

My kind of a leader.

Meets

What makes a fantastic leader? I think a fantastic leader is a trust worthy, enthusiastic person, who also can hold up to his word, and who tells the truth. It shouldn't matter what they look like, or even what their personality is like. The only thing that matters is that they can do their job. ☺ Beautiful!

For someone to be trust worthy to me is that they tell the truth. Also for someone to be trust worthy it takes time.

Also to be enthusiastic! Not to take every thing like the world's about to end but to have fun when their doing, and to love what they do. Especially no one likes someone that demands orders of them.

When I mean hold up to their word is that when they say something that there going to do but they do, do it. Nobody likes someone when they get their attention on what they want to fix and when their elected, then they just sit back and do nothing. We need them to be honest.

A leader that I would prefore is that they are enthusiastic, trust worthy, fun, honest, and also someone who sticks to their words. No one likes demanding. If you just ask nicely, then you would have a better percentage of them helping than not helping you. And that is what a fantastic leader should be!
