Independence Day

As we celebrate our nation's Independence on Sunday, it is important to take the time to remember the idea that is at the heart of who we are as Americans and what we strive to be: We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. The 4th of July is a great time for fireworks, parades, barbecues, and time together as a family. Most importantly, though, it is an opportunity for us to stop and give thanks to God for the many blessings that we enjoy as Americans and to ask the Almighty to give each of us the grace to live up to the lofty goals of equality and justice for all in everything that we do each day.

Adult Summer Reading

We are encouraging all parents and staff to read, "The Gift of Failure" by Jessica Lahey this summer. It's a great reflection on the challenges of parenting and education and the opportunities to help our children build their character.

Summer Skills

Don't forget to do a little bit each day of the Summer Skills program. The goal is to keep everyone sharp over the summer and ready to start the fall where they left off in June.
