My mom wanted to name me Darby but I'm glad she didn't. My dad chose Jamie and it kind of stuck.

I have brown hair that goes to my shoulders and gray-ish blue eyes. My favorite color is purple and I put it everywhere!

Now I need the book that I'm doing the report on,- I'm supposed to draw the cover- but... I left it in my room.

Aww, the couch is so comfy! Uuugh! Whatever.

I slouched off to my room, but what I found next is definitely not what I expected. There was a purple box with a white ribbon tied over it, sitting on my bed.

Should I open it? I examined the top of the box, where my name was printed in dark, bold, purple letters. I guess I should? I carefully untied the white ribbon and lifted off the lid. There was a painting in the box. The painting said, "The Fright of Night" in smudged, red letters. Ok...? I thought, confused.

A painting? But why? Just then, one side of the frame fell off. Jeesh! This thing is old! I took the rest of the frame off. Something fell to the floor. A key? Now my mind was super confused.

Why did mom give me a key? Is it even mom who gave it to me? I need to ask her!

"Hey mom? Mom? Hello! Mom?" I checked in her room, the kitchen, the living room, but she wasn't there! Her car was still in the driveway, though. Maybe she went on a walk. I'll make dinner while I'm waiting. I'll make pasta. Her favorite!

After I finished making dinner, I set some on a plate for mom, and on a plate for me. I ate dinner and looked at the clock at the same time. Where is she? After dinner I got ready for bed. She still didn't come back.

I realized how late it was so I hopped in bed and went to sleep.

"Grrrrr....." The sound made me shift in bed. Then I realized, why is my bed so hard? I peeked my eyes open. Wait. Where is my bed?! I sat up. I was on the floor!

"Grrrowllll..." Said a voice. I screamed.

What is that?! Right then I wanted to run. But I couldn't. I was so scared I couldn't even move.

"Aaaahhh!"

But I didn't say that. I was frozen and shocked. Someone else was screaming. Who said that?

"Help!"

Who said that?! Wait. Mom! That's her voice!

"Mom?" I screamed into the darkness.

"Jamie!" My mom shouted back.

But then there was a new voice.

"Where are you Jamie?"

It was dad!

"I'm here! But-"

Before I could finish talking, something grabbed me. Shook me. Placed me on a tall platform. I couldn't even scream. I was terrified. It was so high, if I fell, it would be over.

A flickering light shined in the middle of the room. I could see my parents! They were tied on two long thick poles. They were on either side of the light.

"Jamie!" They both screamed. Then, out of nowhere, the lights turned off, then back on and the monster appeared in the middle of the room.

I couldn't believe it. The monster... It was me! But it had white eyes and sharp claws. Am I a monster? That thing that brought me here looks like me!

Then it hit me. It is me. I mean, that thing might be my inner conscience. I didn't even realize how angry I was at my parents.

Now that I think about it, I am angry. For them getting divorced, constantly fighting, breaking me into two parts! I mean, when I change houses every week, it's not just changing houses. Its changing backpacks, changing nicknames, even changing identities! When your parents are divorced, how can you ever feel whole?

And that's exactly what I told them.

“And you two still fight! You don’t even live together anymore!”

As more and more words came pouring out of my mouth, the monster grew larger, and stronger. I didn’t realize this until it was too late. The beast was overpowering. My mom was crying, my dad was staring at the floor like it was all the sudden interesting. I saw a tear drop from his face and finally I realized what I was doing.

It went silent. My mom softly whispered, “I’m sorry...”

Then my dad spoke, choking on his words. “We’ve been bad parents. We didn’t even consider what we were doing to you. We’re sorry, Jamie.”

I had never heard my parents say anything like that before. It meant alot. But before I could respond, the key from the painting fell out of my pajama pocket. I had stuffed it in my pocket before I went to bed last night in case I had an idea of where it might fit in the middle of the night.

The monster grabbed the key. Then crumbled it in its hands. The monster had grown so huge, that it was smashing everything.

"I'm sorry I didn't talk to you about this sooner!" I had to scream for them to hear me because the beast was howling in pain and smashing everything.

"No it's our fault!" My mom sobbed.

"We've been bad parents and that's not fair to you!" My dad repeated.

"We love you more than anything in this world! We would never wanna hurt you!" My mom screamed.

With every word that came out of our mouths, the monster grew smaller and weaker.

"I love you both..." I whispered. I didn't have to scream anymore because the monster shrank out of existence. The platform I was standing on lowered and I untied my parents.

We went into a group hug. Hugged each other. Tight. We all needed it. Mom smelled like, well, mom. Dad smelled like dad. We sat there on the floor for a minute. Hugging each other as a family.

Finally, I asked, "How do we get back home?"

Then the smashed key started glowing. We all got up and walked over to it. It was smashed into three pieces. We all picked up one piece. Then, as if the key was magnetic, the three pieces flew together and then I saw black.

When I woke up I was on the couch and my parents were next to me. They were still a little scratched and bruised from the monster but nothing too serious. I hugged them both and they woke up. They didn't say anything, just hugged me back.

They don't agree on much but they do both love me. They're still divorced and I'm still going to a different house every week, but I love them both. My Mom and Dad are getting along way better than before. All for me.

You could say I'm split in half, between my Mom and Dad, but I'm more comfortable with it now. I might actually like it this time. I love my family even if it's different from others.

The hidden Monsters of the Universe

One Day a person known as Kaos was digging at night looking for fossils,little did he know that he was going to find a hidden city under the crust of the earth,Kaos continued mining and found a deep hole,which he tried to climb down but out of nowhere a loud screeching noise came from it and he fell to the ground where he saw the ruins of an ancient city,which was long gone.When Kaos finally woke up he saw what looked to be a UFO in the middle of the city,he investigated and accidentally activated the security alarm and was transferred to an alien planet.

When Kaos woke up he found a weird alien creature running from him,it said, "It is the glorb monster coming to eat us!"At first Kaos did not understand it,but he knew it was terrified by him for some reason.But then he heard the same screech from earlier,but closer,then Kaos looked behind himself and realized what they were running from,so he ran too,and he did it fast!The thing ate entire buildings as Kaos ran,So kaos dug a hole and it fell to the bottom and was stuck in the hole so,the creatures came back and gave Kaos a universal translator so he could tell what they were saying,they said, "thank you,take this for saving us"and so they gave Kaos a monster destroyer.

He managed to be promoted to emperor of the Alier empire,so he decided to stay on the planet,but the problems were not over yet,because the monster from earlier jumped out of the hole and chased them he tried the monster destroyer but it did not work because of the monster's acid spit destroyed it,so he hit it with the shovel and it fell on the floor,knocked out,the monster fell into the same hole from earlier.Later the civilization went to earth and re-established the old colony which was made after the first life came to earth,they explained it died after an earthquake and the meteor.So now even though everything still looked back to normal, but they did not expect more of the creatures to come and so they were over run, the creatures looked like dark sludge and were close to humans without the sludge, he tried to whack it with the shovel but the second the shovel came in contact with the sludge it became sludge and added to the creature's body, destroying the trusty shovel so he did not know what to do, so when he was touched he slowly became one of them, then he figured out why they looked so humanoid, they were sludgified humans!

Chapter 2

The fall of Earth

Before he turned to one he got a platinum shovel and chopped the sludge off, saving him for another day, then he did the same to the others and decided that they should stay to help the aliens regrow their civilization, but for now they all were just standing there wondering what just happened and why were they on this alien planet, for now they helped but the sludges were about to resludgify them destroying them a second time eventually they would have to set up their new home base at the colony because too many of them became sludgified monsters, soon the monsters made it to earth and civilization across the world collapsed because too many important people became sludgified, this was the end of the world! Everyone ran to apocalypse shelters but since only platinum and soil was invincible they were doomed, some ran to the colony to save themselves because it was all platinum so they were fine but nobody else was. Now they needed to try to rebuild the planet earth while few survived, but it was enough to rebuild society. For now the monsters ruled earth, Zombies and Dragons were now roaming the planet, well not real zombies actually just sludge ones, but they are still terrifying nonetheless, so it does not matter what it is or what it does it is terrifying, "Hey kaos, you alive?" said Bob, "yeah, get down here the zombies are coming!" "Ok I am coming down." Then Bob came down to see where the last humans are and said, "Ok I was kinda expecting more, but this is the last we got." Bob said, then they closed the platinum hatch to keep themselves from the zombies and dragons, "Wait where did the zombies and dragons come from?" said Bob "The dragons came from the experiment to remake dinosaurs which turned into dragons and the zombies are from a different planet,at least the sludge part of it." said Kaos,After the earth fell,the humans were going to need to create something that will protect them from it,so they got platinum and made it into armour,but it crushed the user,so they just used soil which is also resistant to the sludge,Then they sent the first people on an expedition to what is left of earth.They saw that not much was left,they realized they were resistant to sludgification,but not the dragon fire,so they needed some mark 2 armour,so they discussed what is fire proof,they figured out about a new metal,ifinituim which was resistant to all and was super light,using this they protected themselves from fire and it was resistant to sludgification,so they went out again with the new mark 2 armour,then they created some infinitium weapons and sliced the sludge right off,but it was too late the sludge already became their bodies,they no longer had skin,they had sludge to replace the body,soon they evolved to what we call mark 2 zombies,because they now regrew their sludge bodies,which would mark the end of the modern age and the beginning of the apocalypse age,no longer did humans have to say the apocalypse could happen tomorrow,because it did happen.Soon Kaos's son came and he was alive,Terry survived the zombie apocalypse and managed to get to the only country left,the Alier Empire aka Homebase.They found a TV and watched the news from before the apocalypse happened,like the news broadcast about aliens existing underground,turns out the people that say the pyramids were created by aliens were right,the aliens Kaos met said they helped the ancient egyptians.Later that day Kaos asked what else did the aliens colonize,The aliens said, "We have a colony in the pyramids,one where they were now one on mars,seven on the moon,eighteen on some of saturn's moons and another one on pluto." "Wow" said Kaos,Kaos realized that everyone needed to get to egypt to see if anyone survived there,so they started to move towards egypt that would take months but they needed to know if anyone survived there.Kaos built a infinitium boat,which worked flawlessly because it is very light.

Chapter 3

Egyptian discovery

They had made it to egypt,and turns out that they had two civilizations in egypt,they traded maps and the egyptians realized that they were the same aliens from long ago,they said, "Why it has been so long,how have you been emperor Alid the third?"Then the aliens gave a sad face and said,"he is long gone,he died in the 1700s"Then they realized that the two egyptian empires were at war,they asked why and the leader of egypt told them, "because they stole our Coal and Iron to save themselves."they then went back to the war to deal with the evil egypt,the First Egyptian Reich based on taking the ruined world for themselves.That is when Kaos realized that he could not let that happen so they gave the egyptians the infinitium weaponry including the laser rifle,a Fire sword and the best,the Destroyer's shovel,AKA Kaos's shovel.They asked who the Destroyer was and they said, "The strongest person of the Alier Empire."The people of the First Egyptian Reich said, "Egypt shall rise for none is as powerful as us."They said the same thing thirteen times before charging in and being annihilated by the Laser Rifles and Fire Swords,and the Destroyer's shovel did the most, inflicting casualties of 9743 people killed or atleast hurt.The most of the Egyptians surrendered,but the most believing fought on with their weaponry,but that was not enough and they eventually surrendered to the egyptian empire.They started their journey home,for seven months they went back to home base, "Wake up kaos we get to go home from school." Turns out it was all a dream,except for the aliens they are real.TO BE CONTINUED

Haunted house

My scary story is about a girl named isabella and she is at her parents house and the house is the color black in the house there is a tv and a computer and a black sofa that she sleeps on and her mom's house is haunted do you know someone who is a ghost hunter if you do what is their name also she heard a strange noise in her basement and got a bat and she went to check it out.

While she was investigating she got locked in the and she tripped down the stairs basement and was trapped in there for 20 years but she had food to eat down there and escaped but was still haunted for 50 years but she was 27 when this has happened to her now she is 44 and still living in her moms house till this day.

