RE: Report of Barbara Harrington Grant – Summer 2017

DATE: June 1, 2017

Darien Advocates for the Education of the Gifted (DAEG) has announced the award of 19 grants to Darien teachers totaling $14,879.00 for advanced studies, workshops, conferences and curriculum development. Thanks to the generosity of DAEG members and the Darien community, we are pleased to provide funding to enthusiastic teachers whose applications fit our criteria of further development of their teaching skills and bringing that knowledge back to the classroom, ultimately benefiting Darien students.

The applications for this year reflect both independent study and collaborative efforts of Darien faculty as they pursue their interests and identify areas where they would like to gain more knowledge. Grants have been awarded this year to 5 high school teachers, 2 middle school teachers, and 12 elementary teachers. Details about each of the grants can be found below.

The Barbara Harrington Fund was established in 1984 by DAEG in honor of Barbara Harrington, founder of Darien's IDEA Program for gifted students. Open to all teachers in the Darien Public Schools, the Barbara Harrington Fund offers teachers the opportunity to take courses that enrich their ability to deliver their curriculum. The grants are funded by contributions of members of the Darien Advocates for Education of the Gifted and other donors. Grant applications are processed by a committee of DAEG members along with central office and school administrators from all levels.

RE: Report of Sydnor and Miriam Reiss Teachers Fund for Further Study – Summer 2017

DATE: May 31, 2017

The Sydnor and Miriam Reiss Teachers Fund for Further Study, Inc. was established in memory of a former Chairman of the Darien Board of Education, Sydnor V. Reiss, and his wife Miriam. The purpose of the fund is to foster excellence in the Darien schools by providing scholarships for study to Darien teachers. This year, the Reiss Committee, led by Susan Vogel and Dr. Carolyn Langelier will be offering all Darien teachers the opportunity to attend Reiss' First Annual Teachers Conference. To date, we have over 125 teachers from all seven schools planning on attending this very special event on June 22nd.

The conference will open with Taylor Mali,"Teacher-Advocate, Four-time National Poetry Slam Champion and Author" and end with John West, "NYC's top Speech Coaches." In addition, Darien teachers will be able to grow their craft with provocative break-out sessions. Attached you will find a more detailed description of each of the break-out sessions.

On behalf of the Darien Public Schools, I would like to thank the generosity of our PTO's as well as the community for its continued generosity to our teachers.

I look forward to answering any questions at the Board of Education meeting on June 6th.

Sincerely,

Susie Da Silva, Ed.D
Assistant Superintendent of Schools
Be the Rock Star in Your Classroom
Join STAR 99.9 Radio Host Anna Zap and Station General Manager Kristen Okesson for a rocking good time. From the radio studio to your classroom, it's no longer enough to good, you must rock! Put the proven listener engagement practices of some of the country's best run radio stations to work for you in the classroom! Mindfulness Practice for a Life That Matters
When you intentionally use your everyday life to bring about positive change in the lives of others, you begin to live a life that matters. When we live our lives intentionally, for others, we begin to see the world through eyes other than our own, and that inspires us to do more than belong -- we participate. We do more than care; we help. We go beyond being fair; we are kind. We go beyond dreaming; we work. Why? Because we want to make a difference. Through this one hour workshop, Dr. Tara Levinson will help you explore the basics of Mindfulness and how to make it work for you both in your personal and professional lives. It will help you act intentionally when dealing with that difficult situation at home or at work.

Release Your Inner Writer
Why are we, as humans, driven to make up stories? Storytelling helps people understand with their hearts and not just their heads. Putting words on paper is a time-honored way to make sense out of the chaos around us, with the roots of storytelling going all the way back to cave art. Join author and creative writing instructor Elise Chidley for an inspirational look at how releasing the inner writer in all of us--whether we write for ourselves or for publication--can empower us to make beauty and meaning out of the raw materials of life around us.

That's SO Gay! Cultivating Safe, Inclusive and Affirming Spaces
Student Advocate Alberto Cifuentes leads a workshop introducing participants to the diverse and effective resources and programs GLSEN offers to educators as well as some strategies for becoming a better ally to LGBTQ students. More specifically, you will learn about GLSEN and GLSEN Connecticut; discuss homophobia and transphobia as well as anti-LGBTQ bullying/harassment in a safe, nonjudgemental space and identify specific tools and methods for making schools and your classroom safe for all students.

Think and Act Like an Entrepreneur
If you've dreamed of becoming an entrepreneur or simply wondered how entrepreneurs find and act on opportunities, this session is for you! Dale Jasinski, Associate Professor of Entrepreneurship and Strategy at Quinnipiac University, will lead an interactive discussion on how he uses the perspective of entrepreneurship -- spotting the possibilities, turning frustration into opportunities, cultivating deep and critical thinking, in his classroom and how you can apply these same techniques to create your own exciting and rewarding classroom innovations.

RE: Status Report of the Graduating Class of 2017

Attached please find the summary report on the post-secondary plans for the graduating class of 2017. When reviewing the information in the packet please keep in mind that the majority of the data is garnered from student self-reporting or information directly from colleges and universities. In addition, some of the information is still subject to change as students modify their plans for the following year. As in previous years the class of 2017 has performed very well and is planning on pursuing their post-secondary education in a variety of settings. Further details and analysis of the report will be discussed during the presentation.

Memo

May 31, 2017

To: Dan Brenner, Ph.D., Superintendent of Schools
From: Susie Da Silva, Ed.D., Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum and Instruction, K-12
Re: K-12 Enrollment 2016-2017/Projected Enrollment: Kindergarten 2017-2018

Below you will find current enrollment figures for grades K-12 by school. In addition, I have included an update on the projected Kindergarten Enrollment for the 2017-2018 school year.

I look forward to answering any questions at the Board of Education meeting on June 6, 2017.
