

Course Title: Psychology of Teaching & Learning

Teacher: Nathan Vos

Hour 3 - Semester 1 - 2021/22

0.5 Social Studies Credit

COURSE INFORMATION:

Course Description: → Video Description

Have you ever thought about teaching your own class at Shabazz or you get so geeked out about a topic you want to help others learn more? This upper-level class is designed to help you follow and passion of yours by developing your own unit or class combining elements of backward design and the psychology of learning. By the end of the quarter, students will successfully create a unit or quarter-long plan of their choosing which demonstrates their understanding of the fundamental principles of psychology.

Prerequisites:

- None

Method of Instruction:

A combination of:

- Structured Activities
- Group discussions
- Class Feedback and support
- Student led teachouts

Course Objectives (standards):

- D2.Psy.2.9-12. Investigate human behavior from biological, cognitive, behavioral, and sociocultural perspectives.
- D2.Psy.8.9-12. Explain the complexities of human thought and behavior, as well as the factors related to the individual differences among people.
- D2.Psy.10.9-12. Explain the interaction of biology and experience (i.e., nature and nurture) and its influence on behavior.

Graduate Vision Competencies:

- Effective Communicator
- Creative & Critical Thinker