Welcome From Our Head of School, Dr. Mike Walker

San Francisco Day School is a wonderful place for children to spend their childhood. The children, families, and teachers that make up this community are united in support of our students' learning and personal growth. Informed by neuroscience and anchored in the extensive experience of our faculty, our program is designed to nurture the inquisitiveness of all our students and guide them in the discovery of their talents and interests.

Our academic program equips students with the foundational skills that will enable them to pursue a lifetime of learning. Our extensive curricular offerings in the arts, athletics, outdoor education, social-emotional learning and service learning allow them to develop the fullest range of their potential. At SF Day, we know, understand, and are committed to the learning and self-realization of every child. Our partnership with families is the essential ingredient that enables this marvelous process to unfold. We appreciate your interest and look forward to getting to know you and your child.

With Warm Regards,

Mike Walker, Ed.D.

We Are A Community.

Every day at SF Day, we take the time and care to know, value, and cherish each child as an individual learner with unique gifts and talents. Every student is challenged in learning that engages both heart and mind. Every adult models what it means to participate in a community of passionate learners who support each other throughout our interconnected educational journeys.

One Size Does Not Fit All.

All students grow, mature, and develop at different rates. We use a Universal Design for Learning framework to create thoughtful and intentional curriculum that enables our students to access and express their learning in a multitude of ways.

Co-Education Matters.

The world in which our children collaborate, explore, and learn is not made of a single gender. We celebrate gender diversity with an educational program in which all learners are served for who they are.

Diversity & Inclusion Enriches All of Us.

At SF Day, we recognize that there is no true 'finish line' when it comes to advancing diversity and inclusion in our community. We aspire to create a learning environment that is representative of a global community. Preparing students for our ever-changing world requires learning from and among a diverse and inclusive community gifted with a wide range of perspectives and backgrounds. Programs such as affinity groups and SEED all contribute greater insight through ongoing dialogue and support.
