

Community Conversation
February 24, 2015
Woodland Elementary School – Building

Crossroads

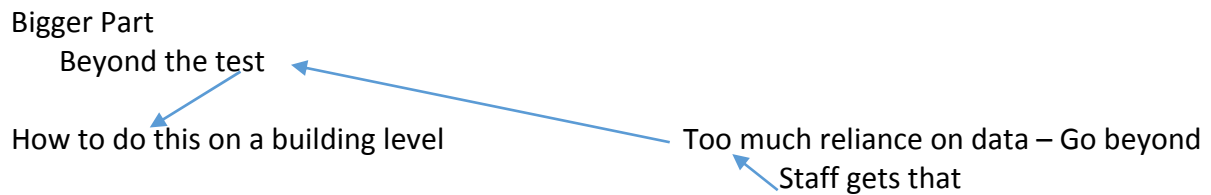

Kids forced to grow up too soon

Energized by community engagement
More activities for kid's extracurriculars
More opportunities for parents
Neighborhood school at core
Everyone welcome

Often separate conversation and we need more openness

Staff goes beyond by:
Give up time
Not scared to build relationship with families

Love of learning
Self-esteem

Character
Their passion
Critical thinking
Relationships
Loved and accepted by teachers

Not an open dialog in providing "the bigger part"

Future Together
to fill gap

Parents partnered to fill gap in teacher's time
Eg. Keyboard skills

Find dollars to do this stuff
Scholarships

Remove the perceptions on Woodland

Build on our heart; passion for kids
Find the right staff /parents

Volunteers need to be proactive in engaging new people

Hard to connect with parents
(Not of my kids' friends)

Step outside our little box
Personalized calls Bring people in Intentional

Some parents had bad experiences in school

Quality events
Different types/different people

Student role?

Kids knowing each other better