The Werewolf

On Halloween night, all of my friends and I we all dressed up in little werewolf costumes! One of my friends was named Leah. She has golden honey pot hair with sea green eyes. We were trick-or-treating and we saw this huge spooky mansion that was black with a big gate in the front of the house. It looked old and creaky. I saw something in the window when I looked back it was gone. There was a dead tree in the front of the creepy house. Then I saw it again. I saw a piece of fur fall out of the window. The grass was dead and the front door opened going to darkness. I could see something in the back-yard like a shed.

My puppy started to bark. She is a year old siberian husky wolf mix and she has brown, gray and blonde fur. She was very overprotective and she was also very sweet to me. She was like my personal bodyguard.

I patted her on the head and we walked down the sidewalk. I looked back behind my shoulder and saw the object in the window again. Then, I said "We have to go back to the house!"

My friend replied "Why? I want to go trick-or-treating!"

I exclaimed "Fine you can go and trick-or-treat but im seeing what is inside that house and that's final!"

I flipped my brown hair and gave her a glare with my navy blue eyes and twitched my freckled nose. Then, my puppy and I walked up the sidewalk and I opened the big creaky gate. I walked in the weeds. It looked like the grass had not been cut in forever. I was on the poarch and the door was unlocked. I stepped inside the house and my puppy started to sniff something. I let her pull me and she led me to the kitchen and it looked like she smelled some chicken. The kitchen was dirty and there was food everywhere also there were checkered floors and smooth counters.

"Come on girl we need to get out of here!" I begged Then, I heard something running upstairs. It sounded like a thunderstorm. It went boom--BOOM--BA- BOOM. I wanted to go upstairs but I was too scared. My ears started to hurt because it was so loud. I saw something and it was coming down the stairs. Then I saw the werewolf. He was dark brown and he was at least 6 feet tall. He made me shiver.

He roared, "WHAT ARE YOU DOING IN MY HOUSE!?"

"I saw an object i-n the w-window." His head turned and he gave me a frown.

He roared, "THAT DOES NOT MEAN YOU GO INTO ANYBODYS HOUSE!" Right before I could say anything he turned into human. He had blonde har with baby blue eyes and tan skin. He also had a big dark blue hoodie and shorts with some white shoes. I looked at him and I felt like I was going to pass out.

He said, "Why would you go into anybodys house?"

I replied "Well I like to explore. I think this was a big mistake. He led me to the front door and my puppy sniffed him and wagged her tail.

Then he said, "Uhh would you like to hang out sometimes?"

I replied "S-sure I would love t-to!"

I walked home in shock and my puppy licked me on the hand.

The Uninvited Guest

Hi my name is Dalila. I live in California. It's very hot so I'm usually wearing shorts and a t-shirt. Also, I just turned 28. I used to ice skate. It was really fun but after a while, I got a little bored over that, so I now make clothes. Anyway, I have brown hair, am only 5ft 1, and I have bright green eyes. I also really like things to be clean. My favorite food is Mac n Cheese and my favorite drink is Sprite. I know it's very weird but I like it for any time of the day.

My house is at the end of Corlis Street. It is only one floor but very big and the color of it is tan on the outside and inside. The backyard is pretty empty because I do not really go in the backyard. I stay inside most of the time. Also, I have a basement. I don't really like being down there but I have to wash my clothes that I own. Also it's really disgusting and it smells bad. No matter how much you clean it still smells bad, but upstairs smells like vanilla. The kitchen is to the right and the living room is to the left and my room is when you walk straight forward from the door. The basement is in the living room by the fireplace and big sofa.

One day I was going downstairs to wash some clothes like always, but I slowly heard a door. CREEEK.

"That was weird," I muttered. I was thinking nothing about it and went down the stairs and saw the little doorknob turn on that little door!!

I ran up the stairs as fast as I could and was breathing heavily and I did not want to go down there. But I did it anyway to investigate so I did and walked down the stairs quietly and... tried to open the door because it was sealed shut but I saw the door knob move. I was so confused with this but I finally got it open and nothing was there. I felt like a fool of myself. But then I felt something hovering over me, I looked behind my shoulder and saw this lady with black hair and red eyes. I was scared, so I ran upstairs and locked the door.

So I was locking the door and decided to go to bed now. The next morning I acted like nothing happened and ate breakfast, got dressed but then I heard a noise come from the basement then something stepping stair by stair. I looked in the living room from the kitchen and under the door I saw two feet. Then, I went to the living room and I whispered

"Who are you?" I asked frightenedly. She did not reply or whatever that thing was. So I opened the door and WHAM!! I hit the lady but then, she started attacking me. I had no doubt I was getting out of this. She kept hitting me and pulling, dragging me and that's the last thing I remembered.

That was the last time anyone saw Dalila or that lady so the police just thought that Dalila was gone, but not dead. They thought that lady was dead because of something but they never saw her again. It was a big mystery about those two, no one really knows what happened. Also Dalila was a very mysterious person and never went outside. Only for food and that was once every two weeks.

Everything was going well until the police station got a call about the lady again. The man on the phone sounded horrified and explained that she has black hair and red eyes. The police never knew what happened to him or the lady.

The Thing in The Closet

Hello! I'm 18 and I have a job but it's nothing too big yet. I work as an assistant teacher at a daycare. It was the only job I could find that pays the most money. It pays $10 per hour but it depends on if you are doing your job. They don't have a uniform so I just wear a white shirt and some jeans but when it's cold I wear a black sweater and sweatpants. The people I work with are around my age but some are around 30 too. My job is about 10 minutes away from my house.

When I'm not at my house I like to write stories and read books.

I live in a small house it is one story and 2 bedrooms. Sometimes there is noise downstairs in the basement. The basement is really old and creaky. It's also very empty. The only furniture in it is an old chair and a small bookshelf with a few books on it. The books are old, stained, and ripped. I can't tell what they're about because they're so stained and ripped that I can't read them. Also in the basement is a small closet I was never able to open the closet door though it's locked and I can't unlock it. Sometimes I think there may be rats in there. I always hear a lot of noise in there but I can never tell what it is. I don't go in the basement much because of how creepy it is.

One day I come home from work. I go downstairs to the basement to go clean it because it's dusty and old. I decide to finally throw away those ripped up books. I grab one when suddenly I hear noise coming from the closet door. It usually makes noise but this time it was louder than usual. I walk to the door when all of the sudden I see the doorknob moving. I slowly back away from the door. When I hear the terrifying sound "Creeek" It was the closet door opening.

I run upstairs scared of what could be in the closet. I didn't live with anyone else so it's not like it could have been someone else in the house. Suddenly I see something coming out of the closet. I look and standing there was a black wolf looking thing with one bright red glowing eye. It did look like a wolf, However It looked more humanoid I could tell it wasn't a werewolf though. I grabbed one of my books about urban legends. I look and see a page apparently this was called a "Spirit Wolf" I put up the book when suddenly the spirit wolf starts sprinting towards me and grabs me and it sounds as if it was trying to talk to me, but I had no idea what it was saying.

I kick the spirit wolf off me and run outside to the garage. I get inside my car and drive to the police station. I finally get there and explain to them what happened but the police don't believe me and they yell at me saying "Get out of here you crazy lady!"

I muttered back "But I- Come I'll show you!" The police follow me home and I take them down to the basement.

I opened the closet door and then I said "See I told you it's here!" They looked in the closet and saw it was empty, just a few spider webs.

"Mam is this some kind of joke?" The police asked, sounding kinda frustrated.

"WHAT?!" I yell.

"It was right here!"

"Stop wasting our time now we are leaving!" The police yelled. Then they left my house and returned back to the station. As soon as they left I saw that spirit wolf again.

"Who are you and why won't you leave?!" I yelled at the wolf.

"I live here and my name I shall not speak it will remain unknown" The wolf whispered back. Suddenly everything disappeared and it was dark. I looked around and noticed I was in my bed. Then I realized it was all just a dream and none of it was real.

I walked to the kitchen and made myself breakfast. When Suddenly I heard the noises again. When I looked it was just my pet fox. I was so glad that none of it was real. Suddenly I noticed writing on the wall. It read "The dream was real however, I will not return."

Under The Rug

Hi my name is John. I'm 45 years old. I'm 6-1 in height. My favorite food is fried chicken. I wear my black pants a lot with my shiny white belt. I have big black glasses. I work at walmart. I live in california san diego. I am bald. I only have hair on the sides. My eyes are gray. I live by myself. My favorite season is summer. My boss's name at Walmart is Kendall. My favorite movie is emoji. I liked to play basketball when I was younger. My favorite shoes are jordans and nikes are my favorite shoes. favorite game when i was younger was pac man I like to relax and sleep I like my work I help people find what they are looking for in walmart my house is black my walls are white in my house my house is very little since I live by myself I have one bathroom it is white I have a bedroom that is white my bed is black and red.

My house is in California, the first house to the left of the ash lane my house is white and I have one room in my house. My bathroom is white my walls are gray. I have a black refrigerator and a black stove for cooking my food. I have a big huge tv. I have a brown couch and I have a glass table.

I got home from work and I went to sleep. For like 2 hours I was tired I woke up and I was really hungry. I was going to heat up some pizza but I felt like grilling so I went outside. It was extremely hot. It was 97 degrees outside and I threw some hot dogs and burgers on the grill. I played Pac man. It cooled down to 75 degrees but I forgot the grill was still on. I went down stairs and heard boom boom! I heard it was my grill it blue up I felt so stupid im scared that I forgot about the grill and I left open. The fire department came and put out the fire. I figured out the door was open for a long time. I looked around my house and there was nothing. Then I saw something on the carpet in the living room. It was so big I was so scared! I ran it followed me I kept running and running it was still following me I smacked it with a chair it looked dead I was happy so I went on the couch and sleep for 30 minutes until something lift me up from the couch I looked down i was not lifted then the second time i saw it it slam the couch boom! I flew off the couch who picked me up. I was scared.

I saw it again. I ran outside and I was scared and it was night. I got a hammer went into The house i went in the house I tried to smack it with it I hit my leg it hurt I sat for a little it hurt I looked everywhere just in case it was near me I saw it I hit it with the hammer well I tried to hit it with the hammer I missed it got closer and closer to me i jumped back so far I was like super.

I was tired so I went to sleep, closed my door and locked the door just in case then I went to sleep. Then I had a dream about it coming into my room and throwing me out the window and all my bones broke. It was sooo scary. Then I woke up on the couch. I said to myself wasn't I in my bed? I knew I was upstairs.

I was confident so I got out the couch and looked for the the thing under my rug I saw it. Then I grabbed a book it was really to fast and the book was to small I tried mutable things then I thought of a chair I hit it did not die then I hit it again then it died I was so happy I called the people for carpets they got it out it was a huge rat that got out i was so happy now I can live a good life again.

The Monster Behind the Door

Hello! My name is Jeremy Acts and I am 19 years old. I have one friend and his name is Alex. My favorite color is purple and I even wear light purple shoes. I have short black hair and I wear a white sweater, and dark blue jeans most of the time when I am outside or at school. I am 4 feet and 2 inches. I live in the town Spring Valley. My hobby is that I like to draw and to draw animals. My dream job is to be a brain surgeon and to go to medical school. I am from Britain and sometime I use my British accent.

I live in the town called Springs Valley in California and some of my neighbors are Mrs. Ross and Mr. Sanchez. Sometimes you can smell the fresh air in the morning if you wake up early. At night is when the stars are out and sometime you can see people on their front porch looking at the stars. You can hear the sound of birds in the morning and hear the sound of crickets at night. The houses have two stories, a front porch, windows, there is a little roof that covers the front porch, and the color is sometime white or gray. There are also big patches of grass and the color is depending on what time of year it is.

One night I came downstairs to turn off the living room light and there is the bookshelf and the glass table was a little dirty because I forgot to clean it yesterday and in front of the table was the TV and the TV was probably dirty too, then there was a black couch and it had a cup holder in the middle of the couch. Then behind the couch was the kitchen and there was a counter in the middle of the kitchen and the colors were black and white and the fridge was almost the size of me. Then I went to the living room light and I see the door knob slowly turning each way like something or someone was trying to open the door. Then I hear the strangest noise and I hear a scratching noise and I look behind me and I see a scratch mark.

