

STUDENTS

Student Publications

Student publications produced as part of the school's curriculum or with the support of the associated study body fund are intended to serve both as vehicles for instruction and student communication. They are operated and substantively financed by the student body and the school district.

Material appearing in such publications should reflect all areas of student interest, including topics about which there may be controversy and dissent. Controversial issues may be presented provided that they are treated in depth and represent a variety of viewpoints. Such materials may not be libelous, obscene or profane nor may they cause a substantial disruption of the school, invade the privacy of others, demean any race, religion, sex or ethnic group, advocate the violation of the law or school rules, or advertise cigarettes (including tobacco products and/or electronic delivery devices), liquor, marijuana, illicit drugs, or drug paraphernalia.

Adopted: September 8, 1993

Revised: July 16, 2014