

Traylor Key In Helping Students Meet Various Needs

TUPELO, Miss. — As Director of Student Support Services, Pam Traylor has been an integral part of the Tupelo Public School District for 27 years.

The Amory native originally considered nursing as a career path. However, after many years in college, she obtained her associate degree in pre-law business, bachelor's degree in organizational leadership and master's degree in criminal justice.

With a husband and two children, family is very important, and she said her biggest role models throughout life have always been her parents.

If she could go anywhere in her dream car, she would be cruising the streets of New York City in a red convertible.

And if there's a must-have food, it's a hamburger.

This week's Administrative Spotlight of the week is Pamela Traylor.
