CLASS OF 2021

COMMENCEMENT

Wow! 2021! This year has been a wild ride! One for the books! You know books the things ... you know that things collecting dust on your tv stand. Today, I can talk about how amazing student you were this year. How you always want were on time for class, how you got up extra early to be brush your hair, wash your face and so you turn on your camera for class, how you answered every question in class, or how you never asked for help from your peers because learning the material this year was super important to you. I can talk about my extraordinary scholarship but that is in the past. As you venture out into the world, adulthood is on the horizon. As a functioning adult, let me provide you with helpful rules for making sure that you have life figured out. If you follow these rules, I promise you will be success at this adulting thing:

- First Rule: Learn the rules. Then make your own! No one or nothing creates the guidelines for your life. Guide your ship and create your path. Even if it a new one.
- Protect your space. It is okay to create a healthy boundary. If it bothers, you acknowledge it and remove it. You must be the primary protector of your peace.
- Do it! Even in fear. New things, new places, new ideas can be scary and unfamiliar. Do them. even if it scares you! do it in fear. You will be glad you did it.
- When you lose! Do not lose the lesson. It may not have turned out how you wanted but the lesson will always be yours to keep.
- Make Peace with your past. So, it will not disturb your present. Your past does not owe you any expectations but the present answers only to you.
- Stand for Something. Do not let life happen around you. Step into a purpose and contribute to make our community better for those who come after us.

The last rule to make sure you have life figured out is to understand NO One really ever has life figured out. So, chase a dream, change that dream and chase it again. Your life does not stop and start at different stage. So, you must live life every day.

2021 today marks the first day of many amazing days. Cherish this moment. Hug your friends and thank your family. The halls of White Oak are different since you graced them in 2009. And when you leave , the our halls will be a little brighter , kinder and radiant because of you. We thank you for that. We love you 2021!
