

ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY (Students)

- I. The Watertown City School district offers access to electronic resources through the district computer network for instructional use. To gain access to the Internet and network, all students must obtain parental permission and must sign and return the student authorization form to the school office. The District will make a reasonable attempt to prevent inappropriate use of electronic resources, but ultimately the responsibility lies with the user.
- II. While our intent is to make Internet access available to enhance learning, students may have access to other non-instructional materials. We believe that the benefits from access to the Internet, in the form of information resources and opportunities for collaboration, exceed possible disadvantages.
- III. This educational opportunity entails responsibility, and it is important that students and parents/guardians read and understand the following guidelines. The use of the Internet and other electronic resources is a privilege, not a right, and inappropriate use will result in the cancellation of that privilege.
- IV. When access to the Internet is granted, it is extremely important that rules be followed. Misbehavior could result in temporary or permanent loss of access to the Internet. Violations may result in disciplinary action up to and including suspension/expulsion. When applicable, law enforcement agencies may be involved.
- V. The Board of Education does not sanction any use of the Internet including social media that is not authorized by or conducted strictly in compliance with this policy. Anyone who disregards the District's Acceptable Use Policy may have their user privileges suspended or revoked. Users granted access through the Watertown City School District assume personal responsibility and liability, both civil and criminal, for uses of the Internet not authorized by District policy.
- VI. Student Responsibilities:
  - A. It is important that parents and students read the Watertown City School District Acceptable Use Policy and discuss these requirements together.
  - B. Students are responsible for good behavior on school computer networks. General school rules for behavior and communications apply.
  - C. Access to network services is provided to students who agree to act in a considerate and responsible manner. The computer network is provided for students to conduct research and limited communication with others. Your child will have access to software applications, databases, libraries and computer services from all over the world through the Internet.

- D. Individual users of the district computer networks are responsible for their behavior and communications over those networks. Communications on the network are often public in nature. It is presumed that users will comply with district standards and will honor the agreement they and their parent/guardian have signed.
- E. Watertown City School District reserves the right to review, monitor and restrict information created, shared, and/or stored on or transmitted via Watertown City School District owned or leased equipment and to investigate suspected inappropriate use of resources. Users should not expect that files and/or communications will be private. Network administrators may review files and communications to maintain system integrity and insure that users are using the system responsibly. Messages related to or in support of illegal activities may be reported to authorities.
- F. During school, staff will guide students toward appropriate materials. Outside school, families bear responsibility for guidance on the internet just as they do with information sources such as television, telephones, movies, radio and other potentially offensive media.