"Haha very funny," Jeremy said.

"You can stop now you got me." I turned off the light and then I saw a red glowing eye in the dark and the creepiest smile. The smile was bright white and I kept hearing the tapping from somewhere around the living room. I kept trying to back away from the monster. I ran towards the lamp and turned it on before the monster could get to me.

The next day I went to my friend's house. My friend's name was Alex and he has blonde hair, light blue eyes and wore a light blue shirt and white jeans. He was 19 years old and his favorite color was green. His hobby was to play soccer and he scaring me a lot when it is near Halloween and was 4 feet and 8 inches. We met by a incident when he was playing soccer. It was a game day for Alex's team and I was walking and drawing and then when I turned around I saw the soccer ball run towards me and it hit me in the face. Then I was in the nurse's office and I saw Alex he helped me walk towards the nurse's office. So that's how we met. Then I knocked on the door of my friend's house. He answered.

"Hi Jeremy, what brings you here?" Alex asked.

"Ok this is going to sound crazy," Jeremy said

"I saw a monster at my house in my living room."

"Hahah. Funny," he replied.

"No I am not joking around," Jeremy yelled.

"Just can you stay at my house for the night." I requested

"Fine but if there is no monster I get to pick what you draw for your next picture."

He went back inside to pack his stuff, then we went back to my house.

The next night Alex unpacked his stuff and he stayed in the living room and he watched tv while I went to bed. Then at night I heard a lullaby playing downstairs and I thought to myself "Maybe it's just Alex trying to prank me with some scary music," so I went to back to sleep. I woke up to the sound of the lullaby ,so i went downstairs to tell Alex to turn the lullaby off and I saw him standing there facing the tv and the light was still on. Then I realized that it was the lullaby. Then I saw the door knob starting to shake violently then suddenly it stopped and the door started to open slowly and I saw the monsters claws ,one of its red eyes and its white bright creepy smile. I quickly ran up the stairs to try to get away from the monster and I left the light on and I thought it would keep the monster away but I was wrong. The light turned off and it let the monster come up stairs to my bedroom. I hided be side my blue bed and my drawer. I grabbed my flashlight that I got from a camping trip and I heard taping again and it came closer and closer then it stopped and I thought it was gone but so I put my flashlight back in my drawer. Then a piercing sound came from the monster and then I somehow I woke up.

Then I saw the bright light of the sun coming out from my window and I went downstairs and Alex was gone and the door was closed. I got ready and went to Alex's house and knocked on the door.

"Hey Jeremy." he said

"Did I talk to you yesterday? About a monster" Jeremy asked

"No." Alex replied.

"Don't you remember?"

"Remember?"

"Remember what?" Jeremy replied.

"You were sick yesterday," Alex said.

"I was?"

"Yeah." The next night I went downstairs to turn off the light and the doorknob didn't move and I was finally relaxed for the rest of the night without having any trouble sleeping. The next two weeks there was no trouble at all. I thought the monster was gone and I didn't see the monster for another two weeks. Then one night changed everything because of something that was on the wall of the living room next the door. I was going to the living room to turn off the lights and I saw wall covered in black ink and the same four words kept repeating itself "I always come back."

CHAPTER 1

When everything was normal

One day there was a girl named Lilly. She had blue eyes and blond hair. Tomorrow was Lilly's birthday and she was so excited cause it was her 16th birthday and she knew that her parents would get her whatever she wanted.

Lilly was in her room doing her homework when her mom said, "Were off to the store what do you want?" Lilly said , "I really really want that doll that showed you the other day." Cause Lilly was really into halloween stuff and also she thought that it was fake. Lilly was sitting on the couch when her parents came back home with the doll she wanted. When Lilly saw the doll she was sooooo excited that she could barely speak. Lilly ran up stairs and put the doll down on her bed and she was so happy that she left the doll on her bed and ran down stairs to thank her parents for the doll. When she came back in her room the doll was gone she looked in her whole entire room then she started to worry so she looked for the doll down stairs and guessed where she found it..... she found it on the couch with the tv remote in her hand.

She thought that her brother Landon had taken it and put it there but he was in the back yard and her parents were out there too with him. Lilly ran after the door to get her parents when the door locked from the inside and the doll was standing right behind her. Lilly was so scared and she was starting to wish that her parents never got it for her and that she got something totally different than that. Sense the door was locked she tried to unlock it but it just would not budge whatsoever. So then she got a great idea. She decided to go up stairs and try to jump out of the window but she was too scared to do it. Sense she did not want to do that she just decided to go to the front door to get out. So as quick as she could she ran but she was trying to be as quiet as she could she ran to the front door and opened it and she shut and locked the door so the doll could not get in.

CHAPTER 2

The escape

Lilly wanted to get to her parents so she just decided to jump the fence to the back yard. When she got over the fence her family was sitting down playing with chalk. Lilly tried to tell them about the crazy doll attack but they did not believe her but her little brother did. Her parents just said, "Lilly honey you probably just fell asleep and that was all just a dream." But Landon actually believed her because he said that he had had a dream about that happening then it did but that was the only reason he did think it was real. Lilly took her parents hands and tried to show them that the doll was acting up but then the doll was just up in her room sitting on her bed where it was at first when Lilly put it.

Lilly did not know what was going on with the doll but she searched the whole down stairs and she could not find the doll so she ran up stairs and went to her room and went inside and the doll told her in the deepest voice ever, "Never tell anyone about me or your gone." Landon was worried about Lilly so he ran into her room and heard Lilly talking to the doll and he could hear the doll talking too with no one else in the house could hear the doll but him and Lilly. Now both of them were SO scared but they knew that they could not say anything about what happened they wanted to but they knew what would happen if they told their parents.

Lilly was scared so she asked the doll who are you and why are you coming after me and my family? The doll said, "My name is Isabell and I am doing this because you guys are the ones that bought me and i did not want to be bought so you deserve it 100%." Lilly was sick of getting scared by the doll so she said, "Can we please work this out so we don't need to tell our parents about you. The doll said, "No unless you can agree to treat me nice and treat me like a queen and tomorrow is your birthday so i will be nice to you I guess. But any time other than family birthdays I will not be nice unless you want to bring me back to the store so that some other fool can buy me and (die). " But why are you coming after me and not my parents and my brother why me?" "Because you wanted me and you got me so you need to deal with me forever unless you choose to bring me to the store." " But I don't want to bring you back my parents will be crushed if I bring you back because you're all i've wanted since I was just a little girl so I.... I just can't." Lilly grabbed the doll and headed down stairs to see if her parents were still outside or if they were inside now. There parents were still out side so they ran out and tried to tell there parents about the creepy doll Lily and Landon were making a plan to tell their parents about the creepy doll problem but the little did they know the doll was right behind them but she was being quiet enough to where Lily and Landon did not hear her. They snuck out of the front door trying to be as quiet as they could they came up to their parents and tried to tell them about the doll and that they needed to return her at the store but their parents were not listening to them at all because they were asleep. They woke them up and showed them the doll and they finally believed them but they still needed a way to get rid of the doll. They tried and tried over and over again but she would not go away. They tried literally everything but the doll just got more aggressive more and more time after time. Until there was nothing that they could do about it she was unstoppable so they just never really got to live their life without the doll coming along with them. Until one day the doll went out of control and they could not stop her. She turned into a terrifying monster and she was very mean she was taking over the world pretty much until she actually was taking over the whole world it was pretty terrible. Everyone had to pay attention to her no one could be mean to her. Everyone was miserable and pretty much (dieing) just because of the doll. Finally they found out a way to get rid of her and the world was back to normal. Or did they actually get rid of her. JK!!!!!! They did. Or did they? Never mind she's gone.

10 years later

Life has been going great. Lily is now 26 years old. She is happy she is married and she has 3 kids. One of her kids is Abigail and she is 2 years old and her other kid is named Jaxon and he is 6 years old. And the other kid is only 3 months old and her name is Brooklyn. Lily and her family are a very happy family and now living a happy life forever.

The Elephant

There was an elephant and his name was Jack. Jack was a very happy elephant who lives at a zoo. Everyone liked him and he liked them. Everyone wanted to go to his exhibit until the penguins came. There was an Emperor penguin who had his own throne and a sign that said, "Bow Down Before Me." Jack got mad and got a plan that he was going to try to get a friend. He kept pointing his trunk at the floor to ask someone to come be with him. Finally he got a friend named Emily who came to stand with him. Emily was another elephant. Soon the people went back to the elephant exhibit again, but the giraffes came and they got the most attraction. So the elephants and penguins decided to work together and dug a hole so the penguins can get through. They were going to make their own exhibit and after 2 to 3 days they did. Now they stay together as one. The end.

The Nightmare Before I Knew It

By Carolynn Pekari

Age 9

Once upon a time, at night, my bedroom door was shut. Screeeeeeech. I lifted my covers just a little bit so I could see what was making this scary sound. The doorknob to my bedroom was slowly turning. The door was opened and right in front of me was a giant vicious beast. It was 40 feet tall, had 50 heads, and 50 deadly claws as sharp as a knife could be. Screeeeeeech its claws scraped against my mirror. Screeeeeeech. Its claws scraped against my window. My heart started to race with fear. I could hear his footsteps coming closer and closer. His breathing was deep, and I could smell his breath underneath my covers. It smelled like an old wet dog. I was hiding quietly under my covers too scared to even open my blanket. Then I heard a voice. It was my mom waking me up for school. Phew, I realized it was all just a dream, but it was a really scary one.

CHAPTER

A long time ago in 1924, there lived a family there with two boys, three girls, and their parents. The kids named were Jay, Ryan, Aleah, Maddie, and Karolina; the youngest girls were triplets. The parent's names were Rebecca and Mat; they only had five kids of their own. They lived a happy life together and had a big two-story house with 8 bedrooms, 5 bathrooms; the basement, upstairs, living room, and the KITCHEN. One morning Ryan and the other kids had a tiger named orange. Jay's parents left him alone in his house with the others, while his parents were at work. While he was at home he called his friends to come home to hang out later on. His friends arrived with his sisters and brothers' friends too. They started to play games until one of the girls or boys found the doll that was really creepy. They screamed, "DON'T SCREAM FIVE TIMES" they screamed one time and the leg moved. Four more screams to go then the doll would come to life. Jay and his friends came along to play another game until he noticed that his parents were back home. They went outside for a little before they went back inside. Then went into the basement, and as soon as they were downstairs the basement was starting to haunt them up. The two girls were scared and screamed to death.

Haunted

They ran upstairs and found the father killed by the zombies. The mother and the tiger were looking for the kids. The mom, tiger, and the kids found each other before they left the house. As soon as they were leaving the house, random zombies came chasing the kids, mother, and tiger. They screamed so loud that the zombies ran away but there were two more zombies left. Later on, Rebecca was about to tell the kids the story about the doll that used to be her friend till the Doll Master came and she was afraid she would never see her best friend again.

INSANITY

Aiysha's pants... While she was running from the cops, she had a bit of blood on her arm that the cops noticed. So the cops chased her. She runs and runs until she takes a turn into an alley... But Aiysha doesn't know that she is right next to the police station. The cops run and don't see her in the alley, since they can't find her they created a search party. They are two days in and still haven't found her. They didn't even bother to go to that alley.

