

Have you ever tried to only eat junk food. Well if you have I bet it never lasted as long as this. One time my friend Angela Delicino did it for a long time. I will start from the beginning.

"Hey." I said to Angela. "Hi" she said stuffing her mouth with candy. "Where's your lunch?" I asked. "This is my lunch" she snapped.

"Here eat my apple!" I offered. "No." she yelled. "Fine" I whispered.

The next day I went to Angela's house to do homework. When someone answered the door I asked "Is Angela here?" "I am Angela." "Aaaaahhh!" I screamed. She had gained at least 50 pounds. "What?" "Nothing?" I sighed. "So do you have anything healthy to eat?" I asked. "Ew no why would I have that stuff."

"I'm sorry but sometimes we have to say 'Why are you eating so much junk?'" "Because it's good!" "But you could get sick or gain a lot of weight every day!" "No that's not true!" she yelled. "She never ate anything healthy again.
