

Middle School Remote Learning Policy for 2021-2022

Because teachers can be most effective in one learning mode at a time, and because we have found that developmentally, students in Middle School engage best in person, Middle School will not offer a full remote option for students for any reason.

That is, remote learning will not be offered for reasons including, but not limited to, medical appointments, sick days, travel, or other commitments that require missed days of school.

Middle School will offer temporary remote learning for students who need to isolate or quarantine after a positive COVID test or after a COVID exposure. This will be offered at the discretion of the school nursing team and the Division Head.

Temporary remote learning for students will be done through Zoom, and faculty will make every effort to include those students in daily class activities and discussions.

Teachers will partner with students and guide them in completing their work after absences, just as in any school year.