October 31st, 2008

You wonder... Who's Aiysha? She is a person that escaped Asylum 101. Aiysha is mentally ill... The doctor stopped giving her medicine, then Aiysha went crazy. CRAZY RIGHT. HAHA!! Guess who's writing this right now...Me, Aiysha. I know, I know. I am such a good writer- The door slams opened, " Wake up Aiysha!" Get dressed. Well, you already are well. Get your slippers on your being transferred to 101." WHAT!? NO NO I DON'T WANNA GO TO 101, THE PEOPLE IN 101 IS CRAZY!!" yells Aiysha. " I don't make the rules, I'm sorry." He puts Aiysha in cuffs, and he puts them tight for safety reasons. They walk downstairs, then down, then down, and then down again. You guessed it down. 101 is the craziest facility of all. Once a girl killed everyone they saw. Yea, crazy. Aiysha whines and whines in pain yelling, " NO!, NO!, PLEASE!, PLEASE!, NOO!!" Asylum 101 isn't the best. People went crazy in there and killed everyone they saw. they add chains inside the Asylum. OH, and the Asylum boxes are for one for the crazy people! "The Asylum is so loud... I can barely hear my voice... EVERYONE QUIET DOWN!" The loud sirens go on, everyone lays on the floor very quickly and it becomes quiet. Quiet and Dark like my soul, "The scariest monster are the ones that lurk within our souls - Edgar Allen Poe"

Later on the kids, mom, and the tiger screamed as loud on accident, until the doll came to life and he caught them... Hello hello hello hello hello hello hello. I'm coming for you, you can run but you can't hide. "I wanted to help you but until we went to that haunted house there were haunted dolls that were actually haunting people. The people that were brave gotta stay and then the doll master came down the stairs and the dolls. Well, he let us keep them till the day you left me in there. I could have followed you but the place was haunted and you know I love haunted things.

THE ONE WHO DID IT?

So then the Doll Master gave me a deal if I let go of my past and move on with my haunted life then he'd give me anything so I agreed to his gift, until' I afford it, but I already knew that you would not come back. The doll master hypnotized me with the doll and that's why I never saw REBECCA. Ohh... I missed you but you didn't come back. HAHA, I don't need you no MORE, and if you want me back you'll have to solve a riddle" What holds names and memories which are not it is own." Hi, I'm not supposed to tell you this but "Rebecca.?" I was not really sure what happened to me but I am really sorry for what happened I just wanted to protect you... til she hypnotized me.

I became a doll and I didn't die. My body died but not my soul... No, but unfortunately I can't come back to you all till the 3 days are over. If you want me to come back you'll have to kill someone else that is alive. Have fun. Ha Hah Hah Hah Hah Hah Hah... and you can't catch me. BOOOOM!!!!!! AAHHHH! We've gotta get out of this place, it's not safe here. OKAY, BUT I WILL STOP TIL YOU ALL DIE SEE YOU SOON!!!!

Well I'm sorry but I really didn't mean to, but you did, YOU KILLED ME!!!! HUH!?? Unless you, you erased my childhood memories, how, how could you. I thought we were friends till I accidentally left you.!!! Wait, I know we were friends. I have memories before I left. I had that doctor's appointment and they got my memories back and I want to be your friend again and Mat comes back...

I think we should go back to friends right.!!? Well if you say "no" then... Okay then. Mhh, Doll Master come here we need to fight. NOW!!! Let's do it.!!! I don't want to battle you but, YEA!!!... So don't take the kids. I can trade you anything. CLICK CLICK.!! KIDS GET IN THE CAR.!! Ahhhh.!!! OKAY, we're going away... So if you come and catch I won't stop driving till the day I die.!!! So what do you want to be when you grow up.??!!! HUH.?????? I-I-I I Can't believe it but I did- but I did, I am so sorry for what happened a long time ago. The Shadow came and- and it controlled me till I was 25 years old, I didn't s-e-e you for 5 years in a row but we can go back together again. I-I know who messed with both of us. The wicked Doll Master, he told me my biggest fear so I left, and then I watched as you were in that shop and you, we're holding a doll that was really creepy to me but it hypnotized you so I got married and the kids yea. I really missed you so I kept the doll that you were stuck in and it has been 10 yrs later and yea...

I will help you for now but not the rest. The Doll Master will notice that I am helping you so we have to get out of here and the zombies and wolves I can handle. "WOLVES"???!!" Well, we did not see any wolves today or last week so there must be a mistake-e-e-e-e-e, WOLVES .!!!! AHHHH!!!!!! Why aren't the wolves chasing us.??? Well are they nice or not nice??:)) okay we need to talk to the DOLL MASTER NOW..!!!!!! We will, we will need preparations. While everybody was working the Aiysha was getting the guns ready for the battle. "Everybody ready for the battle, they were ready 'Ready.'" everybody said

Haha... NO one will find me and I don't care if they will find me, but if they start a battle then I will WINN!!!!!!!!!! I want to help but if they want to be dolls then they do or should I say 'Rebecca' HA HA HA HA!!! And she won't even notice that I'm coming for her. I would help her but no! I HATED HER, but she left you. I'm sorry. I'd loved to KILL HER. HAHA!!!...

CREEP

By Jackson Green

Once on one dark scary night on October 31st or also known as Halloween, there was a boy named Alex. Alex was in the dark all alone. He found a place where he thought it was a good spot to go Trick or Treating but he was wrong. First, he saw a doll just lying on the ground creepily. When Alex rang the doorbell and then the doll stood up on the ground and said in a voice that could even scare the bravest of men, "HELLO ALEX". Alex dropped his candy bag and paused for a moment and the doll picked up a thing that looked like a knife. Alex threw some candy at the doll but that was a big mistake. The doll rose from the ground and said in the same terrifying voice, "YOU WILL REGRET THAT". Alex ran and went into the beat up house. He saw a collection of swords and a few had some blood on them. Alex wished he could go back home and eat the candy he collected. Alex looked at the door and when he looked behind him he saw a killer clown. He ran to the door and before he could reach the doorknob the clown put his ugly hand on Alex's wrist and yanked him hardly. Alex was trying to get a sword to fight the clown but the clown was yanking him too hard. His wrist was soon broken and the clown let go. Alex got a sword and threw it at the clown. He went back outside and saw the angry doll waiting for him. Alex went back in the house with the clown and saw some candy on the ground. He grabbed some of the candy laying on the ground. He ate it and avoided the dead clown every time he walked past it. It had been four long hours since he saw the mad, creepy doll and looked out the door and there was no sign of the doll. Alex ran to get his candy bag and saw the doll on the ground doing nothing. Alex ran to the gate and saw the doll wake up. He hid by the nearest tree then jumped over the gate. His wrist was still hurting and he ate some more candy. He then saw the doll wake up and look for him. Alex ran to his house and told his sister to come with him. When they came to the house they saw the doll looking for Alex. Alex's sister almost screamed but Alex covered her mouth. They waited the rest of the three hours of Halloween night and at sunrise the doll, clown, and house all turned into a big pile of dust. They were both walking home talking about the doll and Alex was talking about how brave he was even though he was very scared. When they got home Alex's mother said in a strict voice "What were you doing all night"? Alex didn't say anything. His mother said "Where were you all night". Alex then said in a shaky voice "I was being creeped out all night". All of them had breakfast and Alex told them all about what happened. Alex agreed to go Trick or Treating with his sister from now on.

Chapter 1

Date : 1979

There once was a perfect family with 2 daughters and 1 son. That perfect family's names were Alex, Rachel, Jack, but the parents names were Milie and Ryan. They lived a happy life together and had a house. One morning Alex woke up and rushed to get ready for school as well as Rachel and Jack but the parents were still sleeping. Alex got dressed and quickly ran down stairs and packed her lunch as long with Rachels and Jack's lunch box. All of them ate and brushed their teeth. Their parents woke up and walked downstairs to get some coffee. Once the parents walked down the stairs it was time for the kids to leave. Rachel, Alex, and Jack had said their good bye to their parents and got their backpacks. They ran to school and when they arrived at the school their Alex saw a doll staring at her, well Alex felt the doll staring at her. A myth that has been over the town for years is that when you see a doll anywhere that would mean that something bad would happen soon. Alex did not think anything bad would happen, She thought, "That's probably someone's doll they left there for a halloween decoration". During the rest of the day Alex kept thinking about that doll she saw earlier .The doll kept appearing in her mind like it was some type of nightmare about to begin.Then at the end of the day Alex looked back at the doll ...but no doll.Later after school Alex was acting weirder than usual.Rachel quietly asked,"Hey,are you okay Alex?" "Yea I'm totally fine ,Rachel what do u mean." Alex quickly said.Rackel thought," eehh whatever alex acts like that sometimes." Later that night everyone walked to bed.Alex tiredly climbed into bed but little does she know a bad dream was about to begin.

Doll

"RACHEL" alex yelled out.Alex where are you.Please come back"Alex please help!!",Alex hears in the distance.Alex follows the voice of rachel,but she could not find nothing .After hours of looking for rachel,there is no sign anywhere for rachel.Sudently Alex visian turns black.Alex hears laughing all around her and cold little fingers touch her skin.Alex could not help but to run in the pitch black.But when Alex been running for miles she could not get away from the laughter.She stopped as she felt something crawl up her leg.Alex reached her hand to touch her leg.But nothing was on her leg.Alex thought,"whats happening!!!!" She kept running,but soon she fell into a pit.When she fell in the pit feeling like dorwning in water,she quickly woke up and noticed that Jack was pouring water on her and making her all wet. Alex yelled saying, "What are you doing Jack!" Jack runs away into his room. Alex got up and decided to just take a shower. Once alex was done with the the shower she wore clothes for red ribbon week and for tusday was to wear your favorite coler. Alexes favorite coler was a baby blue. She looked through her closet and found a baby blue dress. After she had put on the dress she walked to go get backed up and eat breakfast. When she sat down at the table she had been served, by her mom, but when she looked at the plate it looked like the dolls face Alex had seen the other day. Mom said, "anything wrong sweetie?" No, nothing at all, it looks good." Alex said. Mom walked away. After they all ate they went to school but before they left their mom got a email about how school is canceled for the next 2 days. Rachel, Alex, and Jack slowly walked back into their room and fell back to sleep but Alex stayed up and gushed outside to play. She asked if her neighbor can play because she was homeschooled. After she had walked to go ask for her friend to play, they both played. But Alex had to tell Her friend named Emily something. "Hey EMily", said Alex. "Yes Alex?" said Emily. "Umm, I need to tell you something important", Alex said Quietly. "Yea tell me anything, whats wrong?", Emily had said. "There is thill doll that....creeps me out", Alex said very secretly. "But nothing scares or creeps you out." Emily scardly said. Emily was very scared because Alex is usually scared of nothing. Then the both of them had ran to go play with some chalk and forget what had happened. But when Alex was getting up to wash her hand she saw the doll again. Alex ran inside but when she was done washing her hands she had rushed back outside.

And the doll was keep coming closer....closer...closer..and closer every time.The next day all of them had got ready to go play in the back yard.When they had walked in the back yard Alex had heard something in that woods in the back of her back yard.....

Chapter 3

The missing sight of Alex

Alex soon followed the sound of groans and scream.But soon after someone kidnapped her and Rachel and Jack heard Alex's screamingof the voice from Alex.Rachel and Jack rushed to their parents and told them what happened.All of them rushed out of the house going to look for Alex.The parents both called the police.Soon after there was sirens and lights infront of the house.When the police arrived to the backyard they found the parents and kids searching for Alex."Where did u hear the screaming",one of the policeman said."My sister walked into that forest a-an-and soon after me and Jack h-ea-eard screaming from our sister Alex." Rachel scardly said and cried."Ok calm down just take deep breaths and me and the other ofercerce are going to search for your sisters okay."The policeman cardlye said.When the policeman walked into the forest they looked for Alex but soon found this creepy old doll.They picked up the doll and ran the the mother and asked if this was her doll."Is this your daughters doll ma'am?"The policeman said."Im not sure but I think it was her's",the mon said.The mom took the doll and brought it inside to put on display for memory. After the whole tired day mom slowly walked to bed but she heard a shattering glass slam on the floor. SLAM! Mom rushed to the kitchen but saw nothing and thought if she was just daydreaming. She walked to bed and soon fell asleep. When mom fell deep asleep the nightmare was going to begin. Mom was in a black room with fingers touching her all around and when the light flickered on she saw Creepy dolls start at her creepy.

THE DOOMSVILLE TERROR

DRAFT 1 By Aven Vaughn

Once upon a time in the 1830 Doomsday time, because it is where all the deaths happen because the doomsday time existed there and so did the PURGE. There were 2 people in the doomsville abandoned library which was dark and creepy. It is abandoned because it is 100 years old and contains weird creatures haunting people's souls and then killing them, so they went in there to prove to their friends that they are the best and not WIMPS. They really hate being called wimps. They were Named Dale and John. Both were 13 years old. They were tall, they had a hood on so no one would know it was them. Dale would always love to flex his long hair and creativity skill but John had all of the amazing strength. Later while they were checking the haunted, dark, and abandoned library, They heard weird noises all though it should have only been John and Dale in the library. Soon they went to check what was going on. But John went to check it out by himself.

