Fettes College

The gender pay gap is attributable to the range and type of work in the school and in particular within our housekeeping and catering departments where lower rates of pay exist compared with other roles within the school. Our housekeeping and catering roles have traditionally attracted more female than male applicants although the rates of pay are the same irrespective of whether the work is undertaken by a male or female employee.

Fettes College is committed to ensuring that it is an employer of choice and that all employees are treated with parity in terms of gender and all of the protected characteristics as detailed in our Equality & Diversity Policy.
