Dear Chadds Ford Families,

Well to say that the school year started off a little unexpected is an understatement. We successfully completed our first FID day of the school year but the best part was the understanding and flexibility of our community. These first few days have allowed us to make strong connections with our students and we look forward to the year ahead. Thank you for sharing your child with us and partnering for a wonderful start to the school year!

I write to you today so that you are aware of some changes to our upcoming Back to School Night. We will be hosting a live virtual Back to School Night on Tuesday, September 14th beginning online at 6:00 pm. Since we received such positive input and higher participation from parents during the virtual Back to School Night last year, we are choosing to continue with this format. We appreciate your flexibility and availability to join us in meeting your child's teachers online.

Additionally, the Delta variant remains active in our community, and a virtual event allows us to reduce the incidences of large crowd gatherings indoors and reinforces our efforts to keep our schools safe and healthy. We know that a live virtual Back to School Night can be provided without losing benefits to parents or students.

Our teachers are excited to engage with you for a live online event. They will provide you with all the information that you will need for a successful school year.

Over the next week, please keep an eye out for our Back-to-School Night schedule and overview for the evening of September 14th. This communication will provide directions that will help families navigate this year's virtual event.

I hope that everyone has a restful and safe Labor Day weekend!

Kind regards,

Danielle Clark
CFES Principal
