Assignment

Write 4 journal entries/ reflections about Senator Sasse's book. Write an entry every time you feel inspired to do so, but try to space them out by about 40-50 pages. These reflections can be about anything you would like, so long as they relate to the book. They can be about what you like about the writing, what you do not like about it, or how his words apply to something going on in the world today. Write something that shows me who you are as a student. Be smart. Be witty. Be passionate. Be you.

Grading: Read carefully

- Begin each entry with a page number from the book that indicates the page you last read. For example: Entry 1/ page 43
- Include a quotation (with page number in parenthesis after the quote) in your reflection. This could be from any of the pages you have just read.
- Be thoughtful and earnest in your reflections.
- Each reflection should be 250-300 words (1 double spaced page).
- Be prepared to turn in your work on the 2nd day of school to Turn it In for a Test Grade. Unless excused by administration, all late work will be assigned -10% deduction per day late.
