

Native American Heritage Month

Despite centuries of deliberate erasure, Native Heritage persists and is revitalizing through the dedication of Native activists, artists, teachers, and leaders. Each November, we have an opportunity to celebrate Native American Heritage. While it is important to specifically continue the work of decolonizing our curricula by including Native voices & acknowledging the injustices of the past, it is also important to celebrate the rich heritage of the Native People whose land we now occupy. The resources below include links which support both tasks. If you would like additional support with implementing any of these materials in your class please reach out to the Native Education Program.

Engaging in learning year-round

Since Time Immemorial Canvas

Land Acknowledgement Canvas

Since Time Immemorial OSPI

Native Knowledge 360 Lessons

Native Authored Book List

Resources for celebrating in the classroom

Native Education Program online resources

Muckleshoot Language videos

Helpful NAHM Resources Burke Museum

Exploring Contemporary Culture PBS

Thanksgiving Resources ELEM & SECONDARY

Wampanoag People Mashpee & Aquinnah