

Hiring standards for new SFA Directors

The hiring standards for School Food Authority (SFA) Directors are based on the size of their Local Educational Agency (LEA):

- 2,499 or fewer students
- 2,500-9,999 students
- 10,000 or more students

See the USDA Professional Standards Web site for additional information.

State Agency Directors of School Nutrition Programs and State Distributing Agencies also must meet hiring and training standards.

See the Professional Standards Web site for specific information.

Check with your State agency for availability of training and other resources to meet education/training standards - many are free!

USDA is an equal opportunity provider and employer.

Professional standards are here!

As part of the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act (HHFKA), the USDA has established minimum hiring requirements for some, and training requirements for all school nutrition program employees.

This is an important step toward ensuring that ALL of America’s children receive safe, nutritious meals through efficient, cost-effective programs.

Professional standards:

- ASSIST State agencies and School Food Authorities (SFAs) with recruiting, hiring, training, and retaining qualified school nutrition staff.
- ENHANCE the image of school nutrition professionals and their influence in the community.
- BUILD skills and empower school nutrition staff to lead and operate nutrition programs that:
 - EXCEED the expectations of students, parents, and the local community.
 - COMPLY with Federal meal pattern requirements for healthy meals.
 - MEET food safety standards.
 - MAXIMIZE the use of USDA Foods.
 - USE available resources to plan and serve cost-effective meals.
 - ACCOMMODATE students’ special dietary needs.