"I got this," says John.

"Ok, go ahead and be safe," Dale replies

"JOHN WHERE ARE YOU?" Dale cried after a 30 minutes pass and John was gone. Later Dale sees a blood path on the ceiling. Suddenly he goes into the room John went into and finds the head of his body and he is super scared and starts screaming. and his body was nowhere to be seen. But someone who has been watching him bursts into the door knowing he'll need help. Dale is very curious on why but it's what it is.

As the person who joined him came in says "my name is Tom" says Tom. He is wearing a red hood and a pair of black and white WR football gloves for some reason. He also has very short hair with no hairline either.

"You play football?" Dale asks Tom.

"Yes kid," Tom replies with an attitude.

Later on they work together to find the beast and slay it but they still haven't found it. Dale is still a bit scared because of what happened to his bff just because they wanted to prove something awesome to their friends. He will hate those guys forever for being bullies to them and now one of them is dead. Dale won't go back with a happy face, even if he gets out of this weird crazy haunted place alive and makes it back.

"LOOK!" Tom yells.

"At what, wait woah" Dale replies. "Let's destroy him for eating my friend" Dale says. They pick up things they can use as weapons and poke the living life out of the beast with a weird blood trail following it at all times full of John's blood. Soon they get happy for a second but since the beast is immortal it remakes itself and lives once again with more power and makes more of itself to destroy them for trying to kill it. Later Tom disappears just to scare Dale and now Dale thought Tom was dead and Tom popped out of nowhere and scared Dale almost making him pass out.

"BOO!" says Tom.

"Why'd you do that?" Dale replies.

"Because it's sooo funny Dale," says Tom.

"Rude," Dale says. Ok Finally they spot a fast blood wielded creature crawling towards them. Dale and Tom pick up more weapons to kill it, but it's moving too fast. What can they possibly do? It was finally time to "slice, pray, and dice SPD" says Dale. They finally kill the terrible unwanted black bloody beast by using sharp weapons. but they have to call the cops later on they come and try to investigate. and make sure no more creatures are in there and report John's dead body. Although Dale and Tom were about to get arrested for being on abandoned property he thought he had a smile worth what happened but that creature still did kill his best friend. I don't think after that he's going to be called a wimp anymore he was in a 99% death situation and someone actually did die just not him luckily.

"We did it," Dale says.

"Yeah we did, we really did," Tom has replied.

So they cheer each other on also hoping the best for John, But what they didn't know was he was happy while watching down on them from heaven wishing he was still there to show Dale how happy he was and Dale will still remember him 10 years after and all the jurassic events that had happened. But later on they realized that the library got rebuilt and decided to go there and think of the things they did to save the library so other people could have a good time without their souls being taken and being killed just imagine how many people that happened to. But when they walk in they see Huge statues of Dale, John, and Tom in correct order of the people who came in the haunted library with beasts inside, and now The terrible death place turned into a happy place for people and it's no longer DOOMSDAY DOOMSVILLE it is Happy Town. Also now Dale doesn't get called a wimp and is the strongest person ever in other students and people's thoughts. Dale sighed.

"I've always been happy to not be a wimp anymore but I still lost my best friend." Dale says to himself.

"Hopefully everyone remembers him and prays for him, not just me." Dale says to himself again.

As the days go by Dale decides to go to the library at Happy Town where John's death happened and the exact place that it happened for the memories they had with each other or 13 years so that means he died at the age of 13 and 4 years have passed by so Dale lives his life for 17 years now Without a John in his sight.

"I hope you are okay John" Dale says.

Dale will definitely miss John forever and ever no matter who or anything that comes out to take it.

Dale goes home and says,

"Mom John died and I'm never going too that Library ever again"

"What happened to John and why did you go there in the first place?" Mom replied.

"Well, I went there because all of my friends keep calling me a wimp and I don't like it, and John died to the monster that lives at the Haunted library that is now a happy place to be." Dale says.

"That is terrible," Mom replies to Dale.

"Yeah it is" Dale replied to his mom.

Later that day he found Tom!!! He thought he would never see him again. They haven't seen each other until the incident happened.

"Hi Tom!" Dale says.

"Hi Dale," Tom replies.

"What are you doing here Tom where do you live we can be friends forever and know where each other are."

"I live just across the street from here," Tom replies to dale.

"NICE" Dale replies to Tom.

"Oh I was just trying to explore," it's just what I do,"Tom replies.

"Pretty cool," Dale replies to Tom.

After that They live happier ever after in life and for now i don't think they will be going to that library anymore until a little bit until it's clear of the monster creature weird things. I hope they actually have fun going to visit people in the new Happy Town area, but they say a couple things before the end

"We love everything and everyone," They both say..

The Haunted TreeHouse

By: Jenna Parham

Sept. 7. 1936

On one crummy work day in a greasy, oily Burger filled restaurant with their horrible, smelly, fat, kinda ugly, brown messy hair Trevor, he was always flipping burgers and telling everyone what to do. Then, Ash walked in as he was putting in and putting the clean dishes away. Then Ash asked "Trevor can I have a 5 minute break?"

Surprisingly Trevor said "Sure how about 10." Ash walked outside and saw Arrow was on his break too they had the keys to the building, they were going to play a prank on Trevor. Arrow said "Trevor can you please wait outside all of us here have a surprise for you."

They had a surprise then they told every worker cause none of the workers liked Trevor. Then he heard all of the doors and he was furious with them all. Then they told the two customers to go out the back exit when they wanted to leave. When the two customers left, all the workers had a giant party because they didn't need Trevor's approval to have a part after work in the restaurant, then they ate all the food. When the two customers reached Trevor they told him that the back exit was unlocked. Arrow saw them talking and Trevor ran to the exit so Arrow ran and locked the door before he got to the door.

Ash and Arrow let Trevor in, they apologized for having a giant party and Ash and Arrow got fired. But they undersuied and Trevor let them take home all the food scraps because they were poor and couldn't afford food. Then Ash and Arrow went to their tent to go to bed but first Arrow lit a fire for warmth after they ate and blew out the fire they went to bed. Before Ash went to bed he wrote "So today we got fired for throwing a giant party at work and then Trevor fired me and we need to find a new job. We will go out and start looking for new jobs asap."

Chapter Two

A New Job

Sept. 8. 1936

In the morning they went to find a job but they couldn't find any good jobs until after looking all day they found the perfect job they were hiring at Chick Fil A the best job they could find that day they went in and asked how many people they were hiring, the manager said "We only needed 3 people."

Ash asked "How much does this job pay? Oh it says on the sign." "30 DOLLARS!!!"

Ash thought to himself then he asked "Can we get two job applications please?"

Then the manager said "Sure coming right up. Two right?"

"Yes," said Arrow.

When they got the applications they filled out both of them turned them in and then they gave them a work cell phone, the new flip phone that you could now call people on and has a better camera, but if they didn't get the job they would have to turn in there cell phone and fill out the application that says they didn't get the job. "Wow the newest model thank you very much for this!" said Arrow

Ash went to go find a deer to cook while Arrow was looking for firewood. Then they came across an old abandoned treehouse. They climbed the latter and saw just an old dusty couch and new food. Surprisingly they put some food in the bag and got firewood for the night. They both ate their food and went straight to bed. Ash woke up at 10:30 p.m. and got water from the water fossett next to their tent. He went on a little walk and got some fresh Tennessee air. Ash walked a little longer and then went back at 12:50 a.m. Arrow woke up and toke a drink of water, he stayed up till Ash got back.

Later that night Stacy the manager of ChickFalA called and said they both got the job they would also need to go to work at 9:00 a.m.

Chapter Three
Sept.9.1936
The Tree House

"Ash, we need to go to work or we're going to be late on our first day. Ash?" said Arrow

Then Ash said "Coming now lets go. I still can't believe we both got the job."

"Yeah as janitors and we have the last shift at 11:00 p.m." replied disappointedly.

They talked more as they walked to work. At last they made it to work and got their uniform on and got straight to work. Ash started with his first order by cleaning the stove top and Arrow was cleaning up puke in the bathroom. Arrow was so disappointed he asked Stacy "Stacy can I please go on break or take a different shift?"

"Sure, take a 10 minute break." Stacy replied

"Ok" Arrow said with a little smirk

Arrow went to the treehouse they went to yesterday and filled for about 5 to 10 minutes and then heard a kind possessed creature or a weird animal he ran back to work and told Ash about it.

"Arrow, are you ok, do you need some water. Arrow you have a giant scar on your side.", Inshock Ash said.

"Go get Stacy, she knows where the med kit is.", Arrow said

Ash got Stacy and she got the med kit. They were both very worried about what happened to him. When they got back to the kitchen he was completely fine, the scar wasn't there anymore and he didn't remember Ash or Stacy at all then they heard a door slam and the lights were flickering.

Chapter 4

The hidden Cabinet

Stacy, Ash, and Arrow heard a door slam, then they heard someone scream but the restaurant was closed. They were the only people there they saw blood dripping down the walls and little children laughing and creepy music playing.

The music sang "La la la la la Laa, La la la la la Laa, La la la la la Laa."

Stacy cried "Get out you ghost please"

Then she remembered the hidden cabinet behind the sink to lead to the back exit and they went to the treehouse. They sat on the couch and read some scary stories. Then they heard something climbing up the ladder. It was singing the song they heard back at the restaurant and it was laughing. They found some rope in the corner of the room. They tied it to a window sill and climbed down the rope and they went to Stacy's house and when they saw her dad they were shocked.

Ash and Arrow saw Stacy's dad and they were shocked. Stacy's dad James looked up and cried happy tears he called his wife in and she cried happy tears too. Stacy was wondering what was going on. Then Ash said "Mom Dad is that you?"

"Yes Ash it's us.", James said.

They went in for a group hug. Their mom Emily was wondering how they got here, and why they were here

Stacy replied "We need your help dad we found this treehouse in the woods and we didn't know what it was but something is over there and it's really strange can you come with us over there please?"

He nodded yes and got his gear. He told Arrow to stay with mom and they would be back soon as possible. They got to the treehouse and the thing was still there and it spotted them and their dad shot it with a sleepy ingetogen. They took it to science and all went home and lived monster free.

For now.

The submarine problem

Cricket is 11yrs old and likes his fame because he is proud of himself because his dad built a submarine with him. His mother bought all of the materials cause his mom is the President and his dad is a super Genius and controls NASA. But his village is creepy. The reason why he thinks his village is creepy is because people are always looking through his window and his mom and his dad think it's very mean. He thinks it is very creepy and a little strange. He has no siblings and has a mom and a father like most people do.

This all takes place at his big mansion because his mom is The president and his dad is a super genius and has control of NASA but ends up very settling.

Once a night very dark there was this kid named Cricket and he likes inventing stuff and has already invented a submarine with his dad and his mom bought all of the materials but the project took TWO and a half years because all of the wires and they had to get lots of sleep.

"Mother me and dad's project is done could you announce this to the world".

"Yes my son i shall in a minute", as she is getting out of their pool.

"Mother dad and I just need to test how the submarine steers and make sure everything works in the system so that when people go underwater with the submarine no one sinks with it"as he replied.

"Ok" as she replied back.

The submarine problem

As Cricket and his dad goes to test the submarine Crickets mom starts to get worried about Cricket and his dad because she thinks that she is hearing stuff but all though she really isn't because she hears loud Knocking at the back door and the front door so she runs upstairs and hears a loud shatter from both front and back doors. Then she decides to go check it out and starts hearing people say "Whoever is here needs to come out or it can be the hard way!"

As she came out with a metal pipe she said "sir i have the Police on the line right now if you do not get out of this house i will force charges on you guys so I demand you to get out right now!" as she was at the bottom of the stairs.

They exclaimed "OK OK we are getting out right now give us some time jees!!"

Police were all around the house and they had SWAT teams everywhere because they were the most wanted in the state.

