Every Child, Every Chance, Every Day!

Dear Students, Parents, and Guardians:

I know I said this last year, but... We made it! I can't help but think back to the beginning of the year and all of the uncertainty that weighed so heavy on all of us. I could not be more proud of our students, faculty, staff, community, and parents for their flexibility, trust, and perseverance through what might have been the greatest unknown challenge of our lives. This experience will no doubt help teach all of us the "grit" that it takes to succeed in tough situations and new challenges. We certainly learned lots as a school community. There were multiple situations where we were forced to do and try things we thought could never be done, and we were successful! So, congratulations and well done to ALL who persevered through this academic year.

To our 8th grade students, we wish you all the best as you tackle the new challenges of high school. You will be amazing. We also look forward to seeing all of our students back in the building and learning together again next school year.

As many of you are probably wondering, we are not certain what school will look like in August due to any remaining COVID-19 restrictions. I am hopeful that we will be back in the classrooms with our students under more "normal" conditions and fostering another great year of learning and growing. I encourage everyone to follow the Billings Public Schools webpage and social media sites for updates this summer as it relates to the 2021-2022 school year.

Happy Summer!
Stay safe!

Mrs. Sulser

Officer Z's Corner

We've navigated through a Pandemic school year...now what?

As the school year comes to an end, let's take a moment to say "job well done"! Everyone did their part for a positive result, bravo! And, the vaccine is making a difference too! Regardless what side you take on the issue, the number of new cases is on the decline. It's time to shed the bad habits our children picked up during the Covid-19 Pandemic.

The comfort foods we ate during the pandemic, in the short term, made us feel good. But these comfort foods tended to be high in carbs (sugar), and fat. It was a combination our brains were wired to crave during a stressful time. But no more, time to stick to foods we know are good for us, because they'll maintain steady energy to the brain, and muscles, getting our kids through the summer.

We became helpless, watching our children binge on social media, as it became an easy distraction from the stressors of the Pandemic. It's really time to stay the course with digital discipline. Physically set a timer for your child to put down the phone, and move on to something else, like going outside, riding a bike, or just going for a walk.

Keep your kids on a scheduled routine during the summer. They will be happier, and you will too! Let's not lose what we've gained during PE activities this school year. It's important to exercise, play, and be outside this summer. Don't ignore the benefits of exercise. It's important for keeping our children on a healthy path.

The "mental health" of our children is also something we can't ignore. It's important to say, and support the act of "being kind to ourselves". They need to know they are valued and loved. Many parents struggled to navigate a completely new situation, with unique stressors during the Pandemic. It's important to pat yourself on the back, acknowledge your successes, and not let up over the summer. You are making a difference in your child's life, and we are always here to support you.
