A progress indicator shows three steps: STEP 1 (Intro), STEP 2 (Take Assessment), and STEP 3 (View Results). STEP 2 is currently active.

Find out what your talents are.

Strengths Explorer, powered by Gallup, will help uncover your talents and reveal your potential strengths to you and the people you care about. It's a tool of discovery, and you'll have the tools you need to make the most of your talents.

Quick tips:

1. You'll answer 78 short questions.
2. You can only take this once. (Your school can't reset this for you.)
3. You can't go back and change your answers as you progress.
4. Your answers are automatically saved, but we recommend finishing it in one sitting.

TAKE ASSESSMENT

You can only take this assessment once!

Action items

Complete these items to get maximum benefits from StrengthExplorer®

Below you'll find ideas for using your greatest talents. Talents are like muscles. When you exercise, your muscles grow and become stronger. In the same way, the more you use talents, the more they can help you develop strengths. You might want to make a check mark next to the suggestions that fit you best and simply ignore the ones that don't seem to fit you today. These items are here to get you started thinking about how to use your talents. You may have other ideas that suit you well. The important thing is that you select one suggestion to put into action right away and get started using your unique talents to develop strengths.

1. Organizer - Action Items

- You like to make a schedule and stick to it. Keep a calendar for yourself so you can look at what you want to do each day and also look ahead to the week, month, and year coming up. You will feel more in control of your life if you can see it on paper.
- Planning projects and events feels good to you. If you are working in a group, volunteer to be the planner and organizer. Keep a list of all the things that need to be done and who is supposed to do each one. Organize it by person or by due dates, and share your list to help everyone understand the plan.
- A list can help you keep track of what you need to do. Next to each activity on your list, draw a box to the left. Then, when you have finished a task, put a check mark in the box so you can easily see how many things are done and how many are left to do. You might be surprised at how good it feels to check that box and see what you've accomplished.
- You are good at creating neat, clean order. Find the best and most useful ways to organize your school supplies, your locker, or your bedroom. Creating neatness and then keeping up with it makes you feel good and helps you and others find what you need.
- Look around you – who could benefit from the way you like to organize? Could you help organize a family collection or event? Would a teacher appreciate the way you can help organize papers? Find a way to use your talent to help someone else.
