

Julayne Virgil '94

Julayne Virgil serves as CEO of Girls Inc. of Alameda County, guiding the agency through deep and strategic investments in literacy, STEM, college and career access, health, and leadership development for school-aged girls in under-resourced communities. Her tenure has been focused on increasing sustainability to ensure that girls can continue to experience the agency's transformational programming for generations to come. A staunch advocate, Julayne is a recipient of the Nonprofit/Community Leader award from the East Bay Women in Business through the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. Under her leadership, Girls Inc. of Alameda County was voted the Best Nonprofit Group in Oakland and the East Bay by readers of Oakland Magazine, recognized by the Alameda County Women's Hall of Fame (WHOF) as a Community Partner, and honored with the Girls' Champion Award from Alliance for Girls. Julayne holds a master's degree in public administration from the Sol Price School of Public Policy at the University of Southern California and a B.A. from the University of Pennsylvania. She is also a proud alumna of San Francisco University High School, where she recently served as the alumni association president. Julayne also serves on the boards of Educate78 and the Oakland Rotary. She lives in Oakland with her husband Clayton and young daughters Vivienne and Zahra.