An hour later cricket and his dad came back and saw crickets mom crying Desperately trying to erase that from her head and Cricket came running to his mom saying Loudly "Mom mom what happened to you."

She says "Well there were these people who had broken into the house and Threatened me so I called the cops and they were everywhere. Then I started to cry because I was scared and glad but mainly scared because I Didn't want to lose you".

After that Cricket thought he forgot to do something and thought some more and Finally figured it out and said "submarine submarine" as he yelped

His dad said "what Happened to the submarine"

Cricket said "the Submarine we Left it unparked"

His dad said "oh no this is bad very bad" as his dad yelled.

The submarine problem

They went to go check it out and saw it sank right in front of them.

They heard people saying "you guys lied about inventing a submarine we are so disappointed in you guys!"

After that they started to throw stuff like rocks, glass bottles, and tomatoes at them.

Someone showed up at their house with a skull mask and said "If you want your future to change then say kazam and i will show up and you can tell me what desire you wish for.

his mom said "I wish for my future to change"

A few seconds later everything changed. The end

THE SCARY HALLOWEEN NIGHT

Pete, Freddy and Jack, were sitting in school, Pete is thirteen years old his friend Freddy is twelve years old and Jack is twelve years old too like Freddy, Pete had brown hair his height was medium and his friend Freddy had black curly hair and he is the same height of Pete, Jack had brown hair and his height was the same as Freddy so how Freddy, Pete and Jack met is when Pete was sitting alone on the cafeteria table suddenly Freddy and Jack went to his table and said,

"Why are you sitting here alone"

Pete said

"It's my first day here" and then Jack said "Do you wanna be friends with us"

Pete said "Sure" and that's how the characters in my story met.

First is Pete's house, second the neighborhood where the people are trick or treating, the third is the scary house, the scary house looked like it was abandoned but there were decorations in front of the house.

So this all happened on halloween night Pete was watching tv in his house and suddenly he heard a knock on the door so he went there and he saw Freddy and Jack in costumes and then when he opened the door Freddy said

"Come on dude let's go trick or treating," Pete said

"Ok i'll go change into my clothes"

When Pete was done changing into his outside clothes he went back downstairs and when he opened the door again Freddy asked him

"Why are you not wearing your halloween costume" Pete replied

"I don't have a halloween costume anymore my mom gave it to my cousin Lee"

Freddy said

"Ok get your bag"

"I have it on my back" said Pete after the discussion all three of them went trick or treating and they went to 53 houses except one house the scary house so when they were there Freddy and Jack were so scared so Pete was the one that was gonna knock on the door so he gathered his courage and knocked on the door first there was no answer the second knock was louder it sounded like this BOOM BOOM BOOM!!

When that happened a guy with a mask answered and the guy in the mask just grabbed Pete into the house Freddy and Jack screamed,

"PETE NO!" from behind Jack and Freddy was a tall guy and Jack looked behind him and said

"F-r-e-d-d-y" the big guy put a bag on Jack and Freddy's head and they were knocked to sleep so when they woke up they were tied up so Freddy asked Jack

"Do you have any scissors" jack replied

"Yes it's in my backpack"so freddy tried to reach jacks backpack and after a few seconds he finally got it and he cut the rope off his hand and he did the same too Jack too and then Freddy saw a vent so he went in the vent to find Pete, but then Jack saw him and told him,

" Where are you going your gonna get caught" Freddy told him "I'm gonna find pete you stay here" so Freddy explored the vents and he finally saw Pete he was tied up in a chair and then he went out of the vent Pete saw him and said,

"Freddy save me!" Freddy said

"Be quiet he might hear you" and Freddy heard someone walking towards the room, Freddy cut the rope and they escaped into the vent and went to the room Jack was in and then Jack said,

"How are we gonna get out of here?" Pete remembered the window upstairs when the guy brought him to the room so they all went upstairs to the room and saw the window Jack opened the window and he also went first and then Freddy last but not least Pete, but when Pete was climbing down suddenly he heard the guy in the mask coming to the room and Freddy said,

Hurry Pete!" Pete climbed down as fast as he could so he just jumped, and then when the guy in the mask was in the room he screamed

"GET BACK HERE!", and then all three of them escaped when they got to Pete's house Pete's mom asked what took you so long and then Pete hugged her but then in a couple of minutes later Freddy and Jack left to go home and then after all of food Pete was getting ready for bed but when he was in his room he looked at the window and he saw a guy with a mask outside his house, to be continued.

THE END THERE WILL BE A PART TWO

Sonic , Billie and Black shadow grab a Burger .

The Haunted House

Zack,Bob,Daisy.Zack is 17,Bob is 12,and Daisy is 10. They live in the country. In the country they loved to jump in haystacks and ride horses together. One Halloween they decided to go to the sheriff's place but they got lost in the woods and saw on the end of a cliff a big abandoned moldy,broken down mansion.

Zack and Bob said, "I think it would be fun to go in.

Daisy said, "Well it does look like one of those haunted houses like in the city."

Zack knocked on the door but nobody answered. He knocked again even harder and the door creaked open. They all went inside and they saw that the place was empty. Daisy said, "I think we should leave, I'm getting scared."

Zack and Bob just went deeper inside the house Daisy followed. They went up to check it out and found an old abandoned ballerina box . As Zack opened the box, he heard a big bang and turned around. As they turned around they noticed that bob was missing. They heard a loud scream both of them ran into the living like their life depended on it.ffWhen they got down there they saw Bob sitting there with something, with a black body, with razor sharp claws, and devil horns with red eyes.

Zack asked, "Bob are you okay."

Then Zack noticed the stink eye that Bob was giving him. They both ran out the house.

"I think we should go to the sheriff," Daisy said.

They ran to the sheriff's place and told him everything but he just laughed at them. They told him to follow them he did but when he saw the house.

He said, "Stay here, I'll go in. he went inside then after a few minutes you just heard a scream. They went inside and when they got inside they didn't see him. Then Daisy felt something "Ewwwwww," Daisy said disgustingly.

When they looked up they saw the sheriff covered in blood. They ran so quickly out the house. "We should get some more supplies," Zack said.

They went to Zack's house and got some weapons. After that they went to the house and when they got there the place had a beam coming out of the chimney. Zack pulled out his sword and started cutting up the demon. Daisy pulled out kunai knives and had been trying to cut the sheriff out while Zack was fighting the demon.

The demon got away and everyone thought they were safe but what they didn't know is that he would be back stronger than ever before, "I'll let you have this win but WE WILL BE BACK!!!!!!!!!!!!!!," said the demon.

One day me, my brother Henry and my mom Mrs. Rogers went on a hike on a beautiful mountain. Of course we brought food and water in case we got hungry or thirsty. Mrs. Rogers my mom insisted we keep going but i was worried cause we were just not looking at a map at all going into the unknown. We crossed a trail that looked like a giant "Y" then again, and again, and again. I suggested we go back, but of course Mrs. Rogers my mom once again insisted we keep going. I realized that I have a choice.

I can either ditch Henry and mom and go back, or I could keep going and keep positive thinking. I feel like ditching them to die here but I honestly care about them. Maybe if i convince them to start heading back maybe i could scare them so we all leave. I miss my comfy bed and my school friends and of course I MISS THE FOOD! I am really hungry but I think we should spare the food.

Henry said to my mom "I am getting scared" "Yeah can we leave yet?" I Agreed with my brother. "No we will keep going" mom said, giving us her serious face. "Why can't we just leave already!" I said. I was aiming for the "I WILL SCARE YOU" kind of look. But I just looked all sad, not terrifying. "We mustn't leave, it's amazing here. I am giving you the chance to see the world!" mom shouted.

"WELL I WANNA LEAVE IT'S BORING HERE AND WE'RE ALL GONNA DIE!" I screamed at the top of my lungs, birds flew away as they heard my shouting amongst the trees. I looked at my watch and I calmly said to my mother "we have two hours till night falls through the trees, the wind will howl and we will die" "don't be silly we ain't gonna die here! It's peaceful!" mom said, raising her voice. I started to raise my voice and I said "did you even listen to the sheriff? He said there's coyotes, bobcats, mountain lions, and bears". "Well let's head back now, I guess" mom said, looking very disappointed. "Um which way is back?" I said, scratching my head.

"Um i don't know" mom said, i could tell she was beginning to worry.

Suddenly we all heard a howl in the distance "they're coming" I said with fear on my face. My brother Henry looked pretty terrified too, as his face was flushed and pale. "We need fire" I said calmly as if everything was ok. "I have matches! 6 of 'em" said mom, as we all crowded around them as she tried to make them alright. And that's how we ended the night. In the morning we had breakfast sandwiches, and we did that every night until four days later.

As usual we had a fire, food and water but as we were scouting around i heard a rattlesnake! I quickly ran off as fast as I could, grabbing my mom, squeezing her shoulder. "WHAT I AM WORKING HERE!" mom shouted, pushing me away. "But mom! I heard a s-s-sna-ake!" I shouted back. "Don't be ridiculous!" mom shouted back, pushing me into the mud. I shouted back "YOU SICKO YA NEVER BELIEVE ME!" "yeah cause you're the most ridiculous daughter I have ever seen! In fact you're the WORST daughter i have ever seen in my whole life!" mom shouted back.

I ran off a bit trying to find a way to chill out. I was just throwing rocks into the riverbank, trying to cool off. Suddenly Henry ran to me and he said "you okay?" "nope moms just being unbelievable" i said, removing the ants from my legs as i was sitting in the sand. "Well i am gonna leave then. I am just really bored and scared at the same time" Henry said, he looked pretty sad and uncomfortable. Henry left, and I decided to go back to mom.

The next day I think I took a VERY wrong turn, because I saw claw marks on an aspen tree. I was totally spooked out, I kicked the tree for no reason. The tree fell down! It almost crushed me! I ran for my life. Of course I ran to my mom, who was talking to Henry. But suddenly, "MOM!" Henry screamed as mom fell to the ground on her knees! Then she fell face forward into the dirt.

It was horrifying, the first thing I thought was maybe she was tricking us? Maybe a prank? So I checked her pulse, I felt nothing. I told Henry "Henry she's...she's not breathing..u-um she's dead..." Henry started crying like a wolf howl, I started sobbing too, i mean it's really sad. I am gonna miss mom forever. The last word I said to her was "you sicko ya never believe me" . I can't believe those were the last words I said to her.

The next day I set out to find a twig so I could tear it apart. Me and Henry walked near our beloved mom's body. I still thought she was alive, but she wasn't. It's really hard to see someone you love not breathing, and dead on the floor, just thinking of it made me get tears in my eyes again. Henry and I just stood there for a minute looking at mom's dead body when suddenly Henry asked me "how are we gonna tell dad?" i decided not to tell him we are probably going to die out here so I said "I don't know" so we just stood there, thinking what to do.

"Hey Henry let's go find something like maybe a rock or something." I said to Henry as I moved past him. He said nothing, but he followed me. We just kept moving when suddenly we came across a cave. The cave was very dark so me and Henry stuck our heads in, then it all blacked-out. Up to this very day nobody survives when they enter that trail a group of 6 came in only half of one came out.

"Tattle Tale"

Written by: Cameron Hodge

Read Up Before You Go

Fifth Grade 10 years

3:00 AM Monday

I thought he was gone, "But it's just the beginning" my mother had told me. It's only just begun.

It was 3:00 AM when I awoke. Every bone in my body was tingling, "Hello?" I called in a hoarse voice.

No reply.

I lie back down. I hear it again, but with a crash. I'm at the verge of crying at this point. I couldn't make out exactly what it was, but someone was there! The figure was dressed in all black, to keep their identity hidden. I freeze. It creeps closer, and closer. I open my mouth to scream, but it quickly shoves a hand over my mouth. HELP!! I thought hoping someone could read minds. It grabs everything that looks pricey in my room, then whispers, "Don't be a tattle tale." In a blink of an eye it's gone. I curl into a ball and cry.

