

ADULT ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Course Description

This course prepares students to understand human relationships involving individuals and families. Topics include career and workforce preparation, family, parenting, money management, decision-making skills, communication skills, self-awareness, crisis management, and individual roles and responsibilities within the family, community, and workforce.

Priority Standards / CTE Strands

- Participate in activities that help increase their self-awareness, values, goals, decision making strategies, and career options.
- Identify effective communication in interpersonal relationships.
- Recognize the functions and purposes of responsible dating.
- Identify the aspects and importance of marriage preparation and examine behaviors that strengthen marital and family relationships.
- Identify the various skills and responsibilities of parenting.

Performance Skills

- The class will complete FCCLA Step One
- Identify four personal values and explain how these values affect behavior and choices.
- Research a Human Services career that includes educational requirements, skill development, and income potential.
- Practice using at least two constructive communication skills.
- Set personal rules/responsibilities related to dating behaviors that support personal values.
- State your personal beliefs about marriage and develop a list of characteristics, qualities, and values desired in a marriage partner.
- Develop a realistic monthly budget, based upon a set income, which includes savings, housing, utilities, transportation, insurance, clothing, entertainment, and miscellaneous categories.
- Apply positive guidance techniques to resolve three child-rearing problems.
- FCCLA Integration into the course
- Develop professional and interpersonal skills needed for success in industry.

