

Favorite Toy

Nearly Meets 7A

A lot of people put their favorite toy as a cell phone or a video game, but my favorite toy or toys, are my baseball stuff. Well it's more like baseball.

I have a lot of history with baseball, I started T-ball in Brookings, Oregon when I was only four years old. After that my family and I moved to Eugene, Oregon. In Eugene I played for the first couple years in a league that wasn't so good. But by the time I was nine, I had moved into the elite league Eugene. At first it was difficult, but after a while I got the hang of it. In two thousand nine, my team made it to the state wide playoffs, we won five games in a row to win the state championship. The summer before my seventh grade year I move to Grants Pass, Oregon. I am a second baseman and a pitcher on the Tigers playing little league for the first time.

Many major leaguers have inspired me, one of them is Derek Jeter, he has the most hits in Yankee history! Another player I admire is Dustin Pedroia, he is the best second baseman in the MLB. Another one is Stephen Strasburg, he could throw

'NEXT PAGE

one huddled two miles per hour in his rookie season
There are a lot of major league players that I look up to.

The reason I like baseball is that I am very competitive, competitive with just about everything from who rolls up there window to who can savor
the delicious ice cream sandwich the longest.

Another reason I like baseball is that I like to go out side, with the fresh cut grass, and just the smell of a nice day. My third and final reason I like baseball is that it is simply fun, getting to go out there, get up to bat and the satisfaction of hitting a home run, getting a job out of someone's hand out.

I love baseball and I have my whole life, and guess what I'm about to go play, you guessed it, baseball! See ya

7TH

N.M.