8:00 AM Monday

I didn't sleep after the burglary, my eyes were puffy and red. I put my uniform on and catch the bus just in time. As I get off the bus I get some "What-in-the-world-happened-to-her-looks". I ignore them and keep walking until I get to class. The teacher just stares at me while I enter the classroom. "Mckinley, you're tardy." Mrs. Hubbard says. I sent a text to my best friend Carly as soon as I took my seat. A split second later she replies "OMG. This no emoji type from you is HORRIFYING! What is wrong?" Carly is my only friend, surely, she'll understand. I start typing again "You BETTER be good at keeping secrets!! >:("

"WHAT?" She screams as we walk home, "HUSH! If you tell anyone, you and I are in trouble! It's just a burglary. I'm fine ok? I don't need you calling the cops either!" I scolded louder than she screamed. Don't be a tattle tale, rang in my head as I glanced at a tall male figure walking behind us. I finally see my house, "Bye!" before I could touch the door Carly shouts, "Wait! Are you going on the camping trip?" Oops, "Uh, my mum says she wants me in London for better scenery.. But I may go." I said nervously.

I knew I had to tell her I was leaving for a way different reason.

11:23 AM Tuesday

The class is waiting in a line at the bus getting bags checked, "Why are we getting bags checked. Like seriously like we're eleventh graders." I mutter, "They check to see if we have any weapons, or lighters." Carly sneers. I stare at whoever has been watching me like a creep as we get checked. "FINALLY" I exclaim as the bus driver signals to come in. I chose a seat in the back, "Epping Forest.." I mutter as I stare at my phone. Carly shrieks. "Jesus, Carly. Simmer down." Everything went black after that, I suppose I fell asleep because an hour or two later I heard the camp instructor walk on the bus and say, "Welcome to Camp Epping!" I walk out the bus giving half of the students the "Dude-stop-trying-to-find-cellular-data-we're-in-a-forest" look.

Tent wolf. I read on my card. I look around. I'm in the middle of all the tents- oh. I look up and see the tent with a wolf on it, I walk to it and see two other students, "Hi..?" I mumble while unrolling my sleeping bag. They nod. After I get settled we all walk out, "I'm M.C." I say nervously, "Charles, and Lo." I smile, "Want to go hiking?" They smile and nod. Maybe I'm not an outcast after all. I thought, hopefully.

"STOP TATTLE TELLING!" Yells one of the students as we get back from the hikes, "Oh my GOSH! Lily! That was REPORTING! YOU. STOLE. My phone for cellular data!" Exclaims another student. "Oooh. Someone's in trouble." Lo says in a low chuckle. I nod. "UGH! Just GET OUT of my face!" Lily shrieks. We walked to the tent ducking our heads low, Stop tattle telling, rang in my head for the rest of that day. The camp director calls us out at about dinner time, "I hope y'all are enjoying y'all's stay at Camp Epping!" The camp director says. A few murmurs ripple through the crowd. I sit in the back only half listening, "If any of y'all have anything that we can improve, tell us!" The camp director continues, "Oh! I'm sorry, I haven't told y'all m' name! Please call me Director Lavender." I stand up and walk to the lake to kayak. One last night here and I go to London, I thought ruefully. I hear three loud bells. Finally I can sleep. I turn the kayak around and paddle slowly to the dock, Director Lavender smiles and says, "I can handle it." I nod slowly and walk to my tent. Lo and Charles are already asleep, I lie down in my sleeping bag and drift off.

It's about 9:00 AM when I woke I peek out the tent and see someone watching me, "Hey guys.. Surprised y'all are already up. Want to go out to the lake?" I ask in my least tired voice. Their smiles are as bright as two full moons, "Of course!" We grabbed a board and walked to the lake in our swimsuits. I paddle faster than both of them, "Oh gosh." Lo stares at her watch, "We have to get packing." We all frown. We manage to get to the tent as the busses arrive, "WAIT!" We scream. They stop mercifully. The long drive home was annoying but we made it in the end. Then they dropped us each off at our homes. The kid who's following me must be new because he gets off where I do. I make a face.

11:30 AM Wednesday

I never told her. I just slept, woke up, and hopped in a taxi. The taxi drove so slow. By the time we get to the docks it's almost time for the boat to leave, "Ello there! I'm Cathrine, if you 'ought to need anything. Tell us! Don't hesitate." I nod, Ahoy, I guess. I think wryly. I gasped as I entered. The first thing I do is find my room F13 HOW LUCKY! I growl in my head. I find my room and trudge inside, "Nice view." I mutter to myself. I flopped on my bed (And most likely fell asleep) because I awoke what seemed like a good thirty minutes by the loud intercom, "Thank you for boarding the SeaLion, Now we have about three hours until our stop, London!" The captain said over the intercom.

There's a loud banging noise that seemed to come from the room next door. I shiver from head to toe, I walk to the next door. I knock. There was a bone wracking pause. Then a tall male, about my age answers, "Why hello." he says. I hope I managed not to look like I was recently in a shipwreck, "Hey, uh. I just heard two loud bangs. Are you ok?" He stared at me for a moment then chuckled, "Oh dear, God. It was probably my clumsy self dropping the pots. Tea?" I shuffle on my feet then nod.

"Lucas" he says "And you?" "McKinley, but M.C. please." He nods and sips tea. I do the same. "Bet." He chuckles. I look at him in confusion, "Bet, this ship is 'ought to crash." I shiver, "Well.. I should get some sleep." I say as I stand up. He nodded as if saying "Alright, night." Something in my bones said he was awfully familiar..

4:03 AM Thursday

I hear violent winds outside, "A storm." I muttered, bewildered, Unlucky, I thought. I hear pots clatter, Lucas! I smiled. I throw on some jeans and a cardigan. Then take off, "Hey." He says. I wave and grasp the door, well, attempt. I end up grabbing his arm, "Sorry." I mumble as the ship sways in the wind. He invites me in with a warm smile, "Never a problem." He locks the door behind him, "It can swing open." I nod a little nervously, "So why are you going to London?" He asks as he sits down. I rub my hands together, "Family." I try.

He nods, "Ah, I see. Not, running away?" I hope my face didn't say "Full-On-Terror" I gulp, "Why are you going?" I ask. He walks to the sliding door that leads to the balcony, I follow recuallently, "Photography." He grabs my arm with an iron grip, "Stop!" I shouted as he dragged me outside to the storm. HE IGNORED ME? Yelled the dignified part of me. He pushes me to the railing, "I robbed you! How could you not know! On monday I robbed you!" I froze in terror, he pushed me so I faced the water, "You were-" I was abruptly interrupted by him shouting, "YES! I was there. I followed you. But. Now I want you to die because I can't have you tatttle again." He pushes me over the edge. I shriek as I fall to the water, "Don't be a tatttle tale. Ever again."

THE WOODS

By:Hadley George

CHAPTER 1: HELP!

"Mom please don't go!". Those are the last words Jasmine said to her mom when she died and ever since that day she's been lonely and scared.

It has been a year since that day.

And her mom has haunted her ever since that night.....

She lives in the woods alone. She's scared most of the time, because it's dark and she feels like someone watches her at night.

She's skinny, because she doesn't have much money for food.

Her hair is always in a messy bun and she wears a pink backpack and she is 16 years old.

She goes to a lake near her house to wash herself and her clothes. She does the best she can to survive.

Jasmine works at the richest house in the world; it's owned by the wife of the mayor of the town.

"But Mrs.rose I have been cleaning your house for 12 hours!" Jasmine said.

Jasmine was so tired.

One night she was walking home from work. It's a long scary walk. Six miles all the way home.

She heard a whisper behind her it sounded like "come girl" so she turned around and no one was behind her.

"I hope I make it home," she said under her breath.

She walked through the dark woods and she walked inside of her house. Then she said, "oh no the kidnapper is here".

She runs through the woods and she gets lost and hears footsteps behind her.

"HELP!!! SOMEONE HELP ME THE KIDNAPPER IS HERE!!".

"Hi girl I finally found you". The kidnapper had a black hoodie and green eyes.

"YOU TOOK MY SISTER!! AND YOU'RE NOT GOING TO TAKE ME!".

Her sister was only 10 years old when the kidnapper kidnapped her.

"PLEASE GO AWAY FROM MY HOUSE!!!!" said Jasmine.

"WELL GIRL YOU BETTER RUN FAR AWAY FROM MY TOWN!!"

Jasmine took two steps back and ran so fast she didn't see anything from the distance.

CHAPTER 2 - TELEPORTING

"Where am I" Jasmine said.

The field was covered with thick green grass.

"HEY YOUNG LADY GET OFF MY PROPERTY!!" said an old man with a cane.

"Ok ok" said Jasmine under breath.

She wondered "where are the woods".

She closed her eyes. When she opened them she was in the woods!

She was so hungry and cold.

"What? I was just in a field," then she hears footsteps walking towards her so she closes her eyes again but this time she ends up in a skeleton world.

She closed her eyes again and then she was inside her house. But it looked very unusual.

She looked outside and saw a little girl that looked like her and she realized it was her mom.

When she was a little girl. Jasmine said "What's happening?" How come every time I close my eyes I'm in a different place?

She realized that her mom was making her teleport and showing her things that happened to her when she was a little girl.

Jasmine remembers her mom telling her about the kidnapper when she was sick.

"What but how can this be happening to me?" Jasmine said.

CHAPTER 3 -THE GHOST

Jasmine's mom was a ghost so she was used to the plates breaking and screaming at night but one night it went too far.

"Lalala" her mom sang in the middle of the night.

"Mom is that you?" jasmine said

"HAHA! Yes sweetie it's me" said her mom with a deep voice.

"Sweet heart I'm coming for you HAHA!".

So Jasmine snuck out of the window.

And ran so fast that she passed out.

"What happened and why am I in my room?" Jasmine said.

"Sweetheart is that you?"

"Um.. YEAH!"

"Come here just for a second"

"Um ok"

"Um I'm here"

"Now if you want everything to come back to normal you have to play a little game now if you don't win you have to run far away from this house! Ok!"

"Um ok! I'll do it!"

Now Jasmine has to blink her eyes and hide somewhere so her mom can't find her.

"OK READY 1,2,3 START!"

Jasmine hid some where no one could find her so she supposed her mom couldn't find her.

She hid under her house.

Then her mom gave up so it was her turn to try to find her mom.

She was thinking and thinking and then she remembered when she was little her mom hid in an old farm so she went over there.

"Ha I found you"

"Well you won so I guess I have to go and haunt someone else so bye sweetheart I'll just go".

"Bye mom"

So she blinked and she was in her kitchen staring at the wall

2 years have passed and she's 18 years old and she got a college scholarship and she told everyone what happened to her when she was 16 years old.

THE END

The Girl with Purple Eyes

by Brielle Conner

Hello, my name is Brielle. I go to private school for the extraordinary it helps people with powers like me. I have dark brown eyes that turn purple when I use my powers which are teleportation and mind reading. so I also have a necklace that glows when someone needs help. Scientists around the world want n so I have to stay hidden.

I have two friends one is a ghost she wasn't always a ghost though I'll tell you later her name is luna she's 12 and a prankster we met from me reading by myself at a park bench and she was human at the time and she saw me and then we started talking we talked for hours we instantly became friends we met at that park every single day she was very comforting then I met, Cricket no he's not a real cricket he's ten and has dirty blonde hair and is very playful.

