

I'm writing about rules I want to change at my school. I want the football rules to be changed. If you had rules to change what would yours be. I would like to change rules at my school. So I'm going to tell you the rules I want to change at my school. I want to change four square rules. The basketball rules.

So back on to the rules. The rules all tell you how I would like to change them. On four square when your in the first square and you serve it then bounce the ball and hit it to one of the players. The football rules need to be changed because people don't play it the wright way. Like when people are quarterbacks they take way long to throw the football.

So the basketball rules I don't think I told about. When we play basketball we need to have referees so people don't cheat. When we play we should have substitutions because there are alot of people that play basketball. If all of us got along in all of the games there wouldn't be no more fighting.

So that is all the stuff and all the rules I want to be changed. I hope you liked all the rules I told you? I wonder if you would write a story. Yours would probably be good?