I live in Florida by the beach in an old cottage. I don't have parents. I get good grades. I'm very poor. I work at a coffee shop which is barely enough to pay bills. I also have to lie about my age to be able to live by myself but I'm tall so they believe me. I usually stay at Luna's house with her mom. One day luna and Brielle went on a walk Brielle felt a presence behind her thankfully it was just luna pranking her again

"oh luna you scared me I thought you were another scientist," said Brielle in a little giggle, "I told you would get you one day," said luna while doing her victory dance but then Brielle felt another person but not luna "okay luna you can't scare me anymore," said Brielle confidently "um Brielle that's not me," said Luna in a scared voice "run!" shouted Brielle "haha you fall for that every time"

Then the next day luna said she would try to figure out how she became a ghost I think like a witch or something cursed us cause I did bump into someone on the day she turned into a ghost .cause when we were playing a game and there was a tall lady we bumped into her and we helped her pick up her stuff but there was a weird wand thingy and ever since that day luna has been a ghost now back to the story

"Hey luna you know that lady with that wand looking thingy," said Brielle in a shaky voice "Yeah I liked her pointy shoes," said luna cheerfully

"The clues are adding up," said Brielle like she had an idea

"What clues," said luna confused

" she has pointy shoes a wand thingy she had to be a witch"

"Yeah when we bumped into her my stomach started to hurt so she cursed me!"
"so she was a witch!" they both shouted

"So how do I get her to uncure me" Brielle necklace started to glow

"Ooooh," said luna excitedly wonder what going to happen this time the necklace started to say something

"what you fear is what you seek it'll be on the highest peak"

"So what is your biggest fear and the highest peak," said Brielle curiously

"The highest peak is Mount Everest and my fear is heights"

Then how are we supposed to get there if you're scared of heights"

"I don't know "

"Well we have to figure out soon"

"You'll just have to face your fear if you don't want to be a ghost anymore," said Brielle

"Fine" said luna

"Then let's go said Brielle

"My mom might have tickets she saves them for some reason" said luna

"Okay then let's go to your house" said Brielle

when they arrived they went to Mount Everest we began to climb but then I felt something. It was a scientist. He grabbed me and covered my mouth. I went to his lab and found my sister! Turns out they were trying to experiment on us. Luna came through the wall and began to unlatch the buckle. Then for my sister, we snuck out and went back. We reached the top and found a vile Luna drinking it. Her hands became translucent than her arms and legs and body! Luna was back! My sister and I were united. Then I lived with my sister's parents and they said it would be fine if I could live with them and have a happy life. I still visited Luna and she visited me.

A very long time ago a 19 year old scientist was convinced that aliens were real. So he went to his lab and built a rocket that would take him anywhere he wanted to go in the galaxy.

He explored the galaxy and found no alien life. When he returned to his lab he worked on making real aliens. Two years passed, and he created one real alien. In the next year, there were over one point seven billion aliens on planet earth. The military wanted the aliens to fight in the war for more protection because of the power that the aliens had. Other countries fought over the aliens' power. This created a new war of who was going to keep all the aliens for extra protection. Harbert had no choice what he had to do, so he sent the aliens in a rocket to the moon to find a brand new and safe home away from the war.

Once, there was a very spooky and haunted graveyard on the moon that had a horrifying smoky and foggy fog. Every Friday night when it was 12:00 A.M., the graveyard would come alive and the walking dead would attack from each corner to kill more and more aliens. Poor aliens, they didn't know what to do to survive each Friday night, the aliens were horrified. What were they supposed to do about this horrible problem? On one Sunday evening, the aliens got new neighbors. The new neighbors didn't look like any aliens they had ever seen before because they were human beings. The aliens got scared and hid in their bright glowing green houses that look like alien faces.

Harminoe and her family

Hello, my name is Harminoe. I love to wear a fuzzy white robe with my sparkly silver scarf. My favorite hobbies are writing and reading. I'm very lonely here on the moon because we just moved in and we scared everyone into their houses. I have a cat that keeps me company every day, though. My sister Jenaveve can not stop talking about fashion ideas for her blog. She has black hair and green eyes. She loves taking selfies all the time. She wears her dark and silky jacket all the time with her dark and soft long, thin boots. My mom is very happy and excited all the time. Ever since we moved to the moon, my mom has made us bright glowing green moon pancakes. My dad has been grumpy and upset ever since we left the earth because he left his best friend and the aliens do not keep him in good company.

Diary writing time

September 8th 2009: Dear diary, this is our first full month living on the moon. I'm a little worried about the aliens around us because on every Friday night at 12:00 A.M. I hear screaming outside. I've also noticed that the aliens don't go anywhere near the graveyard at all. I tried to figure out what they're so afraid of, but I just can't figure it out. So I decided to go outside on a Friday night to find out what was going on.

September 9th 2009: Dear diary, I just got back from outside and I found out that the dead aliens come to life and come out of the graveyard to kill other aliens.

September 16th 2009: Dear diary, it has been a week since last Friday. I saw that the dead aliens were going to a specific part of town, so tonight I'm going to find out where the dead aliens are going.

Discovering secrets

So, I'm out of the house and right now I'm following the walking dead. It took three minutes to get to the location and I got scared when I saw a huge silver alien just ten yards away from me. All the dead aliens were bowing to him. I found out his name was Thanose. Thanose spotted me and ordered his slaves to take me to him. He looked very scary and he definitely was. As soon as I could escape, I took the chance and I faced many very scary and dangerous obstacles.

I was trapped in a huge brick box with water filling it up, I was lucky that I knew how to float. The second task I had to face was spikes on the ground that I could not see. I got a few scratches on my arms and legs. The third task I had to face was which alien goo was the right one to get across the walking dead wall of fire. The fourth and final task I had to face to escape was the wall of being yourself. I was afraid of not being myself anymore.

Talking to my family

As soon as I got back to my house, I told my family what Thanose was planning. Thanose was planning to destroy the population of aliens and use them for slaves. My mom was afraid if I was putting myself in danger because of the very dangerous obstacles I faced just to escape Thanose and his dead alien slaves.

My dad didn't care about what happened to me, he just wanted his friend from when we lived on Earth.

My sister was just in her own blog land, i think she just wanted to add more to her blog and win one point five billion dollars.

My mom told me not to go out and be near the walking dead aliens because she wanted to protect me from harm. Of course, I had to find a way to stop Thanose from destroying the alien population. I had a plan, but I would need to have good aliens on my side for protection. That part of my plan was going to be tricky. No aliens here can trust my family or me because we just moved in a few weeks ago. Something bad happened before we even moved in.

Diary Writing time

October 2, 2009: Dear diary, I tried my best to make friends here, but I have made no friends. I have made some progress by giving an alien a bouquet of bright, glowing green astronoids.

October 9, 2009: Dear Diary, It has been a week since I tried to make a friend but right now, I have only three alien friends. It took a lot of trying and perseverance to get the alien friends and earn their trust. The alien's names are Sofie, Clay, and Lenny. I told my new friends about what I learned about Thanose and his plan. My friends agreed to give me some protection when I meet face to face with Thanose. At the end of the day, we came up with a brand new plan to take down Thanose and stop the dead aliens from killing my family and the good aliens.

Planning time

Our plan was to find Thanose. As soon as we saw Thanose go into his palace, we would fight and put back his slaves' bodies back into their coffins. Next, Sofie and I would put poison in Thanose's cup to drink. Sofie and Clay and I will burn off Thanose's arms, while Lenny protects us with his healing shield. After that, all four of us would fight off the walking dead aliens, and with Thanose's arms burnt off, he cannot fight us, especially with the poison in his body that would weaken him. Once all the fighting is done, my three friends will use their powers to make sure that the dead aliens don't become walking dead aliens any more.

Andrew Hoffmann

Grade 4 / 10 yrs old

711

I was in bed just like a normal night... I'm sorry let me backup so I can introduce myself hi my name is Andrew Hoffmann and back to what I was talking about

I was in bed just like a normal night. I thought I was having a nightmare but I wasn't. It was totally real, everything was pixelated!! I tried splashing water in my face but it did not work. It was real. That ment I had to find my home. I cut down a tree. It did not fall. It flouted! I finished cutting down that strange tree. I said "I wonder if all these trees were like that?" It turns out they were. I started to put the wood down on the ground. It made a house. I had extra wood and made a block and I put 2 sticks and three wood planks and it made something that looked like a pickaxe. But I should know this place is weird. So I dug until I got to the stone and then I started to dig with my pickaxe and got something that looked like cracked stone. So I named it cobblestone. And then I went back to my little hut in the forest, and I expanded my home and now its flame proof. The next day I went exploring and I found a town-like thing. It was a village. There were little villagers walking around so I went down and all they wanted was to trade stuff! So I traded him a chicken for a few emeralds and I traded food and Iron so I did build armor so I could fight that skeleton-like thing with a bow and arrow so that's what I did. I fought it. And it dropped a bone, so it was a skeleton. And I went on my way. I took every block of my house and moved in the village so they gave me bread for an emerald so I got all the stuff they wanted to trade, so I ended up with 64 emeralds to trade. In the shadows of night, there was a hissing noise, so I went to go see what it was. It looked like me but green and it had four legs and by the time I got close it blew up and pain went through me so I went home and never bothered it again. That's when a zombie started chasing me so all I had was a wooden sword so I tried to get back to my house as quick as I could, And then I went to sleep. The next morning I started to chop down trees so I could make a shovel and a picaxe, then I started to start digging just outside of the village I used my shovel until I hit some gray stuff I figured it was stone so then I started using the picaxe I made and then I got 12 blocks deap and then my pickaxe break so I went back up to make another and all I had where sticks and cobblestone so I made a stone pickaxe and then night fell so then I went to my house and I slept. The next day I went exploring and then I found a wild wolf so I went down there and gave it the bone I got from that skeleton and then hearts started coming out of it and it obeyed me so I guess it is my dog. I headed back to my house in the village and then it was night before I knew it!

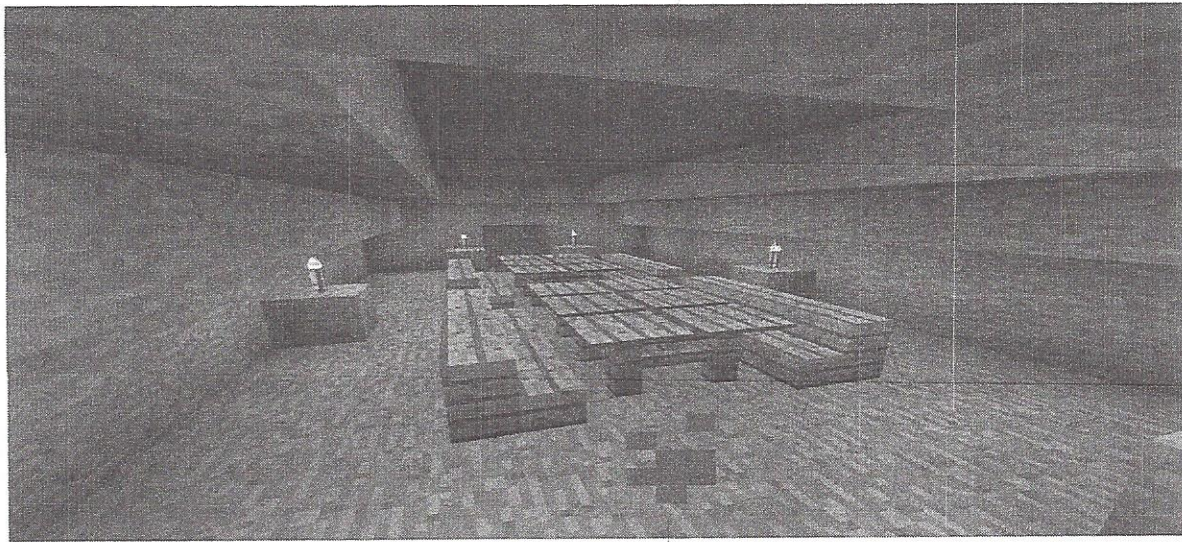

That night I guess I was not sleeping and then I got attacked by a zombie and my dog jumped in and saved my life so we were fighting all night so when I got back to the village my stomach was growling so I traded for so bread I ate some and my dog ate some too. That day I went out to mine near me.

And I found a planning center.

Someone was coming back so was hiding from this guy he had white eyes and then he disappeared.

And then I turn around and then he looks at me and out of the blue I just randomly started to die but I am so happy I did not.

Once upon a time there was a boy named Dylan who lived in a little town called Blue Fox. Blue Fox is a town full of happy people, and a beautiful green forest. One day Dylan and his friends Abiyaniel, Omar and Johjan decided to investigate the big tree deep in the middle of the forest. They packed their supplies, put their boots and headed over to the entrance of the forest.

At the entrance there was a mysterious man telling people to stay away from the forest."but why?" said Dylan , to which the mysterious man responded " in the forest lives a horrendous and evil monster". They were not impressed by the man's story and moved forward with their expedition.

They walked for a long time until they stopped for a break Abiyaniel and Omar felt something in the forest.

They went to the forest, there was nothing there then we came home to rest.The other morning the same.
